PREFACE

The research in this book began with an attempt to trace the ancestry of my grandparents, Frank Gilbert and Anna May Billow Shellabarger. In the process of accomplishing this goal the volume has become a microcosm of the westward movement in the United States. It documents the trials and sacrifices of our ancestors in settling this country, from the earliest immigrant on the Atlantic coast, Hatevil Nutter in 1633, to more recent descendants such as Lucile Shellabarger Miesen who made their homes literally on the shores of the Pacific.

The book has been divided into three sections. Part one deals with the descendants of Martin Shellabarger, 1819-1894, whom it has been possible to locate. Part two traces the ancestry of Martin Shellabarger including the maternal Bear and Winget branches. Part three contains chapters dealing with some allied lines related to the wives of Martin Shellabarger, his son, George Ephraim Shellabarger, and his grandson, Frank Gilbert Shellabarger. A descendant chart from Martin H. Shellabarger, 1747-1809, has been included for those of you who are not descendants of Martin Shellabarger, 1819-1894, who settled in Ohio. Many of these names will not be found in the general index.

Without the assistance and material provided by many of you, this book would not have been possible. I particularly want to thank Mrs. Anne Abbott for providing her Swiss research, Mrs. Dorothy Riddle, for her research in the newspapers of Littleton, Colorado, Mr. John LeBaron Shellabarger, Mr. Loren Shellabarger, Mr. Martin Shellabarger, Mr. Francis Norman Shellabarger, Mr. Stephen Mallory Shellabarger, Mr. Glenn Charles Selch, Dorothy Kimsey, Joan Wiese, and the many others who have patiently answered questions on the telephone and shared information.

I am indebted to the monumental research of Esther Mae Winget Warner in The Wingate-Winget families in America and to Jean Huprich of Clark County, Ohio, whose help was invaluable at the beginning of my search. I want to thank the many courthouse clerks who have personally assisted me or sent wills, deeds, etc., as well as the staff at various libraries including: the Carlsbad City Library, California; the Huntington Beach Library, California; the Los Angeles Public Library; the Denver Public Library; the Colorado Historical Society, Denver; Greene County District Library, Xenia, Ohio; the Clark County Public Library, Springfield, Ohio; the State Library of Ohio, Columbus, Ohio; the Ohio State Archives, Columbus, Ohio; the Pennsylvania State Archives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; The Lenig Library, New Bloomfield., Pennsylvania; Cumberland County Historical Society, Carlisle, Pennsylvania; the Lancaster County Historical Society, Lancaster, Pennsylvania; the Historical Society of York County, York, Pennsylvania; the Lancaster Mennonite Historical Society, Lancaster, Pennsylvania; the Daughters of the American Revolution Library, Washington D.C.; and the Family History Library of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah, and its branch library in Mission Viejo, California. In addition I am deeply indebted to Deborah Whittaker for her patience and assistance in providing technical assistance.

Without doubt there will be found errors and omissions in this book. Please accept my apologies. I eagerly anticipate your corrections and contributions, either of which will be welcome. Perhaps errata can be published at a later date, or if necessary, a revised edition. The Winget Family, Chapter IX, admittedly has some very weak links which may be found to be in error. Let us work together to expand our knowledge of the genealogy of Martin Shellabarger.

EXPLANATIONS

Land Records

The American Land System established in 1785 and revised in 1796 created the division of land into ranges: numbered rows running from east to west, townships, numbered from a base south to north, and 36 sections, being one mile square or 640 acres, and numbered from 1 to 36, with number 1 being in the northeast corner of the township. A land description may read, for example, S32, T3, R6N, meaning section 32, township 3, range 6 north.

Names and Spelling

When our German and Swiss ancestors arrived in this country their names were often recorded in deeds and elsewhere by English speaking clerks who wrote the names phonetically. Therefore the Swiss name Bär, for example, was spelled in a great many ways, Bear, Bare, Bair to name only a few, often with variations within the same document. Therefore it cannot be assumed that in the documents of past centuries only persons with the same spelling of the surname were related as would be true today. In other documents such as wills the general use of standardized spelling did not become widespread for a considerable time after the publication of Webster's dictionary in 1828, lending to them the charm of antiquity. I have preserved the original spelling when possible.

References

It would be impossible to include in this volume copies of the many primary documents, census records, deeds, surveys, wills, pension records, inventories, estate sales, homestead files, etc. in my files. Therefore I have attempted to provide the source of my information by means of footnotes at the end of each chapter. Other information came from interviews, county histories, family genealogies, and other secondary sources, the accuracy of which cannot be assured.

Census Records

Federal census records were a valuable source of information. The first census was taken in 1790 in the thirteen original states and was repeated every ten years with new states being added. These early records did little more than give the name of the head of household, the number of male and female residents, and sometimes hints as to neighbors. Since 1790 progressively more information has been provided by the census. It was not until 1850 that names of wives and children, ages, places of birth, and value of property were included. Most of the 1890 census was destroyed by fire but did provide information concerning veterans in Missouri for the Billow chapter. Present day federal census records presently are available only through 1920.

Heraldry

Many persons display a coat of arms in the belief that they are entitled to its use because it bears their surname. A coat of arms belongs to an individual and not to a family name. To be entitled to the use of a coat of arms one must establish uninterrupted male descent from such an individual. No one in our known ancestry possessed a coat of arms.

Double Dating

Often you will see a date such as February, 1670/71. This does not mean the date is uncertain. At the time of the reform of the Julian Calendar to the Gregorian Calendar the new year began on March 25th, but the new year at this time was changed to January lst to make the necessary corrections. Therefore, dates preceding 1752 which fall between January 1st and March 25th are double dated to indicate the year on either calendar.

Footnotes

A few footnotes will read intentionally omitted. These footnotes were deleted because they contained telephone numbers or addresses.

Chapter I

THE FAMILY OF MARTIN SHELLABARGER

In 1811 Ephraim Shellabarger, father of Martin Shellabarger, 1817-1894, and four of Ephraim's brothers, Jacob, John, Samuel, and Martin, came to Madriver Township in what was then Greene County, Ohio. In 1818 Greene County was divided, and Madriver Township became a part of newly formed Clark County. Early records spelled the township as Madriver but in more recent records as Mad River. The township was quite small being six and a half miles from north to south and nine miles from east to west. It was triangular in shape and lay in the southeastern part of the county. Mad River formed the western border of the township, and Mud Run Creek ran through the center of the township. In the northeast part of the township was Mill Creek. The main road through the township was the Springfield-Dayton Turnpike. Today the township remains primarily agricultural.

In the early days of the nineteenth century the first settlers arriving in the township found a heavily wooded area, the original timber being oak with some hickory and walnut. Newcomers to the township were welcomed into the log cabins of the oldest settlers until they could build their own homes.

The first school, also of log construction, was built in 1806. An early teacher in the area was John Tenney, a Scotchman, who had come to the area in 1809 from Washington County, Virginia, where he had taught school on the property of John Bradley. The first church was the Knob Prairie Church, of the Christian denomination. One of its first ministers was Elias Vickers who came to the area in 1809. The Reverend Vickers performed many marriages for the early inhabitants including that of Ephraim Shellabarger to Rebecca Winget on January 5, 1815. Knob Prairie Church was twenty-four by thirty-two feet, and had a puncheon, (split log) floor and benches. Windows were mere holes in the logs covered with greased paper. The church was eventually replaced with a brick structure in Enon.

It was in these early days of the development of Madriver Township that Martin Shellabarger was reared. In this portion of the book Martin and his descendants will be traced.

Martin Shellabarger was the son of Ephraim and Rebecca Winget Shellabarger. He was born in October of 1819 in Mad River Township, Clark County, Ohio. His education was limited; however, according to his granddaughter, Mary Lehow Little, he was a self-taught student of the bible, modern thought, religion, and national affairs. The author of The Wingate-Winget Families in America, Esther Mae Winget Warner, stated that Martin was an expert woodworker and a natural mechanic, aptitudes inherited by his grandson, Claude. Granddaughter, Mary Little, said Martin had a cooper shop on his farm and was of the Presbyterian faith. Martin was in addition a farmer, claiming undeveloped land from forest and swamp. He raised crops of corn, wheat, clover hay, potatoes, peaches, and apples, as well as dairy stock. His home was located on a hill slope near the site of the old Mud Run Church which is no longer in existence.

From a letter dated December 26, 1889, written to his son, Adam, in Colorado, Martin provided us with additional information. On his farm was a former slave, Old Man Ramsey, who had just died at age sixty-nine. Ramsey had purchased his freedom for fifty dollars from a master who had been good to him and was his folks. Ramsey had lived with the Shellabargers for the preceding eleven years. In this letter was the description of a Christmas turkey feast attended by four of Martin's children and his grandchildren. The boys had been hunting and had caught three rabbits.

Clark County, Ohio, land records record the following purchases of property made by Martin:

DATE	GRANTOR	LOCATION	COST	RECORDED
Feb. 2, 1845	John B. Beard	S35,36/T4/R8	$768.	U:512
Apr. 26, 1847	William Steele	S34/T4/R8	$520.	X:194
May, 22, 1847	Joseph Sipe	S34/T4/R8	$1287.	X:195

The marriage of Martin and Elizabeth Sheller took place on November 17, 1842, and was recorded in Clark County, Ohio. Elizabeth, born February 20, 1823, in Knox County, Ohio, was the daughter of Adam and Mary Heistand Sheller. Martin and Elizabeth had eight children, three sons and five daughters, including a pair of twins who failed to survive infancy. At the time of the 1870 census Elizabeth's elderly parents, aged eighty-one and seventy-four, lived with the family.

Martin's daughter, Mary Elizabeth Lehow, removed to Colorado by 1868. Martin's sons, Adam and George, followed in 1869, Adam settling in Saguache County and George in Jefferson County. These three families were in Colorado at the time of the 1870 census. George returned to Ohio by 1874 where he was located at the time of the 1880 census. Sometime before 1880 Martin and Elizabeth and their son, Will, journeyed to Jefferson County, Colorado, and were recorded there on the fourth of June in the 1880 census. Will remained in Colorado, but Martin and Elizabeth returned to their farm in Ohio. His son, George, then returned to Colorado about 1881, making his permanent home in Jefferson County.

Martin had a leg injury which necessitated an amputation from which he failed to recover, dying October 12, 1894. After his death his wife, Elizabeth, lived in Yellow Springs, Ohio, with her daughter, Mary Elizabeth Lehow, who had returned to Ohio after the death of her husband in 1874. When her daughter died in 1907, Elizabeth continued to live at the same location with her granddaughter, Annie Lehow Little. Elizabeth visited her grandchildren in Colorado in 1908, and a picture taken in a rocker has survived. Elizabeth died in 1912. She and Martin were buried in the Enon Cemetery.

The will of Martin Shellabarger, written January 25, 1886, showed his fairness to his children, and the love and concern he had for the welfare of his widow. The will in full is transcribed below:

> I, Martin Shellabarger of Clark County, Ohio, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make and publish this my last Will and Testament.
> Item First I give and devise to my wife, Elizabeth Shellabarger, all the real estate of which I die seized to have and to hold the same and to enjoy the rents and profits thereof during her natural life, the provision in this instrument made

Item Second I give and bequeath to my said wife all my personal property of every description, including chattels, money on hand at the time of my decease and also all claims, notes, securities and other evidences of indebtedness, she to pay all claims against my estate at the time of my death, and all my funeral expenses.

Item Third I direct that my Executors shall within two years after the decease of my wife sell all the real estate of which I may die seized, my two daughters, Mary E. Lehow and Susan E. Item Four I hereby nominate and appoint my sons, George E. Shellabarger and Adam Shellabarger, as Executors of this my last Will and Testament, and desire that they shall not be required to give bond for the execution of their trust, and that no inventory or appraisement of my estate shall be made. I further direct that my Executors shall be allowed out of my estate their necessary and proper expenses incurred in administering the same and also the sum of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) in full of their services as Executors, all of which expenses and compensation of said Executors shall be paid out of said proceeds of the sale of said real estate.

Item Five I hereby revoke all former last Wills and Testaments by me made. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 25th day of January A.D. 1886.

Signed, sealed and acknowledged by the said, Martin Shellabarger as his last Will and Testament in our presence, and signed by us as witnesses thereto in his presence and in the presence of each other and at his request this 25 day of January A.D. 1886.

The will was proved October 26, 1894, but settlement not made until the death of Martin's wife. In 1896 George was killed and could not serve as executor at the final distribution of the estate in 1913. Adam Shellabarger served in his stead. The value of the estate was $12,191.

A beautifully written eulogy by Martin's granddaughter, Annie Lehow Little, was as follows: I know of no notable facts in his career. His addition to the world's welfare was in the little things of everyday. He was one of those staunch and progressive citizens, and his life was of those which lay the substantial foundations upon which others do the brilliant strokes.

The following obituary was found in the YELLOW SPRINGS NEWS following the death of Elizabeth Sheller Shellabarger nearly sixteen years after the death of her husband:

Last Sunday July 13 (Sunday fell on July 14th) Mrs. Elizabeth Shellebarger, who had been ill for several weeks at the home of grand daughter, Mrs. Howard Little, in Xenia, passed away. From the time that she was paralyzed her relatives and friends were anxious concerning her condition, and when from week to week no signs of improvement appeared, but instead she continued to grow weaker, it was manifest to them that the end was near. She had many friends in Yellow Springs to whom she had much endeared herself while living among them, her home having been here since the death of her husband, Martin Shellebarger, some 18 years since, with her daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Lehow. The pleasant home, where Martin Shellebarger and his wife spent their married life and brought up their family of five children was situated on a hill slope not far from the site of the old Mud Run Church which is now gone. Of their five children but two are living, Adam and William Shellebarger whose home for many years has been in Colorado. George, the other son, has long been dead. One daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Lehow, the mother of Mrs. C. H. Little, died in this same place some four years ago, the fifth child, Mrs. Emma Fulton, died a number of years before her sister. She left seven children, Messrs. Charles, William, Edward, Frank, Ralph and George Fulton and their sister, Miss Bess Fulton. Mrs. Shellebarger was one of the elder members of a very large family of children of which family Mrs. Lydia Jones living east of town was a younger member. Their father, Adam Sheller, was one of the early residents of Clark County. Mrs. Shellebarger was a woman of quiet unostentatious manner who gained friends by her pleasant address, her sincerity and earnestness. Her judgment was excellent. She was faithful to the duties that came to her through her life, and, true to her nature whatever she did was well done. She was a high-minded Christian woman and has gone to higher and better work in the Beyond. On Tuesday morning a special train took Yellow Springs friends to Xenia to attend her funeral services which took place at the Little home. Thence the body was brought to this point on the car and taken from here to Enon where it was placed in the cemetery there, where the other members of her family are laid.

1. Mary Elizabeth[1] Shellabarger, daughter of Martin Shellabarger and Elizabeth Sheller. Born, 7 Sep 1843, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[1]. Died, 1907, in Yellow Springs, Miami Twp., Greene Co., OH[1]. Burial: 1907, in Enon Cem., Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[1]. Census: 6 Jun 1860, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 300. Mary Elizabeth married Charles L. Lehow, 17 Sep 1868, in Clark Co., OH[2]. Mar License, 15 Sep 1868, in Springfield, Clark Co., OH. Born, circa 1826, in Pennsylvania[3]. Died, 16 Oct 1874, in South Platte River Valley, Jefferson Co., CO[4]. Burial: Oct 1874, in Lehow Cemetery, Jefferson Co., CO. Occupation: farmer.

Charles L. Lehow was the grandson of Christopher Lecha who came to America with Lafayette during the American Revolution. Charles was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, about 1826. In 1860 Charles joined his brother, Oscar E. Lehow, who had come to Colorado in 1858 and had been successfully engaged in placer mining on the banks of the Platte River and at Spanish Bar in Clear Creek County. Oscar sold his placer claims for $4,000 and took his pay in cattle and horses starting a cattle ranch on Cherry Creek. The ranch in Platte Canyon was begun the following summer, Oscar and Charles being partners in the venture. Deeds of Jefferson County, Colorado, indicated that on January 10, 1866, the Lehow brothers obtained a deed to property in T6S, R69W from Isaac Stevens and a mortgage from Charles F. Parkhurst. These two transactions were recorded in Deed Book I, pages 306 and 309. These were the first of numerous land transactions recorded in Jefferson County. Below is a listing of others:

(The homestead patent was given posthumously.)

On September 17, 1868, Charles Lehow returned to Clark County, Ohio, where he married Mary Elizabeth Shellabarger. They returned to Colorado, and there in 1869 their first child, Charles Oscar, died aged five months on March 5, 1870. The Lehows began a cemetery on a hill above their home in the valley of the South Platte River, section 27, township 6S, range 69W. They erected a beautiful stone there in memory of their son. On August 9th of that year the Lehows were recorded by the census takers. Charles was then aged forty-two, and Mary, aged twenty-six. Charles' age in this census disagreed with his age at death. His real estate was valued at $1500 and personal property at $7500. Daughter, Anna, was born March 24, 1872.

Charles died October 16, 1874, leaving a large estate. On February 18, 1873 he had made a handwritten will witnessed by his brother, Oscar, and brother-in-law, William Heistand Shellabarger. It was proved, December 7, 1874, probate #48 of Jefferson County. Charles left half of his property to his wife and the other half to his daughter, Anna. Mary was his executrix. The second burial in the Lehow Cemetery was Charles, buried beside his son. In 1907 his wife was buried at the Enon Cemetery in Clark County, Ohio, where a marker with her name and that of her husband and son was erected. The Jefferson County, Colorado, cemetery was deeded to the Lehow Cemetery Association on August 12, 1937, by their daughter, Anna Lehow Little.

After Charles' death an inventory was made of his estate which listed his property as the NW ¼ of S26, T6S, R69W valued at $1600, and the E½ of the NW¼ and W½ of the NW¼ of S15, T8S, R34W valued at $800. He also had a lot valued at $450.` His personal property consisted of plows, a reaper, wagons, a buggy, a phaeton, harnesses, three horses, twenty-four calves, seventy head of cattle, two thousand bushels of wheat, and one hundred eighty-one tons of hay. He held eight promissory notes as well as stock. The house was furnished with four bedsteads, six tables, two stoves, a bureau, sofa, secretary, lounge, sewing machine, washing machine, dishes, and carpets. The total value of the estate was $23,353.50 less debts of $1,064.33. Daughter, Anna, received her half of the estate, $12,532, on September 4, 1890.

Mary returned to Ohio after her husband's death. At first she lived in Clark County, but later moved to Yellow Springs in Greene County. She had yearly income from the interest on $11,144.58 at 8% amounting to $891.56 and rent from half of seventy acres at $10 per acre amounting to $350. She paid a yearly tax of $141.15 on the following property in Jefferson County, Colorado:

In S26, T6, R69	the S½ of NW¼; S½ of N½ of NW¼;
	the W½ of SW¼; N½ of E½ of SW¼;
	the E½ of NE¼; N½ of SE¼;
In S34, T6, R69	parts of SE¼; parts of NE¼

Mary Lehow lived comfortably after her husband's death. She purchased a Steinway piano for $600 in Cincinnati on November 22, 1879. Little Annie was probably about to begin piano lessons. After the death of Mary's father in 1894, her mother came to live with her and was with her at the time of the 1900 census. After Mary's death in 1907, Elizabeth Sheller Shellabarger made her home with her granddaughter, Anna Lehow Little, until Elizabeth's death in 1912.

The children of Charles L. and Mary Elizabeth Shellabarger Lehow were:

i. Charles Oscar[2] Lehow. Born, 1869, in South Platte River Valley, Jefferson Co., CO[5]. Died. 5 Mar 1870, in South Platte River Valley, Jefferson Co., CO[6]. Burial: Mar 1870, in Lehow Cemetery, Jefferson Co., CO.

DESCENDANTS OF GEORGE EPHRAIM SHELLABARGER

First Generation

George Ephraim Shellabarger and Emily Drummond

1. George Ephraim[1] Shellabarger, son of Martin Shellabarger and Elizabeth Sheller. Born, 19 Apr 1845, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH. Died, 2 Sep 1896, in County Hospital, Arapahoe Co., CO[1]. Buried: 3 Sep 1896, in the Lehow Cemetery, Jefferson Co., CO[2]. Census: 22 Jul 1850, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 83[3]. Census: 6 Jun 1860, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH: p. 300[4]. Census: 27 Jul 1870, in Arapahoe Co., CO; p. 86. Occupation: rancher.

George married Emily Drummond, daughter of Samuel Drummond and Ruth Beeth, 24 Dec 1867, in Clark Co., OH. Born, 15 Sep 1845, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[5]. Died, 26 Jul 1902, in Moscow, Latah Co., ID[6]. Buried: 30 Jul 1902, in the Lehow Cemetery, Jefferson Co., CO[7]. Census: 12 Jun 1860, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 307. Census: 27 Jul 1870, in Littleton, Arapahoe Co., CO; p. 86[8]. Census: 1900, in Denver, 275 S. 12th St., Arapahoe Co, CO ED107 SH6.

George Ephraim Shellabarger was the eldest son of Martin and Elizabeth Sheller Shellabarger. He was born April 19, 1845, in Mad River Township, Clark County, Ohio, and received his Grandfather Ephraim's name. He and Emily Drummond were married on Christmas Eve, 1867. Emily was born September 5, 1845, the daughter of Samuel Drummond and his first wife, Ruth Beeth. Emily's mother died when she was only seven, and she was reared by her stepmother, Mary Ann Miller Schrock. She was the sixth in a family of fourteen children. For more information on the Drummond family see Chapter XI.

The Shellabarger's first child, Georgianna E., was born on October 21, 1868. George's sister, Mary Elizabeth, had married Charles L. Lehow in September of that year and was living in the South Platte River Valley of Jefferson County, Colorado. On May 4, 1869, Emily's father died, and it would appear that shortly thereafter George and Emily as well as two of Emily's brothers, Mark and Stephen Drummond, and Emily's younger sister, Melissa, traveled via the Union Pacific Railroad, to Cheyenne, Wyoming, and from thence by stage to Denver, Colorado. Another member of the party was Adam Shellabarger, George's brother, who made his home in Saguache County, Colorado. On July 27, 1870, when the census was taken, this entire group, with the exception of Adam, was farming in Arapahoe County near Littleton. Littleton was a short distance northeast of the area in which the Lehows were living. The Shellabarger's first son, Hugh, was born in Colorado, on October 9, 1870. On September 16, 1872, George E. Shellabarger, purchased lot 13, block 1, in Littleton, Arapahoe County, for $25 from Richard S. Little.

The Shellabargers returned to Clark County, Ohio, before the birth of their third child, Clifford Martin, on August 7, 1874. Twins, Ada E. and George were born in 1876 but did not survive infancy. Two additional sons were born in Ohio, Frank Gilbert on July 3, 1877, and Claudius Drummond on January 18, 1879. At the time of the 1880 census George and Emily were farming in Mad River Township, Clark County, Ohio.

Shortly thereafter George and Emily made a decision to return to Jefferson County, Colorado, for it was there in July of 1881 that their last child, William Adam was born. Tragedy struck later that year as their only surviving daughter, Georgianna, died on October 22, 1881. She was buried in the Lehow Cemetery on a hill overlooking the South Platte Valley and the Lehow and Shellabarger properties. A small stone marked her grave, Georgia. Her name also was added to the large monument erected at a later date for her parents.

On August 24, 1884, George purchased one hundred sixty acres of restored coal land in S27, T6S, R69W, Jefferson County, adjoining the Lehow property to the north. He paid $300 to the federal government for this property. On October 21, 1884, George filed application #5902 at the Denver Land Office for a homestead in the S ½ of the SW ¼ of S22, T6S, R69W directly north of the land in section 27. George described the property as mountain grazing land with light, sandy, farming soil and having no timber.

When Charles Lehow died on October 16, 1874, Mary E. Lehow rented the Lehow ranch and returned to Ohio. George Shellabarger was involved in a number of land transactions with and on behalf of his sister in the coming years. On July 1, 1881, he obtained a mortgage of $7,000 from his sister on one hundred sixty acres in S14, T6S, R69W. On March 2, 1887, he sold this same land to James H. Archer for $10,000, an encumbrance of $7,000 remaining on the property. On September 19, 1884, he sold his sister one hundred sixty acres which included the W ½ of the NE ¼ of section 27, a portion of his homestead, and the S ½ of the SE ¼ of section 22 for $684. On the third of January, 1885, Emily and George gave George's father, Martin, power of attorney in Ohio to settle their interest in the estate of Samuel Drummond which involved the sale of the two hundred eighty-five acre Drummond farm in Greene and Clark Counties, Ohio, at public auction for $11,407. On May 19, 1887, George purchased additional Jefferson County land in section 21 to the west of his homestead from Thomas G. Putman for $800, and on October 17th he deeded this land to his sister, Mary E. Lehow, of Greene County, Ohio, for $800.

On December 23, 1889, George filed final certificate #2857 for his homestead. Witnesses to this application were William Emperor of Platte Canyon, Colorado, and Michael Moses, Frank Mann, and George Wilder, all of Archer Station, Colorado. The application was approved on October 17, 1890, and the property was patented on January 15, 1991. George's testimony to receive his final deed has provided considerable information concerning the life style of the family and the nature of his ranching operation. George stated that he had built a frame home, twelve by sixteen feet, with one door, two windows, six lights, a shingled roof, and a board floor at a cost of $100. The house was furnished with two beds with bedding, one cook stove with utensils, six chairs, two tables, one cupboard, and a sewing machine. In addition he had built a stable, twelve by sixteen feet, with no stalls, a door, and a board roof at a cost of $25. His corral was thirty feet square with a pole fence, and he had built a stone curbing four feet in depth around a spring, fitted with a rope and bucket. He had erected one and a half miles of barbed wire fencing with cedar posts forty feet apart. He owned one plow, one harrow, one drill, and one wagon. He had twelve horses, forty head of cattle, and six chickens. He had planted fourteen acres of clover from 1885 through 1887 and fourteen acres of rye in 1888 and 1889. All crops had been a failure through 1888, but the outcome of the 1889 crop was not known as yet. The property was believed to be of a value of $1,000 if offered for sale. George stated that he had not left the property during the preceding five years, two months, and two days except to get mail or supplies but had been a resident thereon with his wife and five childrens He declared he had voted seven times in Platte Precinct No. 5 as a member of the Democrat Party.

The LITTLETON INDEPENDENT, Friday, September 4, 1896, printed the following account:

A FATAL ACCIDENT

George Shellabarger Loses His Life in a Runaway

One of the most distressing accidents that it has ever been our lot to chronicle occurred in South Denver Tuesday afternoon, at which time George E. Shellabarger, a highly respected and influential citizen of Jefferson county, received injuries in a runaway which caused his death.

Mr. Shellabarger had gone from his ranch near Platte Canyon to Denver with a load of oats. After he had disposed of them and transacted some other business, he started for home about 4 o'clock. He had driven out South Broadway, and when near the Milton school, opposite Overland park, two bicyclers dashed by him on their wheels, which frightened his horses and they became unmanageable.

In his efforts to control the team Mr. Shellabarger was thrown from his seat forward upon the doubletrees. His foot became caught between the doubletree and singletree and he was dragged for fully a mile over the hard ground, railroad tracks and stones. On the horses ran, increasing their speed at every jump and the unfortunate man screaming for assistance. His cries attracted the attention of many people, who attempted to stop the team, but their efforts were of no avail, and only were they stopped when some farmers blocked the road with wagons.

The injured man was taken from his dangerous position with great effort. When laid upon the grass by the roadside he presented a most horrible appearance. His nose was literally rubbed off, both eyes fearfully lacerated, his lip was cut down to the neck, and his body and limbs lacerated in a most shocking manner. The unconscious form was taken into the Milton school house and Dr. Wilson, of South Denver, administered to the injured man's comfort until the ambulance arrived, which conveyed him to the county hospital. He failed rapidly and at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning died.

The remains were brought out to the ranch and interred in the family burying ground yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Shellabarger has been a resident of Colorado for thirty years, and always had the confidence and respect of all with whom he came in contact, and his untimely death was a great shock to them. He leaves a wife, five sons, two brothers and a sister, to whom the heartfelt sympathy of this entire section is extended in this their hour of sad bereavement.

The family burying ground referred to in the above account refers to the South Platte Cemetery. This property was later donated by George's sister, Mary Lehow, to the county and came to be called the Lehow Cemetery. George's tombstone gave his date of death as September 3rd; however, this could not have been correct or the account of his burial would not have been in the September 4th issue of the paper.

After George's death Emily moved to Denver where the family appeared in the 1899 Denver City directory living at 638 S. 13th St., approximately the location of the present civic center. With her were her sons, Frank G., Hugh L., employed by the Denver Union Water Company, and William A. who was listed as a student. Claude and Clifford were not listed. In the 1900 directory, Emily was living at 275 S. 12th St., also in the civic center area. With her was Claude D., blacksmith, Frank G., teamster, Hugh L., working for the Denver Union Water Company, and William A., student. The 1900 census gave the family address as 1299 S. Pearl Street. In 1901 the family address was 275 S. 12th St., but only Frank G. and William A. were still with their mother. In 1902 at the same address, Claude D., blacksmith, and William A., grocery clerk, were with their mother.

Emily was suffering from ill health, and went to Moscow, Idaho, in 1902 where her sons, William, Frank, and Claude, were living. Emily died on Monday, July 26, 1902, in Moscow. Her body was returned to Jefferson County, Colorado, for burial beside her husband and daughter in the Lehow Cemetery. On Wednesday, July 30th, the funeral services were held at the Presbyterian Church in Littleton, Dr. Bliss officiating. The following obituary was published in the August 1, 1902, issue of the LITTLETON INDEPENDENT:

Mrs. Emily Shellabarger, widow of the late George Shellabarger, died at Moscow, Idaho, Saturday, July 26, at the home of her sons where she had gone in the hope that the climate would benefit her health.

She was the mother of seven children, five of whom survive her: Hugh of Littleton, Clifford of Salida, Frank, Claude, and William of Moscow, Idaho.

The body was brought to Littleton on Wednesday and the services held at the Presbyterian Church, the venerable Dr. Bliss, an old friend of the family, officiating. The internment was at the family burying grounds at Platte Canyon, by the side of her husband and daughter.

Many relatives, old neighbors, and friends came to sympathize with the sorrowing sons and do honor to the memory of Mrs. Shellabarger who was universally loved and respected. Among those present, beside the immediate family, were Mr. and Mrs. William Shellabarger, Mr. William Fulton, also Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Osborn, Mrs. Moran, Mrs. Plympton, Mrs. Will Eagleton, and Miss Mabel, Mrs. Dr. Weaver, and Mrs. Reuben Bryant.

One of her old friends wishes to say this: That by the death of Mrs. Emily Shellabarger the world has lost one more beautiful thoroughly womanly woman, and her sex a loyal and charitable champion.

Hugh L. Shellabarger, although born in Colorado, returned with his parents, George and Emily Drummond Shellabarger, to Mad River Township, Clark County, Ohio, when a toddler. At about the age of eleven his family made a permanent change of residence to the South Platte River Valley, Jefferson County, Colorado. There he finished high school and was a student at the University of Denver for two years. He took a commercial course in Springfield, Ohio. Hugh was employed by the Denver Water Company for ten years from 1892 to 1901. He was listed in the Denver City Directory as an employee of that company between the years 1897 and 1900.

In June of 1900 Hugh was recorded in the census as foreman of a filtration plant in Montana Precinct #3, Jefferson County, Colorado. He was employed by O'Brien & Rhodes, builders of water plants, for four years. He superintended the construction of several plants in Colorado and Arizona.

On March 21, 1902, his name was placed on a ballot for trustee of Littleton, and he was elected to this position on April lst. He was also on a license and library committee for Littleton that year.

In 1906 Hugh and his brother, William Adam Shellabarger, became partners in a grocery business known as Shellabarger Brothers & Nutting in Littleton. Hugh became very active in civil affairs serving on the city council in 1909, and in 1913 as president of the school board and as an election judge. In 1914 he again served on the school board and was a member of the Littleton Hose Company (fire department). Later that year the Shellabarger brothers relocated their business in Castle Rock. Hugh became a school trustee, treasurer of the school board, a member of the town board, and served four terms as Douglas County assessor. In 1917 he became mayor of the city. Hugh had membership in the Methodist Church, Woodmen of the World, the Knights of Pythias, and the Democratic Party.

Clifford Martin Shellabarger was the second son of George and Emily Drummond Shellabarger. His birth record in Clark County, Ohio, declared his name to be Clifton, but he was referred to as Clifford in all later records. Although born in Clark County, Ohio, at about the age of seven Cliff's family moved to the South Platte River Valley in Jefferson County, Colorado. It was there he attended school. After his marriage at Moffat, Saguache County, Colorado, to Grace Winifred Lockwood, the family made its home at 701 14th Street, Denver, where Cliff was listed in the Denver City Directory in the years 1896, 1898, and 1899. In 1896 Cliff was employed by the Farmers' Cash Grocery as a clerk. By 1898 he had become an employee of the Denver Union Water Company. By the time of the 1900 census the family resided in nearby Littleton. Cliff became a member of the fraternal organization, Woodmen of the World, in Littleton.

Cliff's life was cut short at the age of twenty-nine by a tragedy which occurred in Hotchkiss, Delta County, Colorado, where he was drowned in a reservoir while an engineer for the Denver Union Water Company. This accident was recorded in the May 13, 1904, edition of the LITTLETON INDEPENDENT as follows:

Clifford Shellabarger, formerly a resident of Littleton, was drowned in a reservoir at Hotchkiss, Colorado on Sunday evening last. The remains were brought to Littleton on Monday and interred in the family cemetery in the Platte Canyon. Mr. Shellabarger was a member of the W.O.W. at Salida to which place he was transferred from Littleton. He leaves a wife and four children.

Family tradition says that being Sunday, his wife had taken the four children and a picnic to the site where Clifford was working and witnessed the accident. Cliff was buried in the family plot in the South Platte Cemetery which came to be known as the Lehow Cemetery. His tombstone was inscribed: Here Rests a Woodman of the World. A grandson, Clifford Alonzo Shellabarger, son of Cliff's son, Maxwell, was buried by his side in 1946.

Tombstone of Clifford M. Shellabarger in the Lehow Cemetery.

Clifford was survived by his widow, Grace, and four young children. Grace's father was James Murray. He died when she was an infant. On February 25, 1880, Grace and her mother were living in Saguache, Colorado, where her mother was a housekeeper for James A. Lockwood who operated a hotel in Saguache. Her mother subsequently married Mr. Lockwood, twenty years older than herself, and Grace was apparently adopted by him and took his surname. At the time of her marriage to Clifford Shellabarger, her name was recorded as Grace Lockwood.

Grace moved to Oregon after her husband's death in 1904, and by the time of the 1910 census she was married to James F. Van Dolah and was living in Union Precinct, Columbia County, Oregon, with her four sons by Clifford and two sons by Mr. Van Dolah, James F. and Theodore A. On August 4, 1912, Grace Van Dolah and the four sons of Clifford were listed as residents of Salem, Oregon, in an enumeration of the heirs of Martin Shellabarger in his estate settlement following the death of his wife, Elizabeth Sheller Shellabarger. On August 29, 1913, the same probate gave Grace's residence as St. Helen's, Columbia County, Oregon. By January of 1920 she was a resident of Douglas County, Oregon, and Mr. Van Dolah was no longer a member of the household. Her son, Theodore, was listed as a Shellabarger and kept this surname throughout his life. Grace divorced Mr. Van Dolah and married William S. Crerar, a gentleman of Scotch descent. Her place of permanent residence at the time of death was Route 1, Box 448, Cave Junction, Oregon. Grace died at 11:00 a.m. on June 11, 1949 in Josephine General Hospital, the cause of death being arteriosclerosis and decompensation.

The children of Clifford Martin and Grace Lockwood Shellabarger were:

Frank Gilbert Shellabarger was the third son of George Ephraim and Emily Drummond Shellabarger. He was born on July 3, 1877, in Mad River Township of Clark County, Ohio. Frank spent about four years of his childhood in Ohio prior to his father and mother making a permanent relocation to Colorado in the spring of 1881. Frank grew up on a ranch located in Jefferson County on the South Platte River, a few miles south of the entrance of Plum Creek into the river. The nearest town of size was Littleton to the northeast. The family had a small home erected on its homestead. When Frank was nineteen, his father was killed. His mother moved to Denver, and in 1899 Frank and his brother, Will, were living with her at 639 South 13th Street. The following year the Denver City Directory gave the family address as 275 South 12th Street. Frank was then working as a teamster. His brothers, Claude, Hugh, and Will, were also living in the home. By the time of the 1900 census the family address was 1299 South Pearl Street. The 1901 Denver Directory again gave the address on 12th Street, but only Frank and Will were still with their mother. In 1902 Frank was no longer listed in the Denver Directory, and it was about this time that he and his brother, Claude, moved to Moscow, Idaho. Frank was a blacksmith by trade, but attended business college in Denver or in Springfield, Ohio.

In Moscow Frank and his brother, Claude, opened a blacksmith shop opposite the hotel of the Billow family where they were boarders. Claude and Frank began courting two of the daughters of Francis Billow, Anna May, "Babe", and Elizabeth, "Lizzie". At first they paired off with Claude and Babe riding in the rear of the courting buggy and Frank and Lizzie up front. Frank, tiring of Claude and Annie quarreling in the back seat, stopped the carriage and asked the two girls to change places. From then on this was the arrangement. On Anna's twenty-first birthday she and Frank were married by the Reverend W. T. Euster. The witnesses to the wedding were Claude and Lizzie who had been married the previous year. See Chapter X for more detail about the ancestry of Babe and Lizzie Billow.

The Shellabargers made their residence in Troy, about eight miles from Moscow, and it was there that their two daughters, Zola Carmen and Lucile Adelaide, were born in 1905 and 1907. The Shellabargers were in residence in Troy in 1910 during the census and lived there throughout the girls' grade school days. There the Shellabargers enjoyed sleigh rides and card parties with neighbors.

By the time of the 1920 census the family had moved to the state of Washington and was in residence at 450 2nd Street in Raymond. They kept a few boarders. Anna's mother, Cornelia Farr Billow, was living with the Shellabargers. The family had moved to Centralia before the time of Lucile's high school graduation.

About 1934 Frank contracted tetanus through his occupation as a blacksmith. Frank and Anna at that time occupied the upper story of a building beneath the west side of the Powell Bridge in Portland. Frank was kept to himself as he was very ill. After Frank's recovery Anna moved to California where she lived until she was quite elderly at which time she returned to Oregon to be near her children.

After his recovery Frank opened a blacksmith shop in Jefferson, Oregon, about fifty miles south of Portland. It was a tiny village with only one street. Frank boarded in a house on the main street, occupying the upstairs front bedroom. His shop in an old red barn was nearby on the opposite side of the street. It was a dark place with coals glowing in the forge and an anvil on which he shaped the horseshoes. He visited nearby farms to shoe the horses. On week-ends his daughter, Lucile Miesen and family, would often drive to Jefferson to see Pa, as he was called by his grandchildren, or he would come to Portland to see them. After an automobile accident he never drove again but took the bus, the stage, and carried his grip.

About 1941 Frank came to live with Lucile and her family. This was during World War II, and Lucile and her husband, Hubert, operated the Sunset Fuel Company on Macadam Road in Portland. The company still used horses to pull wood around the lot, and Frank's blacksmithing and carpentry skills were useful.

After World War II Frank's daughter, Zola, and her family returned to Portland from Central America where they had lived during the war. Frank spent some years living with the Schwiesow family and caring for his grandchildren while Zola resumed her teaching career. Grandson, Franz, was an infant, Bob just two years older, and Gale was in elementary school. Some years later Zola and Bill moved to the outskirts of Salem, Oregon. By then all their children were in school. Frank continued to live with the family, caring for the boys when they came home from school. He often visited his other daughter, Lucile Miesen, and her family on week-ends and during the summer. The Miesens were then owners of the Finisterre Lodges in Depoe Bay, and Frank gave a willing hand to help as needed during his visits.

Toward the end of his life Frank developed diabetes and died of cancer of the pancreas on May 4, 1959, at the age of eighty-two at Zola's home. Lucile was also with him when he died. The ashes of Frank and Babe were placed in a niche at the Mt. Crest Abbey, Salem, Oregon. A short obituary appeared in the Salem newspaper as follows:

LIFE ENDS FOR F. SHELLABARGER

Frank Gilbert Shellabarger, Rt. 3, Salem died this morning.

Survivors include his widow, Anna May; two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Schwiesow, Salem, and Mrs. J. H. Miesen, Depoe Bay; a brother, Claude, Ventura, Calif., and four grandchildren.

Services will be at Virgil T. Golden Mortuary at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Who was Frank Gilbert Shellabarger the man? He was tall for his day, about five feet ten inches, muscular but slim. He had hazel eyes and brown hair which greyed with age. After working all day as a blacksmith, he would bathe and dress in a three piece suit and tie for the evening. His pleasures in life were crossword puzzles, cards, reading THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, westerns, and above all, family life. He was always ready to play a game of pinochle, canasta, checkers, or cribbage with his grandchildren. The first priority in his life was to be useful to his daughters and their families. His peeves were doctors, preachers, and lawyers, all of whom he considered charlatans. He firmly refused church membership. He was a Democrat, but not a socialist. Frank was a quiet, gentle, unassuming, and unselfish man without trace of avarice, a gentleman through and through. He had the tact which made him welcome to live in the homes of his daughters.

Frank's grandnephew, Loren Hugh Shellabarger, visited him at his blacksmith shop with his father, Hugh Gilbert Shellabarger, son of Frank's brother, Clifford Martin Shellabarger. Loren's memory in 1994 was of a grand old man with lots of wisdom, pleasant words, and a broad smile.

Frank's widow, Anna May Billow, was the middle of five daughters of Francis and Cornelia Farr Billow. Anna was called Babe by all her family, and Annie May by herself. She grew up on a farm in Carroll County, Missouri, and later in Idaho. Her formal schooling was sparse, but enabled her to learn to read, write, and do arithmetic. The girls walked or rode horses to school when in session, which was often only a few months a year. Babe's informal schooling was excellent. Her mother taught her to sew beautifully, enabling her to make the finest clothing for her family. Babe said the harvesters best liked to come to the Billow farm because her mother was such a fine cook, a skill passed on to her daughter. Babe considered herself to have been something of a tomboy, loving to ride horses. She was a favorite of her father who had no sons. One story told about Babe was that she and her sister, Lizzie, tied together the tails of two cows on the farm.

Babe operated a boarding house in Raymond and in Centralia, Washington. Lucile, then in high school, made pies, waited tables, and often received big tips from the loggers. Babe also cooked in logging camps and in school cafeterias.

When the Shellabargers moved to Portland, Oregon, about 1934, Babe's mother came to Portland as well but had her own apartment. While living in Portland Babe and her daughter, Lucile, entered a cooking contest sponsored by Meir and Frank's department store and won a sewing machine and a refrigerator. Their entries were pumpkin pie and angel food cake.

In the mid 1930's Babe moved to Stockton, California, near her sister, Frankie Peffer, and in 1939 relocated in Porterville, California, near her sister, Erma, and brother-in-law, Joe Block, a saddler in Porterville. Living in nearby Lindsay during these years was the family of Babe's nephew, Francis Shellabarger, son of her sister, Lizzie, who had married Claude Shellabarger. Babe's husband, Frank, remained in Oregon. In Porterville Babe operated the St. Regis Hotel, a residential hotel for working men and women, located at 522 N. Main Street facing the theater. Babe did all the housekeeping and laundry for these rooms using a wringer type machine and drying the laundry on the roof of the building. She purchased an acre of land near town on which she grew citrus trees.

In the late 1940's there was a fire at the hotel, and Babe left Porterville and worked for her sister, Frankie Peffer, on the Peffer Stock Farm in Farmington, California, about ten miles east of Stockton. She was the housekeeper, cook, and laundress for the Peffers for a number of years including 1950 through 1952 when her granddaughter, Carmen, was attending the College of the Pacific in Stockton. On the Shellabarger's fiftieth wedding anniversary in 1953, the Peffers held a Golden Wedding Celebration in their honor at the Peffer's Farmington farm. It was attended by Babe's daughter, Lucile, and her husband, Hubert.

In the late fifties Babe moved to Depoe Bay, Oregon, where the Miesens lived. The Miesens bought a lovely acreage nearby with a tiny house which they named the Dana Lucile Lodge after Babe's granddaughter, Dana Lucile Jemison. Babe lived there for a period of time. Later she lived at the Lagoon Nursing Home near her daughter, Zola Schwiesow, who was then retired and living in Port Townsend, Washington. Babe died at 6:00 a.m. on July 16, 1969, from arteriosclerotic cardiovascular heart disease.

Babe was interested in her grandchildren remembering birthdays, holidays and graduations. Her visits to her children were very special occasions for everyone. Babe had a gentle, selfless manner, always seeking to please those around her, giving of herself fully.

Claudius Drummond Shellabarger was the fourth son of George and Emily Drummond Shellabarger. He was born in Clark County, Ohio, but the exact date is uncertain; the social security death index gave his birth date as January 18, 1879. His death certificate stated his birth date to be July 18, 1879; however, the birth records of Clark County, Ohio, recorded it as February 1, 1879. At two years of age his parents moved to the South Platte River Valley in Jefferson County, Colorado. After the death of his father when he was seventeen, his mother took residence in Denver. The 1900 Denver City Directory listed his occupation as a blacksmith residing with his mother and brothers, Frank and Will. The 1900 census also enumerated him with his mother at 275 S. 12th Street as did the 1902 Denver City Directory.

About 1902 Claude moved to Moscow, Idaho. He and his brother, Frank, opened a blacksmith shop and boarded at the hotel of Francis and Cornelia Billow. It was there he met and married his wife, Elizabeth J. Billow, on December 15, 1902. She was the daughter of Francis and Cornelia Farr Billow. Witnesses at the wedding were Babe Billow and Frank Gilbert Shellabarger. In November 4, 1903, the situation reversed when Claude and his wife served as witnesses to the marriage of Claude's brother, Frank Gilbert Shellabarger, and Anna May "Babe" Billow; brothers married sisters. For more information on Elizabeth's ancestry see Chapter X.

By April 11, 1910, Claude and Lizzie were residents of Cow Creek, Adams County, Colorado. This county lies east of Denver. At the time of the probate of Martin Shellabarger, Claude's grandfather, on October 4, 1912, Claude was a resident of Benge, Adams County, Washington. In January of 1920, Claude and Lizzie were living in Clark County, Washington. They moved very frequently until making a permanent home in 1929 in Ventura County, California. They became members of the Jehovah's Witnesses faith.

Claude, like his grandfather, Martin Shellabarger, possessed mechanical talents. He was a blacksmith, carpenter, inventor, and building contractor; he played the violin and classical guitar. Claude was a man of restless and volatile temperament. His daughter, Vera, described him as the most trusting man in the world. Lizzie was known for her sweet, calm disposition.

Claude and Elizabeth Billow Shellabarger were buried in the Ivy Lawn Cemetery in Ventura, but only Elizabeth's grave has a marker.

William Adam Shellabarger was the youngest son of George and Emily Drummond Shellabarger. He was named for his uncle, William Heistand Shellabarger, and paternal grandfather, Adam Sheller. Will was born and reared on the South Platte River in Jefferson County, Colorado. Will's father died when he was only fifteen. Two years later in 1898 he was listed with his mother in the Denver City Directory as a teamster for the Denver Union Water Company which also employed his brothers, Cliff and Hugh. The following year Will was listed in the directory as a student. He was living with his mother and brothers, Frank and Claude, at the time of the 1900 census. In 1901 he was again in the directory with no occupation given, but that year he became a clerk for Gates-Ide Grocery. In 1902 Will maintained a separate residence at 1175 South Pennsylvania Avenue and was employed as a clerk for J. W. Turner. The following year he clerked for Fred Harsh. In 1905 he was a boarder at 1820 Sherman Avenue and was employed as a clerk for L. H. Johnson and Company. From 1901 to 1905 Will had been gaining the experience needed to successfully operate a grocery business of his own. In 1906 The Shellabarger Brothers was established in Littleton, Will joining with his brother, Hugh, in this venture.

As a resident of Littleton Hugh became a member of the Littleton Independent Bowling Team organized in 1906. The same year Hugh's future wife, Jessie L. Cozens, was one of eight members of the first graduating class at Littleton High School. Jessie was the daughter of Clark Zane and Julia Ellen Parcells Cozens. Will and Jessie were married in Littleton on October 30, 1912. Will and Hugh were members of the Littleton Fire Department when it acquired its first motorized truck in 1914.

Later that year Will and Hugh relocated their business in Castle Rock operating the leading grocery store in that town. Will and Jessie's three children were born in Castle Rock. Will died on February 26, 1928, aged forty-six, when his youngest child, Dorothy, was only three, leaving his widow to rear and educate the children through the difficult years of the Great Depression. This she did with bravery and skill, being named Littleton's Foremost Mother in 1944 by the Littleton Woman's Club. Jessie did not remarry. She was buried by Will's side in the Littleton Cemetery, block 6, lot 19, after her death which occurred on September 9, 1970. Jessie wrote her will on July 23, 1970. Her three children shared equally in her estate:

Gladys Louise Eddy of 509 Remington, Fort Collins, Colorado
William Clark Shellabarger of 1258 Racine, Aurora, Colorado
Dorothy Gertrude Kimsey of 6275 S. Crocker, Littleton, Colorado

The LITTLETON INDEPENDENT ran the following front page obituary for Will in the Friday, March 2, 1928, edition:

WILL SHELLABARGER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

One of the most prominent men in this section of the state, William A. Shellabarger, died at his home in Castle Rock, Sunday evening, after a three weeks' illness with influenza and pneumonia.

Mr. Shellabarger, friends say he would have been blind permanently if he had lived, as his eyes were badly affected by his illness.

He lived in Littleton until fourteen years ago when he moved to Castle Rock. While in Littleton he engaged in the grocery business with his brother, and later manufactured cheese in the building now occupied by the Coleman corporation. He served several years as the Littleton Town Treasurer and was at one time chief of the Hose Company.

After going to Castle Rock, Mr. Shellabarger took an active part in the town affairs, being a member of Lions' Club, Odd Fellows, Town Council and the Hose company. In 1926 he was president of the Colorado State Fireman's association.

With his brother, Hugh, he operated the largest grocery store in Douglas County.

The funeral of Mr. Shellabarger, who was but 47 years old, was held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the Littleton Presbyterian church, with Rev.

Charles Marshal, Episcopal Minister of Denver, conducting the ceremony. Burial took place in the Littleton cemetery under the charge of the Masonic order from Castle Rock, which Mr. Shellabarger had recently joined.

Besides his brother, Hugh L., he is survived by a wife and three children, Gladys, Billie and Dorothy, all of Castle Rock; a brother in Washington and one in California.

Maxwell Shellabarger in 1941

Maxwell Shellabarger, son of Clifford Martin and Grace Lockwood Shellabarger, lost his father at the age of five. His mother remarried James Van Dolah and moved to Oregon. As a young man he made his home in Alaska settling on the Skwentna River about ninety miles inland from Anchorage, Alaska. There he became a trapper and guide. His death occurred tragically when he stepped into the propeller of his airplane.

The children of Maxwell and Annabelle Smith Shellabarger were:

i. Clifford Alonzo[4] Shellabarger. Born, 18 Aug 1922, in Skwentna, AK. Died, 20 Apr 1946, in Denver, Denver Co., CO. Burial: Apr 1946, in Lehow Cemetery, Jefferson Co., CO[7]. Occupation: student.

From an article in the ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS, and another in the DENVER POST, dated April 23, 1946, the following information was abstracted:

Clifford Alonzo Shellabarger, son of Maxwell and Anna Belle Shellabarger, grew up on the Skwentna River, ninety miles inland from Anchorage, Alaska. As a boy he hunted and went out with dog teams in Skwentna. He was home-schooled by his mother until he entered Anchorage High School. He began college in Portland, Oregon, and aspired to become a marine pilot and geologist. In his spare time he took flying lessons, but his plane crashed causing serious injury thus making a career as a flier an impossibility. Nevertheless, Clifford joined the Marines, but was placed in a marine psychiatric hospital after only three months and then discharged.

He enrolled at the University of North Dakota where he was named the outstanding man of his class. He later transferred to the University of New Mexico. The injuries he received in the air crash caused him to fantasize that he had been a winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor. Clifford was expelled from the University of New Mexico for a prank, and from there he went to the University of Denver. Police came to question him about a safecracking in Fargo, North Dakota, and rather than face questioning, he committed suicide on April 20, 1946.

Clifford's father and sister, Maxine Branham, flew from Alaska and arranged for his burial beside his grandfather, Clifford, in the Lehow Cemetery, Jefferson County, Colorado.

Occupation: teacher.

She married William Herman "Bill" Schwiesow, Born, 10 Apr 1900, in Washington[45]. Died, 22 Jul 1975, in Edmonds, Snohomish Co, WA[45]. Buried in Redwood Forest, CA[32]. Graduation from the University of Washington Occupation: civil engineer.

Zola Carmen Shellabarger was the elder daughter of Frank Gilbert and Anna May Billow Shellabarger. Her early childhood was spent in Troy, Idaho. Zola graduated from normal school at Ellensburg, Washington. In the early 1930's before her marriage she taught at The Dalles, Oregon, and was an outstanding English and Social Studies teacher in junior high school. As an adult she obtained a B.A. degree from Monmouth Teachers College in Oregon.

Zola married Bill Schwiesow, a civil engineer and graduate of the University of Washington. After their marriage the Schwiesows lived for a time in Vancouver, Washington, and in Okanogan, Washington, in a remote mountain area. The Schwiesows moved to Portland, Oregon, before the birth of their son, Gale, and purchased a home in northeast Portland. When World War II began Bill was assigned to work on the Pan American Highway. He departed for Central America, and Zola and Gale remained in Oak Grove, Oregon, with her sister, Lucile Miesen and family, and father who also made his home with Lucile. When Bill had arranged a suitable home in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, he sent for Zola. It was there their second son, Bob, was born. Zola home-schooled Gale and another English speaking child.

After the growing family returned to its home in Portland in 1947, their last child, Franz, was born, and soon thereafter Zola resumed her teaching career. Her father came to live with the family helping caring for the children during the day. The family moved just outside Salem to an acreage with a cherry orchard and family garden. The Schwiesow's home burned to the ground, but they rebuilt on the foundation. All three of their sons were college graduates: Gale a graduate of Reed College in Portland, Bob a graduate of Dartmouth College, and Franz of the University of Oregon.

After Bill's retirement as Oregon State Inspector of Highways, the Schwiesows moved to Port Townsend and later to Edmonds, Washington. It was there Bill died of cancer. Zola then went to Lake Oswego, Oregon, living near her son, Gale, and his family. When Gale took a new position in Bellingham, Washington, he insisted that Zola move as well. She took a lovely apartment overlooking the sound. At eighty she was alert, strong, healthy, and active, but her car was struck at an intersection causing severe injuries, and she died May 31, 1985, coincidentally the birthday of her niece, Carmen Miesen Bussard.

Zola was tall for her generation, about five feet, eight and a half inches, and wore clothes beautifully. She had a keen sense of humor and was excellent company. She was a woman of sound character with an air of sophistication and was intensely devoted to her family and career.

The children of William Herman and Zola Carmen Shellabarger Schwiesow were:

30 i. Gale Frank[4] Schwiesow.

ii. Robert Lee Schwiesow, Born, 14 Feb 1944, in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Resided, 11 Jan 1992, in Port Townsend, WA. Graduation from Dartmouth College.[55]. Occupation: trucker. He married Anne Elizabeth "Anne Hirondelle" Harvey.

Lucile married[60] John "Hubert" Miesen[61], son of Joseph John Miesen and Maria "Jessie" Canterbury, 9 Mar 1929, in Vancouver, Clark Co,, WA[62]. Born, 15 Mar 1896, in Barton Co., MO, near Boston. Died, 27 Mar 1985, in El Toro, Orange Co., CA[63]. Buried: Mar 1985, at Mt. Crest Abbey, Salem, Marion Co., OR. Census: 6 Jul 1910, in Chehalis, Lewis Co., WA; ED13 SH254[64]. Census: 12 Jan 1920, in 118 Main St., Chehalis, Lewis Co., WA; ED126 SH5[65]. Graduation: 1916, from Chehalis High School. Occupation: fuel dealer; motel owner.

Lucile Adelaide Shellabarger was the younger daughter of Frank Gilbert and Anna May Billow Shellabarger. She was born at Troy, Idaho, on February 12, 1907. She enjoyed cold weather activities in Troy, ice skating and sledding. Her parents moved to Raymond, Washington, by 1919 and relocated again in Centralia, Washington. She was a high school queen at Centralia High School. She attended normal school at Ellensburg, Washington, and studied home economics. After graduation she taught in a one room school in Dotie, Washington. Her duties there in addition to teaching included cleaning the classroom and starting the fire. She had to live with the parents of her students in rotation. Her pay was $85 a year.

Lucile met her future husband, John "Hubert" Miesen, at a dance. He was a resident of Chehalis only four miles away. They were married March 9, 1929, in Vancouver, Washington, the witnesses to their marriage being Hubert's sister, Thelma, and Mrs. George Frame, wife of the officiating minister. Lucile and Hubert made their first home in a rented house on Portland's west side near Hubert's place of business on Macadam Ave., the Sunset Fuel Company. They purchased their first home on 34th Street in the Eastmoreland development of Portland. It was a new five room house with full basement and attic, the cost being the unbelievable depression price of $3500. Their only child was born May 31, 1931, and named Carmen Adelaide.

In the succeeding years Lucile assisted her husband by working in the office of Sunset Fuel Company. The Miesens owned successively three other homes in the Portland area. The homes were located at 3400 Martin Street, in Eastmoreland, a stone house on Oak Avenue in Oak Grove south of Portland, and finally on Reed College Place in Eastmoreland.

After World War II Hubert sold his third of the fuel business to his brother, Lloyd. Hubert and Lucile then purchased the Finisterre Lodges in Depoe

Bay. Oregon, and remained there until their retirement in 1967. At that time the Miesens bought a home at 101 Forest Lane in Boulder City, Nevada, with a view of Lake Meade. Lucile's health was very poor, and she died of pneumonia the following year on September 20, 1968, at the age of sixty-one.

Lucile's husband, John Hubert Miesen, was the younger son and second of five children of Joseph John and Maria Jessie Canterbury Miesen. He was born March 15, 1896, in Barton County, Missouri, on a farm near Boston. Boston no longer exists as a post office, but can be reached by gravel roads. Lamar is on the railroad line south of Lamar, Missouri, the birthplace of President Harry Truman. When two years of age, Hubert's family moved to Chehalis, Washington, making the journey by train. There his father established a livery stable, fuel, and transfer business. His maternal grandparents, John and Matilda Canterbury, also came to Chehalis from neighboring Jasper County, Missouri.

As a boy Hubert helped his Grandfather Canterbury make deliveries of the vegetables raised on his nearby farm. Hubert had a special cart pulled by a goat to assist him. He attended Chehalis High School and was on the football team and in the senior class play, playing the part of Ivanoff in The Man from Home. After graduation in 1916, Hubert worked with his father for a time in Chehalis until his enlistment in the army in World War I, August 26, 1918. He served in the Quartermasters Corps doing typing and clerical work. He was stationed at Camp Lewis where he earned the rank of sergeant.

After Hubert's discharge on Friday, June 13, 1919, he returned to Chehalis and again worked with his dad. His mother and father had separated in October, 1916, and were divorced July 21, 1919. Hubert's mother was living in Tacoma, Washington, during World War I. On September 8, 1921, Hubert witnessed an accident which resulted in the death of his father. A horse reared up and came down crushing him. Hubert was administrator of his father's estate.

Business had become almost nonexistent in Chehalis as the country approached the Great Depression, and about 1925 Hubert joined his brother, Lloyd, in Portland where Lloyd had begun a fuel business in 1922. The Sunset Fuel Company was established on the west side of Portland, and Hubert became one-third owner and office manager. Except for about six months during the depression in which he drew no salary, the business prospered. After World War II he sold his share of the business to Lloyd.

For the next twenty years Hubert and Lucile owned and operated the Finisterre Lodges in Depoe Bay, Oregon. When they retired in 1967, they took residence in Boulder City, Nevada. After Lucile's death the following year, Hubert remained in Boulder City until December of 1982. At that time his home was rented, and he moved to the southern California area where his daughter, Carmen, lived. He was then in need of a board and care facility but was always near to her so visits could be made frequently back and forth. Hubert died of cancer, March 27, 1985. His entire estate was left to his daughter. The ashes of Hubert and Lucile were placed in the same niche as those of Lucile's parents in the Mt. Crest Abbey, Salem, Oregon.

Hubert was five feet, six inches tall with brown wavy hair and blue eyes. He was an excellent dancer according to his sister-in-law, Zola. Hubert was a quiet man who enjoyed fishing, hunting, bowling, and baseball in his younger days. He had a great appreciation for nature and scenic beauty and was an excellent gardener. He enjoyed traveling after Lucile's death, revisiting his childhood home in Missouri with his brother, Lloyd, and his wife, and visiting relatives in Portand. He also toured Yellowstone Park and the Grand Canyon with his daughter and grandchildren

A more honest, principled man than Hubert could not be found. He took life and its responsibilities seriously. He was a devoted husband and father, and student of the bible. Hubert was a perfectionist; every property he owned was vastly improved during his tenancy. He had the old fashioned work ethic, putting in minimum ten hour days, six days a week, while in the fuel business and caring for his home and yard on the seventh day. If everyone were as conscientious, the world would be a prosperous and beautiful place indeed.

31. Carmen Adelaide[4] Miesen (Lucile Adelaide[3], Frank Gilbert[2], George Ephraim[1]). Born, 31 May 1931, in Good Samaritan Hospital Chapel, Portland, OR. Resided, 1994, in Laguna Hills, 26007 Atherton, CA 92653. Graduation June 1952 from College of the Pacific. Occupation: teacher; speech pathologist; organist.

I was born on a Sunday morning, about 5:31 a.m., May 31, 1931, in the Wilcox Memorial Hospital, Portland, Oregon. My parents, John "Hubert" Miesen and Lucile Adelaide Shellabarger named me, Carmen Adelaide, the middle names of my aunt, Zola Carmen and mother, Lucile Adelaide. I weighed six and a half pounds at birth and was twenty inches long, however I eventually grew to five feet, seven inches and weighed about one hundred and ten pounds when I was married. I had blue eyes and light brown hair, and a fair complexion.

At the age of two and a half I began nursery school held in a home in Eastmoreland, a suburb of Portland. From then until my retirement from the teaching profession in June of 1991, I was in school in some capacity. I entered first grade at the Gable School when four years of age. In third grade I was transferred to St. Helen's Hall, an Episcopalian school for girls, which I attended through high school graduation on May 28, 1947, three days before my sixteenth birthday. Because my parents had moved to Depoe Bay, my last year was as a boarding student.

Since the age of six I had studied piano, and at Linfield College in McMinnville, Oregon, I began organ lessons. I transferred to the College of the Pacific in Stockton, California, my junior year. It was there I met my first husband, Danys Jemison. He was a candidate for a master's degree in composition. We both graduated in June of 1952, I with a Bachelor of Music in pipe organ. Danys and I were married the following September 5th in San Francisco, at Holy Innocents Church, and coincidentally I became organist of the same church. The following fall I took a teaching position outside of Marysville, in the Linda School District, to teach fourth grade. Three years later we moved to Fort Bragg, California, where I taught third grade, and Danys was high school band director.

Our three years in beautiful Fort Bragg were a delight. I found a position playing the pipe organ at the First Presbyterian Church and continued my organ study with Bob Whitley. I gave a full recital and played hymn requests on the radio station on Sunday evenings. We bought over an acre with ocean frontage. Danys wanted to continue his education at the University of Southern California so we moved to southern California. I began teaching fourth grade in the Little Lake School District.

In August, 1959, we bought our first home on Cornishcrest Road in Whittier. Our daughter, Dana, was born the following April 27th.

My teaching career came to a temporary halt, and I was delighted to be a mother. I played the organ at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in La Habra. Danys continued to attend USC, and also took a job with the Los Angeles School District teaching band. In 1962 we were divorced, and I returned to Los Angeles State University to become a speech pathologist. A year and a half later I completed my speech and hearing credential and began working in the Hudson School District.

My second husband, David Bussard was employed by Hughes Aircraft as an engineer. We married in Las Vegas on June 20, 1966. After the birth of our son, Joel David, on December 18, 1967, we moved to Laguna Hills, California. We were divorced when Joel was only nine months old, and I found employment in the Saddleback Valley School District remaining there until my retirement in 1991. I continued to play the organ professionally and enjoyed studying family history.

Carmen married first, Danys LeGene Jemison, son of Irwin Ellsworth Jemison and Gene Dana Matthews, 5 Sep 1952, in Holy Innocents' Episcopal Church, San Francisco, CA[80]. Divorce, 26 Mar 1963 in Los Angeles, Los Angeles Co., CA[81]. Engaged: 1952, at the Peffer Stock Farm Farmington, San Joaquin Co., CA[82]. Born, 17 Jan 1927, in Orange, Orange Co., CA. Child:

i. Dana Lucile[5] Jemison. Born, 27 Apr 1960, in Morningside Hsp., Los Angeles CA. Graduation: B.S., 27 May 1982, from California State University at Long Beach.[83]. M.A. Dec 1994 University of Texas. Occupation: environmental chemist: librarian.

Dana married Jeffrey Brian Jackson son of John Arthur Jackson and Ima Kathryn Lamb, 19 Nov 1994, in Austin, TX. Born, 28 Jun 1968, in Fort Worth TX.

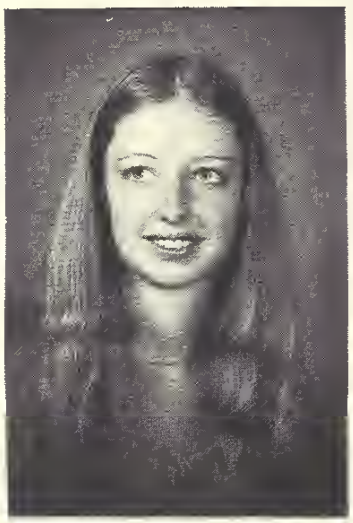
Dana was given her paternal grandmother's surname, Dana, and her maternal grandmother's name, Lucile. The first six years of her life were spent in Whittier, California.



After her mother's remarriage the family moved to the Saddleback Valley, where Dana lived until her graduation from Saddleback Valley College. The family had homes in Laguna Hills, Mission Viejo, and El Toro. Dana attended Mission Viejo High School where she raised a steer her freshman year. She had interests in ballet and music. After receiving her Associate of Arts degree she transferred to California State College at Long Beach and received a Bachelor of Science degree in 1982 with a major in botany.

After graduation she worked as an environmental chemist in Long Beach and in the San Francisco Bay area until June of 1993. While living in Berkeley she did volunteer work at the University of California radio station becoming a director of production. Desiring a career change, she enrolled at the University of Texas in Austin where she was awarded a master's degree in library science in December of 1994.

Carmen married second, David Larry Bussard, son of Lawrence Harold Bussard and Adaline Margaret Starkey, 20 Jun 1966, in Las Vegas, Clark Co., NV[84]. His parents were divorced when he was nine months old. From the age of six months he lived and was schooled in the Saddleback Valley towns of Laguna Hills, El Toro, and Mission Viejo.

At the age of five he joined the Mission Viejo Nadadores and swam with that team until his senior year in high school at which time he joined the Irvine Novaquatics. By the age of nine he had placed in the top ten swimmers in the United States in the ten and under age group in a number of strokes. Joel was an All American his junior and senior years at El Toro High School. He won first place in backstroke in the southern section of the California Interscholastic Federation his senior year and was named most valuable swimmer at El Toro High School. He also swam in the United States Nationals, swimming freestyle and backstroke.

Joel received a full scholarship to attend the University of Minnesota. He returned to southern California and received his Associate of Arts at the Saddleback Junior College. In 1988 he was named Orange Empire Conference Swimmer of the Year. He then attended the University of Utah, again on full scholarship, and graduated in 1991 with a major in finance.

During his swimming years he traveled to many locations in the United States for competition and during college to Puerto Rico, Hawaii, and the Republic of China.

After college he spent a year with Modern Woodmen of America selling insurance. In May of 1994 he successfully took the CPA examination and is currently attending California State College at Fullerton seeking a master's degree in taxation.

DESCENDANTS OF ADAM SHELLABARGER

First Generation

1. Adam "Ad"[1] Shellabarger[1], son of Martin Shellabarger and Elizabeth Sheller. Born, 16 Dec 1846, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[2]. Died, 18 Oct 1915, in Denver, Denver Co., CO[3]. Buried: Oct 1915, in Rito Alto Cem., Saguache Co., CO. Census: 6 Jun 1860, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 300[4]. Census: 14 Jun 1900, in Cotton Creek, Pct. #2, Saguache Co., CO; ED115 SH8. Census: 21 Apr 1910, in Cotton Creek, Saguache Co., CO; ED134 SH95[5]. Occupation: rancher.

Adam married Abigail Anna Wales, daughter of Harrison Grey Otis Wales and Elizabeth Snell, 3 Apr 1873, in Rito Alto, Saguache Co., CO[6]. Born, 15 Feb 1854, in Knox Co., IL, near Altona[7]. Died, 12 Sep 1943, in Denver, Denver Co., CO[7]. Buried: 16 Sep 1943, in Rito Alto Cem., Saguache Co., CO[8]. Census: 6 Jun 1900, in Denver, Arapahoe Co., CO; ED64 SH6[9]. Census: 21 Apr 1910, in Cotton Creek, Saguache Co., CO; ED134 SH95.

Adam Shellabarger, second son of Martin and Elizabeth Sheller Shellabarger, was reared and educated in Mad River Township, Clark County, Ohio, being trained in farming, blacksmithing, and as a cooper. He was named for his maternal grandfather, Adam Sheller.

In 1869 Adam Shellabarger came to Jefferson County, Colorado, with his brother, George E. Shellabarger. He worked on the South Platte River ranch of his brother-in-law, Charles L. Lehow, and Charles' brother, Otis E. Lehow, and then accompanied Otis E. Lehow to the San Luis Valley in Saguache County, Colorado, a frontier area so remote he had to depend on wild game for his food supply. The nearest trading center was Denver, a difficult journey of one hundred and fifty miles. Adam's son, Walter, was the first white child born in the San Luis Valley. In 1870 Adam was recorded in the census as Anton Shellabarger, cooper, aged twenty-three. The same year he purchased one hundred sixty acres and a little later homesteaded on one hundred sixty acres located seven and a half miles northeast of Moffat on the Rito Alto. He raised cattle and horses with his partner, Otis E. Lehow. Journeys were made to Texas and New Mexico to bring the cattle into the San Luis Valley. Eventually Adam was in possession of 4,700 fenced acres of land, 1,000 acres of which produced hay, and 1,200 head of shorthorn cattle. In 1886 Adam bought the Lehow interest in the business, and in 1890 he discontinued raising horses. The Rito Alto Ranch has remained in the family for one hundred twenty years and is located at 65000 Road X, Moffat, Colorado.

Adam married Abigail, a daughter of Harrison Grey Otis Wales and Elizabeth Snell Wales. Harrison Wales, a large land owner and rancher in the San Luis Valley, was born March 3, 1812, in Newton, Massachusetts, and died Christmas Day, 1889. Harrison was the first person buried in the new Rito Alto Cemetery where Adam's ranch was located. A frame church, no longer in regular use. was built adjoining the cemetery. . Mr. Wales' funeral was attended by his daughter living near Littleton. Lizzie Wales Shellabarger, and her husband, Will.

Obtaining an adequate education for the children was a challenge for Adam and Abigail. Their sons, Walter and Ralph, with four other classmates first attended school in a log house at the Neal Ranch for a period of two months in the summer of 1883. In 1884 the same group was taught in a cabin. In 1885 they attended Cotton Creek School with about fifteen or twenty other children. This structure was of logs and had a sod roof. During the coldest two or three months of the winter the boys were boarded with the Neidhardt family, and for the remainder of the year rode horses to school, a distance of seven miles. In 1887 a frame school house was built. School was held four or five months of the year. In 1889 Walter and Ralph were sent to live with their Uncle Will Shellabarger and his wife, Aunt Lizzie, who was Abigail's sister, when they returned from Harrison Wales' funeral to their home in Jefferson County. There the boys attended the Deer Creek School about six miles from Littleton. Walter was sent to Central Business College and in 1894 Abigail took the other children to Denver, living at 1732 17th Avenue, where according to the Denver City Directory she remained until 1903. Ralph attended Miller's University Business College, and the girls attended a grade school.

Adam Shellabarger was instrumental in the establishment of the San Isabel National Forest. He was an organizer of the First National Bank of Saguache County and held membership in the Masonic fraternity at Saguache and Crestone and the Society of Elks at Creede, Colorado. In politics he was a member of the Democratic Party. Adam's leisure activities included hunting, fishing, and motoring. Despite his many accomplishments, Adam was known as a "modest and unassuming man".

In 1909 Adam retired from the stock business. His residence at the time of death on October 18, 1915, was 2310 Bellure Street, Denver. He was buried in the Rito Alto Cemetery in Saguache County.

The estate of Adam Shellabarger was administered by his son, Ralph Wales Shellabarger. Adam Shellabarger owned the following property at the time of his death:

The front 44' of lot 1, lots 2 & 3, and SE14' of lot 4, block 9, West Denver, valued at $37,000
Lots 21 & 21, block 13, Park Hill City, Denver, valued at $6,000
Lots 22 & 23. block 13, Park Hill City, Denver, equity, $7,000

S½ of SE¼, S8, E½ of NE¼, S 17, E½ of NW¼ of NE¼ of S17, all in T44N, R11E containing 180 acres in Saguache County, valued at $800.

Adam's personal property was valued at $67,618.88. Total estate value was $118,423.88, a large portion of which paid attorney's fees. Adam and Abigail were buried in the Rito Alto Cemetery on the Shellabarger ranch in Saguache County.

Funeral services for Mrs. Abigail Wales Shellabarger, 89, San Luis Valley pioneer who died Sunday, were held under cottonwoods on a ranch east of Moffat Thursday. Following cremation in Denver Friday the ashes will be buried on the ranch.

Mrs. Shellabarger had been in poor health since she was injured in a fall last February.

In 1913 Mr. Shellabarger sold his ranch and retired. After his death in 1915, Mrs. Shellabarger bought an adjoining ranch and returned to the valley.

Three daughters, a son, eleven grandchildren, and eleven great-grandchildren survive. Miss Elizabeth Shellabarger, Mrs. Ethel S. Albert of Moffat and Mrs. Eloise S. Tudor of Las Cruces, N. M. are the daughters. The son is Ralph Shellabarger of Saguache.

Ralph continued to operate his father's Rito Alto ranch. The following is an autobiographical sketch written by Ralph Wales Shellabarger on March 8, 1956, from Ogden, Utah, and provided by his grandson, Glenn Selch. Parentheses are mine and some punctuation was added.

> Daughter, Julia Hicks, has asked me to write some things that happened before she can remember, particularly the Shellabarger family affairs. The first year that I can fairly remember is about 1881 (Ralph was aged four.) when the Valley had unusually heavy rains, and as we lived in a dirt-roofed cabin, the ceiling dripped water most every day, and I can well remember seeing our mother placing pans and buckets under the leaks to keep beds, tables and stove from being soaked. The first trip away from home, in 1882, was to Villa Grove to take the train to Denver and to Littleton to visit the William Shellabarger and George Shellabarger families. We had six cousins in George's (family) who lived on the Charley Lehow ranch in Platte Canyon. They were Hugh, Cliff, Frank, Claude, Georgia, and Will. The only girl, Georgia, died while we were there and was buried on the hill with Charley Lehow who had died some years before. Also George Shellabarger is buried there. He was killed in a team runaway in Denver in 1896. These graves are near the old house where Watertown, Denver Union Water Co., is now located. We were staying at Uncle Will (Ralph's father's brother) and Aunt Lizzie's (Ralph's mother's sister), and Mother took sick there. Don't remember how long we stayed away from home on that first trip, but it was likely about a month. Ad Shellabarger, our father, came to see us and see how Mother would get along. He was out with Steve Kenney, Jim Jacobs and others on the regular summer round-up, and he heard someway that Mother was sick and took a train from Alamosa. The cattle outfit was working in that vicinity at the time. I can remember that he looked queer to us as his face was badly cut and scratched from a horse falling and throwing him off. Mother was better, and we went home soon after. The railroad had just been completed to Villa Grove and the Orient Iron Mine.

The first school for Walter and me was in the old log house at the Neal place (1883). The new frame house had been built in about 1883 and the house at the Lower Wales place a year or two before. It was a square house two stories high with a look-out in the middle of the roof. Can remember going up there; then people went up to look around the country from the top of the new Wales house. Both of these houses burned down long after. The first school was taught by Della Wydick, a girl from Saguache, for about two months in the summer. There were six scholars: four Eaton boys, Jess, Frank, Lew, and Art, and Walter (Ralph's brother) and me. The Eaton family lived on Wales place where Bill's sheep camp now is. The next summer the same six had school in some cabin, and the teacher was one Belle Gibbs. Some others of the Gibbs family lived on the old Star Ranch below Steve Kenney's place.

Next we went to the Cotton Creek School, an old dirt-roofed, log school house, for a while in the winter. The frame school house was built in 1887. We stayed at Griff Gunn's at the old Hoffman place on the east side of the road about half a mile. Gunn was the teacher. He was a cripple; walked with crutches but could go to the post office through the willows about a mile south, and I would go along to carry the rabbits that he killed with a double barrel. He killed most of the rabbits setting in their nests. Was too stingy to load the old gun enough to shoot over fifteen or twenty yards. He would carry the gun in one hand and also hold onto the crutch on that side while he hobbled along. The scholars in Cotton Creek School were about fifteen or twenty and about half were Mexicans from Duran: Vigil, Valdez, Trujillo, and Casias families. The white ones were Johnsons, Neidhardts, Stahls, Romingers, Nolands, Squires, Bughs, Tollers, Catters, Jack Warrants and Eversons, (and) also Petersons from Short Creek. Next we boarded at Neidhardts who lived just across the creek from the school on the north side. The next teacher was Lillie Gordon who also boarded at Neidhardts. We stayed there for two or three months in the cold weather and in the spring commenced to ride our old horses to school from home. Stayed part of the next winter at Neidhardts, but when it was not too cold would ride from home about seven miles. Went to school each winter, four or five months probably, at Cotton Creek 'til winter of 1889 at time Grandpa Wales died at Christmas. Uncle Will and Aunt Lizzie came down for funeral, first one at new cemetery at Rito Alto, and Walter and I went back home with them and attended the Deer Creek School six miles from Littleton. Teacher was Miss Wilson, the rest of the term.

They (Uncle Will and Aunt Lizzie) would take us into Denver sometimes and always drove to Littleton for mail, etc., at least once a week. Some of the teachers we had at Cotton Creek were Carry O'Neil, Miss Burke, Nellie Armitage (and) Mina Squires.

Mina Squires was the niece of W. D. Squires, a cattleman who lived north of the George Bugh place. Bugh and Squires each built good frame houses in the early eighties. Squires did most of the work on his house and took several years to get it finished. Walter and I helped drive many bunches of steer to the railroad and would stay overnight at the Squires Ranch and get into Villa Grove in time to load the cattle on cars about two P.M. when (the) train came back through Villa Grove from Orient Iron Camp. In (the) summer of 1890 the railroad was extended from Villa Grove to Alamosa, and Moffat was started in about July of that year.

The first building in Moffat was the Jim Garrison saloon and next was the Green and Tabor store and soon after the San Luis Supply Company, on (the) west side of the track. It burned down about 1894. Jessie Gulley had a hotel east of the Big Adobe Livery Stable. It also burned, and Mack Lybolt had a blacksmith shop still east of the hotel. Dr. Rambo had a drugstore just east of the Garrison Saloon, and Dan Debord had a hotel and livery barn. (The) Moffat Hotel was built, brick, in 1891, and also the first school house. The first school, 1890-91, was held in a frame one-room building east across (the) street from (the) hotel, later moved by teams to the January place on Baca Grant. The first teacher was Lida Wilkins, and scholars were some of the following: the Calvins, Ike and John, Cliff Frazee, Scott Marshall, Mabel Miley, Gertie Collarl, Blanche Rinehart, Johnnie McLaughlin, Lee Hogue, Mamie Debord, Grace and Mabel Lockwood and maybe some more. (Grace Lockwood married Clifford Shellabarger, son of George Ephraim Shellabarger, in 1895.) The first department agent was C. C. Niekirk. He used to buy ducks from us and send them to Denver. In springtime Walter and I would always hurry home from school as fast as we could ride and get out to the long pond in San Luis place to kill as many ducks as we could. Usually stayed out hunting as late as we could see. We usually could pick up some ducks the next morning on the way to school, the ones that we could not find in the dark. We batched the first winter with Tom Fullenwider who was feeding cattle. We could sell the ducks to Jessie Gulley or Agent Neikirk for about $1.00 a dozen for mixed ducks. Always could buy plenty of shot and powder for more hunting.

The Moffat Stockyards was built in 1890-1 and shipped quite a lot of cattle. The first to be brought in were big steers from George Adams on the Baca Grant, and they (the steers) pushed the middle fence and east side of the yards out and went back towards the Grant. Did not get them that way either. The yards had to be rebuilt. We helped to handle these steers and many others of the first cattle shipped from Moffat. The fence was broken down or pushed out about two or three times. The cattle would all go at once when (the) train pulled in to set cars for loading. Moffat Hotel was first operated by Mrs. Lockwood and later by Dan Onril who also run the Moffat Livery Barn.

Winter of 1891-2 we batched with Ed Murphy in the new white house. Winter of 1892-3 (we were) with Bob Holland who worked with cattle and hauled hay. Winter of 1893-4 Walter was in Denver in business college. I batched with Bob Holland.

George Adams, brand (LC), on the Baca Grant had probably the most cattle of any outfit. Others were Means Brothers (±), W. T. Ashley (OO), Geo. T. Bugh, D. W. Squires, Wales Bros. (IT), San Isabel Land and Cattle Co., ("m) run by D. C. Travis and A. M. Sanford, J. W. Jacobs (++), Alex Craig (3J), Steve Kenny (K), Star Ranch, run by Sears and Graham of Pueblo, Ad Shellabarger.

(7). Kenny and Shellabarger operated a good round-up outfit and branded many calves and gathered cattle for George Bugh, W. D. Squires, Steele Bros. and others who had come into the valley from the mines of Leadville and Montana and other places with plenty of money to own cattle but not experienced in the handling of range stock. Some of the best cattle handlers for Shellabarger were George Winters, Ike Shores, Ed Brandebary, Hank Wales, Jim Jacobs, Dan Davidson, Ed Murphy, (?) and Jim Hamm. The first good old horse we had was Old Joe, bought from Jim Jacobs in about 1885. Next good one was White Billy from John Ballard who operated a freight outfit on Leadville Road and used to ride this white horse while going with his cattle team on the freight road. Another cattle freight outfit was operated by Buffalo (?) Trujillo, who had Mexican bull whackers and ten or twelve yokes of steers on each team of two wagons. Mule outfits that we knew on the freight road from Alamosa to Leadville were Harry Campbell, Dressback Hoover, Weir Bros., Jim Brown and some others. They came often to feed their teams and shoe them at our place.

W. T. Ashley and Jim Jacobs also operated a good round-up wagon and outfit and worked all over the valley before wire fences were built. Some of the cowmen who worked for the San Isabel or were Geo. Fogler, Tom Green, Alkali Ike Colvin, Bill Kirk, Spangler, Doc and Irv Marshall, and others. Men who moved cattle for Geo. Adams and LC brand were Dan Davidson, John Charles, Frank Charles, Tom and Bill Rowland, Frank and Rupert Toll, Granville House, John Kenny, no relative of Steve Kenny, Bert McGee, Geo. and Ralph Farnham, Ned Warrant and others. John Kenny was foreman for Adams on the Grant after W. D. Davidson and stayed 'til the Adams cattle were sold to Rhodes and Millet in about 1903. Walter and I did not ever work steady on the Grant but helped in round-up time and branding. I helped catch the antelope shown in purebred herd picture in 1893. This was on Spanish Creek when we were herding a bunch of cows and bull calves. We sent this little antelope to the home ranch from Cottonwood Corrals with George Fogler who operated the camp supply wagon, and it was kept with the registered Hereford herd for two or three years. Picture was taken in 1894.

We went with Dad and Ed Murphy to hunt white-tail deer and antelope sometimes, before old enough to have a rifle, but got a good one (rifle) about 1886. Killed a deer in the cottonwoods on Rito Alto Creek on July 3rd, 1887, and after that we got some deer every year. Learned to kill antelope too, and there were plenty of them until about 1900. Killed some coyotes and bobcats after about 1886. Always hunted ducks and rabbits and grouse. Did not have very good guns. I had only a single barrel muzzle loader in the first place for a few years but in 1892 got an old twelve gauge double barrel from Tom Fullenwider who was feeding hay for us one winter. Walter had a single barrel twelve gauge. We have these guns yet.

We hunted with Ed Murphy for many years. He worked for us on the ranch most of the time from about 1881 to 1900. Ed died at age of ninety years in 1953. His job was taking care of the cattle and hauling wood for stoves and fireplace. Usually burned pinon wood in (the) fireplace, and aspen and cottonwood in stoves. Sometimes (we) cut green pinon, and after it was dried used it in cook stoves. Wood chopping was hard work for boys. We got a circle saw with horse power in about 1886. Pumping water was also a big job and had to be done for water in the corrals. Got (our) first artesian well at (the) lower place in 1889. Picking raspberries was a job we always looked forward to. After timber fires in the mountains the berries would come for several years until crowded out by quaking aspen. We usually went to Dry Gulch or Short Creek. Rock Creek, east of Round Hill was the best place for berries, and many people went there to camp a few days and get all they wanted for a year. No one had refrigerators and fresh meat would not keep long in summer. Someone in our neighborhood would kill a beef about once a week and distribute it around to be used up before it spoiled. In winter we had beef, deer meat, and antelope, and it would keep all right except for drying out after a time. Usually hung the deer up to freeze with hides on. Raised a patch of buckwheat on the sand hill and had it ground at old mill near Saguache. The first time Walter and I went fishing away from home was a trip with Uncle Otis Wales when we took buckwheat to Saguache to be ground into pancake flour, and then we went up to Ward's ranch about ten miles and stayed two or three days. There were lots of native trout in the Saguache Creek then, about 1885. Bill and Alba Wales were little kids about (the) same age we were.

We went first to Leadville with steers for Reef and Nickolls in 1886. Went to Kansas in 1896 with Cross Bar brand (±) belonging to Means Bros. They were contracted to pasture for six months at $1.50 per head for the season. Same pasture would cost about $15.00 for six months now. We went to Bazaar in Chase County.

In 1894 we started to school in Denver. Had a place at 1732 17th Ave., and the girls went to grade school nearby. I went one year to Manual Training School which was started in 1893. Walter went to Central Business College while I was still in Moffat School. In 1895 I Went to Miller's University Business College in the old Charles Block, 15th and Curtis St. It is down and a parking lot now.

George Bugh had more horses on the range than any other rancher. He had made the money placer mining in California Gulch, Leadville, in 1859-60 and came into the Valley about 1875 and went into (the) range cattle business. Mr. Bugh built the first good frame house with shingle roof on San Luis Creek. Men who worked for Bugh breaking horses were Ned Chapman, Orrie King, Elmer Murphy, and many others. His horses were of poor grade and small.

J. B. Hall with main ranch just east of Villa Grove raised very good horses and also had the Frank Ross Ranch on San Luis Creek, later called the Muskrat Farm. Mr. Hall sold many horses to people settling in the valley north of Monte Vista in about 1895 and after. Some of the men who worked with horses for Hall were Jim Johnson, Amos Roberts, Jim and Bill McQueen, Ray Smith and others. Hall's brand for cattle was, ox yoke, and for horses it was, reversed L. Mr. Hall also made money in Leadville in about 1870 before coming to the Valley.

In about 1902 Crestone had a boom in mining and (a) railroad was built from Moffat through our lower place. The railroad extended as far as Cottonwood on the Grant. A 100 stamp mill was built just south of Spanish Creek and operated for about a year. The mining excitement only lasted for about a year, and the people were mostly gone from Crestone.

The San Isabel National Forest was established in 1903, and I got the job as forest ranger in about April of that year. Had a homestead near the Rito Alto Ranch and (a) small cabin to live in. Stayed there part of the time and always kept some horses and cattle pasturing on the place. Had a trip to visit our people in Yellow Springs, Ohio, in 1902-3. (Greene County, Ohio; his people were his grandmother, Elizabeth Sheller Shellabarger, and aunt, Mary Lehow and her daughter Annie Lehow, and cousins.) (I) also (was) in Chicago to see National Livestock Association meeting and found some Saguache people there. (I) Remember George Curtis and Jack Holden. We went one day on a special excusion to St. Joseph, Missouri, to see the new stock yards just completed there. At the time of the Boer War in South Africa I located and bought horses and broke them for the English army. Ad Bronough of Monte Vista was one of the horse buyers for army mounts. Bronaugh was an old friend of our family and had been sheriff of Saguache County. In 1905 President Roosevelt made many Forest Reserves. (He) Extended the San Isabel north and south, and Cochetopa and Wet Mountain Reserves were also established. Management was changed from the General Land Office, Department of the Interior to the Department of Agriculture, Forest Service, and I got the appointment as Supervisor of the three reserves. (I) Held examinations for field men, called forest guards and Rangers. Rangers examinations were held in West Cliff, sixteen men attended, and in Saguache, west of Marshall Pass, where there were twenty-one men to take the examination. John Hatton helped with that work. The next year I held ranger examination(s) at Salida, and twenty-eight men attended there. Mike Guerin, the Postmaster, helped me; also Joe Cuenin who was already a forest ranger at Bonanza.

In 1905 several men were appointed as forest guards: John Cline and Eugene Williams in Saguache and Conchetopa district(s), Joe Cuenin at Bonanza, Frank Bowers and Les Alexander from Greenwood and Wetmore, Lew Swallow at Salida, Charley Miller at Poncha, and Marshall Pass, George Cress, and Oscar Melfresh at West Cliff, and Tibo Gallegos and Carl Stahl at Cochetopa. Carl was at Creede, and Tibo on Carnero and Saguache districts. Walter Morrill was the first trained forester to work Cochetopa Reserve. He came out from Maine in 1905 and worked with me.

Married in 1904 and had a better cabin to live in on the homestead. Mr. Ashley gave Blanche some good red Shorthorn cows and I had fifty or more cattle at the time. Pastured them in the Baca Grant, and they did very well there. Had a hard long winter in 1904-5 but did not have to put many of our cattle on hay. The cost of feed was thirty cents (a) month on pasture, and $1.50 (a) month if they had to be put on hay.

Ralph and Blanche were buried in the Rito Alto Cemetery in Saguache County northeast of Moffat.

Will married Lydia Elizabeth Wales[5], daughter of Harrison Grey Otis Wales and Elizabeth Snell, 4 Aug 1876, in Saguache Co., CO[6]. Born, 1858, in Knox Co., IL, near Altona. Died, 7 Nov 1915, in Arapahoe Co., CO. Burial: 11 Nov 1915, in Littleton Cem., Littleton, Arapahoe Co., CO.

William Heistand Shellabarger was the third son of Martin and Elizabeth Sheller Shellabarger. He was born in March of 1849 in Mad River Township, Clark County, Ohio. He came to Jefferson County, Colorado, before the 1875 census, at which time he and his wife, Lydia Elizabeth Wales, were listed with the family of his brother, George. Will and his brother, Adam, married sisters, the daughters of Harrison Grey Otis and Elizabeth Snell Wales. Harrison Wales was a rancher in the San Luis Valley where Adam Shellabarger settled.

William H. Shellabarger's name appeared in Jefferson County, Colorado, land records, where he was engaged in farming in the South Platte River Valley near Plum Creek:

October 27, 1876	William purchased land in sections 1, 2, 11, 12 of T6S, R69, from Benjamin H. Brainard

William Shellabarger's name appeared repeatedly in the Jefferson County, Colorado, road petitions:

At the time of the 1900 census Will and Lydia had living with them a nephew. William, born November, 1878, in Ohio. Although he was listed as a Shellabarger, this must have been Will's sister's child, James William Fulton, who was born November 21, 1878.

They were taking a short cut across the vacant lots leading to the crossing. Mrs. Katherine Broemmel and Miss Mary Broemmel were also killed in this accident. An account of this tragedy appeared in the June 29, 1972, issue of the LITTLETON INDEPENDENT as a reprint of a 1915 issue.

William Shellabarger's estate was administered by Ralph W. Shellabarger and Charles W. Shellabarger, sons of Will's brother, Adam. Since the Shellabargers had no children, the estate went to the heirs of his wife as she died at 4:00, and Will died instantly. Her heirs were:

The boys felt protected in a crowd and paid little attention to him. After the election they stood around and talked about one half hour. Then Charlie and Cliff went together to their horses. Charlie was stooping over wrapping up some books to place on his saddle, Oldham came up behind him and shot him through the leg. Charlie ran and shouted "run, run". MARTIN SHELLABARGER

HIS ANTECEDENTS

Area of Canton Zürich from which the Schellenberg, Bär, and related families emigrated.

Chapter VII

SWISS ORIGINS OF THE SHELLABARGER FAMILY

Many descendants of the Martin H. Shellabarger who died in 1807 are in possession of ancestral charts or genealogies based on research of Mrs. Madge Hale McKellar, published in 1946, Shellabarger Family, and that of Edward Lawver Burchard, published in 1939. which purportedly traced their Swiss ancestry to Rudolph, a Landaman or chief in the canton of Uri in 1307, to his brother, Heinrich, said to have been killed in the Battle of Morgarten, and to Ulrich Schellenberg.

Mrs. Anne S. Abbott of Indiana has done extensive, scholarly research of the ancestry of Martin H. Shellabarger and has generously donated it for this volume. I quote below, with her permission, portions of her research previously written for her immediate family.

...Henry, or Heinrich von Schellenberg, supposedly was killed while scouting to discover the pass through which the Austrians would approach during the Battle of Morgarten. If this were true his name would definitely have been recorded in the "Jahr-zeitbuch" (Time Year Book). but he is not to be found. One Heinrich von Schellenberg did fight with the Swabish countrymen on the Austrian side, but these Schellenbergs came from Bavaria, spread to Oberschwaben and settled near the Oberrhein. They became, in 1637, the royal family Lichtenstein, but died out in 1708.[1]

Mrs. McKellar reports that Major M. C. Shallenberger, grandson of Martin of Toulon, Illinois, was in Switzerland in 1924. He was able to see a copy of the Council-umbuch in a store in Lucerne. Pictured in this book was the shield of Heinrich Schellenberger, Aide-de-camp to Hans Van Halwyn. Both men were said to have been present at the famous Council of Constance, held in 1480. Heinrich Von Schellenberger is No. 213 on the list and Hans Von Holwyl about No. 150. He copied the shield of Heinrich Schellenberger shown in the book, and with it the name Herr Conrad Tulzer Margaret (sic) Heinrich Von Schallenberger. He also visited the nearby Schellenberger hill just behind the village of Selisberg on Lake Lucerne.[2]

In the 1951 communication from the Staatsarchiv Zürich it is stated that Conrad Tulzer Marquardt Heinrich von Schellenberg could not be found, but that this was probably a combination of several individuals. "Tulzer" or Toelzer" was the added name given to the Schellenberg from the "Oberrhein". Marquardt and Heinrich von Schellenberg were indeed present, as was Hans von Lupfen a Gebhard von Schellenberg who accompanied Duke Wilhelm of Bavaria. Farquardt was an escort of Count Bug von Montford, accompanied by Mark von Schellenberg. Furthermore, "the Council of Konstanz was deliberated from 1414 to 1418 and not about 1480 or 1527" These Schellenberg men were obviously of the Bavarian line which eventually died out as noted above.

Henry's descendant, Ulrich, was also reputed to have been a Landaman, and to have led the men of Uri against Charles the Bold of Burgundy in the Battle of Grandson, 3 March 1476. What a wonderful story, but Swiss records show that Walther in der Grass headed the Canton during the Burgundy Wars.[3]

In Switzerland there are two family lines from which the Shellabarger and Shallenberger names were derived. One of these is the Schallenberg family who emigrated from the Emmental in the Canton of Bern. Most of this family were Mennonite in religion, and some became Anabaptists or Taufer, the extremists who were persecuted and often tortured for their refusal to baptize infants. The names of Ulrich and Hans Jergle, the first Schallenberg emigrants, are still listed in the 1731 Kraichgauer Taufer list. They left the town of Eidersleistung 30 September 1727 with emigrants from the Kraichgau, a part of the German countryside near Heidelberg.[4]

This is the family line from which Martin Shallenberger (1825-1904) of Toulon, IL is descended. Responding to a request from Samuel Shellabarger (1817-1896) for information about the Shellabarger family, Martin wrote a lengthy letter, dated 15 Sep 1871 which has often been quoted as a source for the history of the Shellabarger/Shallenberger families. Herein, I believe, lies the beginning of much confusion. In the letter he gives the history of the Schallenberger family, stating that they originally came from the canton of Uri, and took their name from a small mountain of that name.[5] "The chief proprietor or dweller on this mountain was called the Schallenberger according to Swiss idiom." He goes on to cite the many military achievements (as noted above) accomplished by this family in the fight for Swiss liberty. Martin told Samuel that his grandfather, Martin Shellabarger (1747-1807), came to America about 1770[6]. Martin also notes that Samuel is using the spelling adopted by his grandfather, and remarks that he himself "like(s) the old way best (as) it preserves the meaning, "The Echoing Mountain" Finally, Martin establishes that their mutual common ancestor was Abraham Shallenberger (ca 1633-1712).

Another letter, dated October 1889, by the same Samuel Shellabarger was written to his son. This contains a statement by his mother, Bethany McCurdy, taken on the 14th of May, 1865. Her information came from her husband, Samuel (1787-1850), who had made personal investigations in Switzerland. This letter correctly gives the ancestry of the writer beginning with Martin, his grandfather. However, Samuel had the two letters printed together to preserve the family history for his family, and, unfortunately, because of this and Martin's error in thinking both he and Samuel were descended from Abraham, later family researchers have incorrectly combined the two family histories.

The other family, the one from which most of the Shellabargers in America trace their descent, is that of the Schellenbergs (spelled with an "e" instead of an "a") from the Canton of Zürich. In the letter to Anna Schellenberg, in 1951, it was said that Schellenbergs with this spelling appeared for the first time in the 15th century in Pfaffikon and Russikon. From there they spread to other neighboring areas (Seegraben, Wetzikon, Veisslingen, Wangen and to some communities of the Unterland: Nuernsdorf, Kloten, Winkel, Neerach, Hoeri, Basserdorf, and Schleinikon) The only place outside of Zürich where old established Schellenbergs can be found is in Matzingen[7]. At present there seems to be general agreement that it is "extremely improbable"[8] that this family came from Uri.[9]

[5]This mountain is not located in the canton of Uri, but lies southeast of Bern and nearly due north of Interlaken in the Emmental. There is also another small mountain in the northern part of Liechtenstein.

[6]Actually, as will be shown later, Martin was born in Pennsylavania after his parents, Hans Martin Schellenberg and Verena Benz immigrated in 1735.

[8]Letter from H. U. Pfister

Told to Ann Abbott by Hans Schulthess, researcher in Wallisellen, Canton Zürich, Switzerland. Letter from Dr. Walter Schellenberg, Zurich, to Martin Schallenberger, Lombard, Illinois, 2 September 1988

[9]Ann Abbott examined the Mormon films, beginning with the sixteenth century, listing all the families and family members of Uri: Planzer-Schuler, Microfilm #1196956, and Schuler-Walker, Microfilm #1196957, and found no Schellenbergs

Further research by Hans Schulthess of Wallisellen, Zürich, and consultation by him with Dr. Walter Schellenberg, another genealogist in Zürich, verified that there was "no demonstrable connection" between Dr. Schellenberg's family, the Schellenbergs of Pfaffikon and the Schellenbergs of Kloten/Oberruti/Wallisellen.

Herr Schulthess was able to obtain a copy of a document that is now to be found in the archives of the civil parish Winkel-Ruti near Bulach in the Canton of Zürich. It is written in early Swiss-German, on parchment, and measures seventy by thirty centimeters. Herr Schulthess sent a reduced copy along with a transcription and the information that translating it would not be easy since the language of today is very different from the language of 1576. Through the Mennonite Historical Society in Lancaster, PA, I contacted Noah G. Good. He is familiar with the old language, and was able to translate it for me. The document concerns the transfer of the rental property at Oberruti (Upper Ruti) from the Altorfer family to the Shellenbergers of Egetswil in 1576. Jacob Schellenberg, the head of the clan, bore the responsibility for the Schellenberg family, and represented them in the transaction. His brothers, Uli (Ulrich) and Heini (Heinrich), are also named as "residents of Eggentschwyl, residents in the before mentioned earldom of Kyberg".

This is the earliest evidence we have of this family. It shows us that they had been living in Egetswil in the parish of Kloten, and then went to Oberuti in the parish of Bulach, a short distance to the northwest. both villages located north of the city of Zürich, in the canton of Zürich. Baptisms and marriages were first listed in the Book of Bulach in 1596, with recorded deaths beginning in 1644. Although we have the document showing us where this family came from, we are only able to know that Jakob Schellenberg, or one of his brothers, was the father of Heinrich Schellenberg.

As stated above the ancestors of Martin Shellabarger came from the canton, state, of Zürich. Zürich lies in the German speaking area of Switzerland. The original inhabitants of the area during the Neolithic Period were lake dwellers, of a Celtic tribe. In 58 B.C. Zürich was conquered by Romans, and subsequently settled by 500 A.D. by a Germanic tribe known as the Alemanni from the province of Brandenburg east of the Elbe River in northern Germany. It came under the control of the Franks in the sixth century and in 1218 became a free city which joined the Swiss Confederation in 1351. The Swiss reformation was led by Ulrich Zwingli in Zürich. He ordered the keeping of parish records in 1525 as a means of controlling the Anabaptists who refused to marry or baptize their children in the Protestant church.

The earliest records available in Switzerland are: citizenship records (11th century); notarial, court, and land records (13th century); emigration and donations for masses for the dead (14th century); city genealogical, tithing books, university records, and tithing books (15th century); and parish, guild, and Protestant refugee records (16th century).

It is from the land records that the following document effecting transfer of the rental property at Oberruti from the Altorfers to the Shellenbergs of Egetwill in 1576 that we have our first knowledge of the ancestors of Martin Shellabarger. The translation made by Noah G. Good of the document transcribed by Hans Schulthess and provided to us by Anne Abbott is as follows:

We, whose names are given hereafter, Mathys Schwartzenbach, Seckelmeister (treasurer or custodian), and also Niclaus Kochli, Hans Ziegler (Silherr, the word could be part of his name, but I take it to be the name of an office he held in the city council, I do not recognize it.), and Heinrich Trub, all four of them members of the city council of Zurich, who confess publicly and make known particularly by this letter (or document): After Jacob Altorfer and his brothers of Ruthi in the region of Clotten (Kloten on the map) situated in the earldom of Kyberg and that (unfortunately) did not live in it (The words nit das gehusct should probably be nit das gehuset) since they no longer desired to remain in the house and home but they became landowners, so that the responsibility for operating and handling if for the sake of the limited financial income for the honorable, firm, pious, forsightful and wise Gentleman Mayor and Council of the city of Zürich our most gracious lords, so that the oversight and management was no longer profitable, therefore this particular Altorfer estate and property might be put to better use it might better be sold and reassigned; and remembering this our gracious lords made known, and decided in council with full authority and power, what we (the four named at the beginning, that is Mathys Schwartzenbach, Niclaus Kochli, Hans Ziegler, and Heinrich Trub) herein are undertaking and carrying out, so that it may be clearly understood by everybody: There appeared before us on his own behalf this Jacob Schellenberg and his brothers Uli and Heini, his brothers, all residents of Eggentschwyl, residents in the before mentioned earldom of Kyberg requesting us to make over to them (to him and his brothers) the said estate with houses, barns, acreage, fields, vineyards, woodland and fields, as well as pasture and meadow, and stating how that this is bounded in hedge and within Ruthi, and how that the aforementioned Altorfer to this time did not make use of, claim or occupy and a specified sum of money to be paid on a set date and day. Therefore when we in the presence of the honorable Heini Altorfer, sergeant of Ruthi, Ulrich Keller, innkeeper of Clotte, Jacoben Peyger of Bruttisellen and Maurittzen Wisman of Opfiken, all as persons with interest in the property as designated wardens made over the property with all its contents and what belonged to it for the sum of six thousand two hundred pounds of good money of the mint of Zürich without limits and entire, to own it in full and unencumbered, and then in addition there is to be given annually seventeen measures of rye, three malters of oats, standard Zürich measure, four roosters in autumn and two at Fastnacht, one hundred eggs to Felix Leeman at Hirsland, as well as ten Pounds of money to the Lords Wolfgang Haller, citizens and administrators of the church support funds at the grossmunster (the great Cathedral of Munster), and ten Pounds to Anna Fryg in Zürich, five Pounds to the poor fund of this community, six Pounds to the Lord Rudolf Funck, chaplain at the Frouwenmunster of Zürich (Frouwenmunster - the women's cathedral), and eight hundred Pounds of the property toward the Waltzhutt so that in the course of three years it can be paid off, all of the above without the said ground interest for the main property comes to one thousand four hundred twenty Pounds, which said sum carries an obligation of purchase tax, and after the deduction of this the said Jacob Schellenberg will remain owing together with his brothers the sum of four thousand seven hundred eighty Pounds of the above named coinage (Züricher pounds) for which he obligates himself and in the name of the city, which he has pledged to pay on Saint Martin's Day (November 11) for the running current (seventy-six) year the sum of six hundred Pounds, and on the Mass of Lights in the next year (seventy-seven) five hundred Pounds, and then each time three hundred Pounds till the said four thousand seven hundred eighty Pounds is all paid, all of it in Züricher Pounds, but all of it without interest, all of this to be turned over, paid to the said Altorfer creditors in the amounts indicated and what is right so that when it is due each receives what comes to him so that they shall have their income without cost or reduction.

And since the said Jacob Schellenberg pledged for himself and his brothers and his successors with agreement, pledge and promise we have therefore awarded to him, his brothers the said estate, with contents, what belongs to it, just as the Altorfers owned it to this time, we have given it over to him that he and his brothers shall own, possess, use and enjoy, and do business with it, control it and allow others to do with it as with their own property (but the above mentioned ground and sum of money entirely without penalty) from the Altorfer creditors and shall own it entirely and unhindered whether this be the warden of the said Altorfer creditors. All in all this implies all ownership, full right and responsibility that these had up to this time on this estate, that this may not be overthrown with or without legal power.

And since all of this is done in the presence of representatives of the Altorfers and the warden, also the purchaser is representing his brothers, therefore we four as hereinbefore assigned and authorized we do appeal on behalf of said Jacob Schellenberg that when need occurs to be ready to be compassionate, and to all of this we have affixed our signatures (but entirely without damage or harm to our heirs, the wardens and their heirs) to this document, which is being given (or issued) on the eighteenth of Wolfmonats (Wolf month), in the year of Christ our dear Lord's birth fifteen hundred seventy-six.

The Swiss ancestry of the Schellenberg family and related families has been found in church records. In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries in Switzerland double given names became common. When reading names note that usually the person was known not by his first name but by his second. Therefore, Hans Martin Schellenberg the first emigrant in our family line from Switzerland was known as Martin; however in America his son, Martin H. (Hans ?), was known as Martin.

The Schellenberg and Bär families settled in Manheim Township of Lancaster County in Penn's Colony shortly after arrival in Philadelphia. Manheim Township was one of the first townships of Lancaster County having been established in 1729. Manheim was near the city of Lancaster and intensely cultivated. The terrain was laced with a number of small streams suitable for milling. Both the Bär and Shellenberg families were millers from the earliest generations. One family branch, that of Isaac Shellabarger, son of Martin H. Shellabarger, continued in the milling business. By 1900 David Sterrett Shellabarger of Decatur, Illinois, was owner of the largest corn flour mill in the world.

We will continue with the father of Martin Shellabarger, 1819-1896, Ephraim Shellabarger, and trace his ancestry to the earliest known Schellenberg family in Switzerland.

First Generation

1. Ephraim[1] Shellabarger (Martin H.[2], Hans Martin[3], Jakob[4], Hans Heinrich[5], Gregorius[6], Hans Heinrich[7]). Born, 26 Dec 1784, in Washington Twp., Northumberland Co., PA[1]. Died, 2 Apr 1842, in Enon, Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[2]. Buried: Apr 1820, in Enon Cem., Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH. Census: 1820, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 12[2]. Census: 1830, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 82. Census: 1840, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 75. Occupation: farmer.

Ephraim married Rebecca Winget, daughter of Reuben and Elizabeth "Betsy" Winget, 5 Jan 1815, in Greene Co., OH[3]. Born, 31 Aug 1797, in Hamilton Co., OH, near Cincinnati[4]. Died, 11 Dec 1872, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[5]. Buried: Dec 1872, in Enon Cemetery, Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[2]. Census: Sep 1870, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 142[6]. Rebecca Winget's ancestry is discussed in detail in Chapter IX, The Winget Family.

Ephraim Shellabarger was the fifth son of Martin and Anna Bear Shellabarger. He was probably born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, as his parents sold their Lancaster County property in August of 1784. Ephraim and his brothers assisted their father with a milling business and distillery. During the winters the sons cut timber which was delivered in the spring by raft to a sawmill downstream on the Susquehanna River.

After the death of both parents, Ephraim and four of his brothers, Jacob, Samuel, John, and Martin, traveled by wagon and arrived in 1811 at the wild and timbered area of Mad River Township, Greene County, Ohio, as recorded in The History of Clark County, Ohio by W. H. Beers, page 1046.

Ephraim's marriage to Rebecca, daughter of Reuben and Elizabeth Winget, was performed on January 5, 1815, Elias Vickers, E.C.C., officiating. Their marriage was blessed with three sons: Reuben, Martin, and David Ephraim, and three daughters: Margaret W., Elizabeth, and Anna. His children were schooled in a log schoolhouse with slab benches. The Shellabargers were members of the Mud Run Presbyterian Church.

Ephraim farmed in Mad River Township which became part of Clark County when it was formed in 1819 from Greene County. He built for his family a weather-boarded log house. Ephraim appeared in the 1818 tax records of Greene County as owner of one hundred acres in NE S6, T3, R8, and 158½ acres in SW S36, T4, R8. The following is a list of land transactions in which he was involved:

Ephraim died intestate on April 2, 1842. He and Rebecca were buried in the Mud Run Cemetery, her death from dyspepsia occurring on December 11, 1872. Rebecca was aged seventy-five years three months, and eleven days according to the Clark County, Ohio, death record #14. A large monument was erected in the Enon Cemetery. Mud Run Cemetery is located one mile east of the Enon-Xenia Road, south of Enon at the intersection of Hunter and Fairfield Roads. The following account of Ephraim's wife, Rebecca, was found in The Wingate-Winget Family in America by Esther Mae Winget Warner: "a great granddaughter of Rebecca Winget states that she remembers quite distinctly, the dear beautiful little old lady of queenly airs and gentle manners who used to visit her home when she was a child".

Melyn Baker, father-in-law of Ephraim's son, Reuben, was the administrator of Ephraim's estate. On March 13, 1844, Melyn Baker filed in the office of the Court of Common Pleas in Springfield an account of the estate for $447.70. Settlement papers were recorded in Clark County Court at the June session of 1848. Three payments of $51.91, $21.40 and $16.00 were made to Ephraim's son, Martin.

2. Martin H.[2] Shellabarger (Hans Martin[3], Jakob[4], Hans Heinrich[5], Gregorius[6], Hans Heinrich[7]). Born, 1747, in Manheim, Lancaster Co., PA. Died, Dec 1807, in Washington Twp., Northumberland Co., PA[22]. Census: 1790, in Northumberland Co., PA, north of Juniata River[23]. Census: 1800, in Washington Twp., Northumberland, PA; p. 870. Occupation: miller; distiller. Martin H. married first, Anna Bear, daughter of Isaac and Anna (Snyder) Bear(3), circa 1773, in Manheim Twp., Lancaster Co., PA.

3. Anna[2] Bear[44]. Born, circa 1754, in Manheim Twp., Lancaster Co., PA. Died, before 1807, in Washington Twp., Northumberland Co., PA[45]. See Chapter VIII, The Bear Family, for further information on Anna Bear's ancestry.

Martin H. Shellabarger was the son of Hans Martin Schellenberg who emigrated from Switzerland to the British colonies in America with his wife, Freny, in the year 1735. His parents were residents of Manheim Township in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. When Martin was about thirteen years old, his father died leaving his mother, himself, and seven sisters. Martin and his sisters inherited a tract of land called, Shallebergh, in Manheim Township containing ninety-two acres. As early as 1779 Martin and Johann Snyder were operating a distillery on the property, and Martin was taxed that year on the same ninety-two acres. On the fourteenth of March, 1782, Martin's sisters leased their shares to Martin. The deed to the property was recorded in Lancaster County on August 25, 1884, and on the 30th of August, the property was sold to John Song for seven hundred pounds. Martin's wife, Anna, affixed her mark to the deed.

After this sale Martin and Anna took up residence in Washington Township, Northumberland County. This property was located on Black Run on the south side of the west branch of the Susquehanna River, an area in present Clinton Township, Lycoming County. In 1786 Martin paid federal tax on three hundred acres. The following year tax was paid on six hundred acres, two horses, and two cattle. The History of Lycoming County, Pennsylvania by Colonel Thomas W. Lloyd tells us that Black Hole Valley was an area of great fertility and extreme beauty. In 1787 the valley experienced a very severe winter and the inhabitants were able to survive partly by a catch of 2,500 shad, two to eight pounds each, procured at the mouth of Black Hole Creek. By the time of the 1790 census Martin's household had six males under sixteen and a total of three females in addition to Martin himself. The census taker placed the family north of the Juniata River in Northumberland County where Martin operated a sawmill. Another female child had been added to the family by the time of the 1800 census.

Deeds recorded in Northumberland County were as follows:

November 12, 1783	Michael Dissendorfer to Martin Shellabarger, of Manheim Township for 300 pounds, a land patent called Leahashiem (?), situated on Black Run, south of the west branch of the Susquehanna River, in Washington Township, Northumberland County, containing 334 acres; recorded in Deed Book B, p.467.
February 5, 1789	Martin purchased two parcels of 99 acres and 88 perches, and 10 acres and 85 perches for 25 pounds from John Musser; recorded June 2, 1796, Deed Book H, pp. 527-530
March 10, 1791	An indenture was made by Reuben Haines to Martin Shellabarger for 35 pounds. It was for 70 acres, part of a 252 acre tract called Manfield near John McCurdy and Ann Harris on Black Run; recorded in Deed Book H, pp. 527-530, June 2, 1796
May 19, 1792	Reuben Haines, brewer of Philadelphia, sold 334 acres for 130 pounds to Martin Shellabarger
December 8, 1803	Samuel Oaks sold 1 acre and 35 perches by the mill dam for 3.pounds; recorded June 21, 1813, in Deed Book S, p. 177

Martin was found in Pennsylvania records with several spelling variations in his name. Martin Shalemberger's name appeared on a list of the non-associators in Manheim Township in 1777 as did that of Isaac Bear. On December 5, 1778, Martin Schaleberger of Manheim Township took an oath of Affirmation of Allegiance and Fidelity to the state of Pennsylvania. Martin Shallenberger served in the Revolutionary War in 1782 under Captain Martin Weybright in the 8th Battalion of the Lancaster County Militia, Seventh Class, as recorded in the Pennsylvania Archives, Series 5, Vol. 7, pages 859-865. In 1783 M. H. *Shelleberg*e was a hired substitute, 7th class. This was recorded in the Pennsylvania Archives, Series 5, Vol. 7, page 842. Other military service of Martin Shalleberger under Captain Seth McCormick as a lieutenant in the 3rd Battalion, 5th Company, of the Northumberland County Militia was recorded on October 21, 1792, in the Pennsylvania Archives, Series 6, Vol. 4, pages 82 and 83. The 1790 census listed him as Martin Sheleberger and in the 1800 census as Martin Shiliberger.

Martin's first wife was Anna Bear, daughter of Isaac Bear. She was born about 1754 in Manheim Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and was the mother of all Martin's children. The fathers of Martin and Anna were both millers in Manheim Township. Martin's second wife was Agnes Adams, the widow of Thomas McCurdy. It is certain that Martin's second marriage occurred between March 8, 1804, when letters of administration were granted to Agnes McCurdy after her husband's death, and March 5, 1807, when Agnes Shilabarger and John McCurdy presented an account to the court. Agnes' signature was affixed to that document. Martin had apparently separated from Agnes by December of 1807 as an agreement was made for her separate maintenance. Martin stated in his will, dated the fifth of December, 1807, in Northumberland County, that his agreement with Agnes was to be honored. A transcription of the will with original spelling and capitalization, but paragraphing added, is as follows:

Died, 10 Jul 1783, in Manheim Twp., Lancaster Co., PA. Immigration: 29 May 1735, Passenger on ship, Mercury, from Rotterdam.[49]

Hans Martin Schellenberg was the son of Jacob and Susanna Weber Schellenberg. Hans Martin was born October 29, 1706, in Wallisellen, Canton Zürich, Switzerland, and was christened on the 29th of November. On January 19, 1734, he married Verena Benz, daughter of Heinrich and Anna Gertrude Hintermeister Benz. Verena was at that time a resident of Rieden, but the marriage took place in Wallisellen. They had seven daughters and one son, Martin.

We are indeed fortunate to have a fascinating account of this young couple's journey to the new world which can be found in A History of the Goshenhoppen Reformed Charge, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, by the Reverend William John Hinke, D.D., published in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, in 1920 by the Pennsylvania-German Society. A summary of this account is as follows:

On the fourth of October in 1734, Hans Martin, his sister, Ursula, his bride of nine months, Freny, and a group of country people, old and young, left Zürich, Switzerland, in company with Mr. Maurice Goetschy, a minister who had been deposed for immorality unbeknownst to his charges or his family. The group was to be escorted by Goetschy to Carolina. Two boats of silly people departed with a total of one hundred seventy-four persons. A crowd of thousands gathered to say farewell and supplied the travelers with provisions such as caps, shawls, stockings, bread, and flour. The following day a third boat with eighty-two passengers joined the expedition. Twenty persons were dissuaded from making this journey by wise gentlemen and citizens.

The journey down the Rhine River to Rotterdam was very dangerous due to warring factions of the French and Austrian armies located on either side of the river as well as exposure to cold, rain, and wind. At night the passengers encamped on islands in the Rhine. Conditions on the ships were so crowded that there was scarcely room to sit, much less to lie down. It required a total of three hundred hours to complete this miserable journey. When at last the group reached Rotterdam, the ship which was to take them to America did not await them. Their belongings were dumped on the river bank, and their leader departed for The Hague. Some of the party became sick from want and hunger, but eventually the travelers were aided by the Dutch people who provided them with food, clothing, and shelter.

In the meantime Mr. Goetschy was negotiating for a position as superintendent of the churches of Pennsylvania with Dutch authorities. Before news from Zürich could reach Holland concerning his shady past, Mr. Goetschy returned to the emigrant party he had left in Holland, acquainted them with the change in their destination from Carolina to Pennsylvania, and departed with one hundred forty-three persons. Eighty-eight others who wanted no more association with this gentlemen, departed for England instead. Among the emigrants in Goetschy's Colony traveling on the ship, Mercury, were Martin Schellenberg of Wallisellen, his wife, and sister, Ursula. Other families from Wallisellen were: Merck, Lienhardt, Wüst, Aberli, Keller, and Näff.

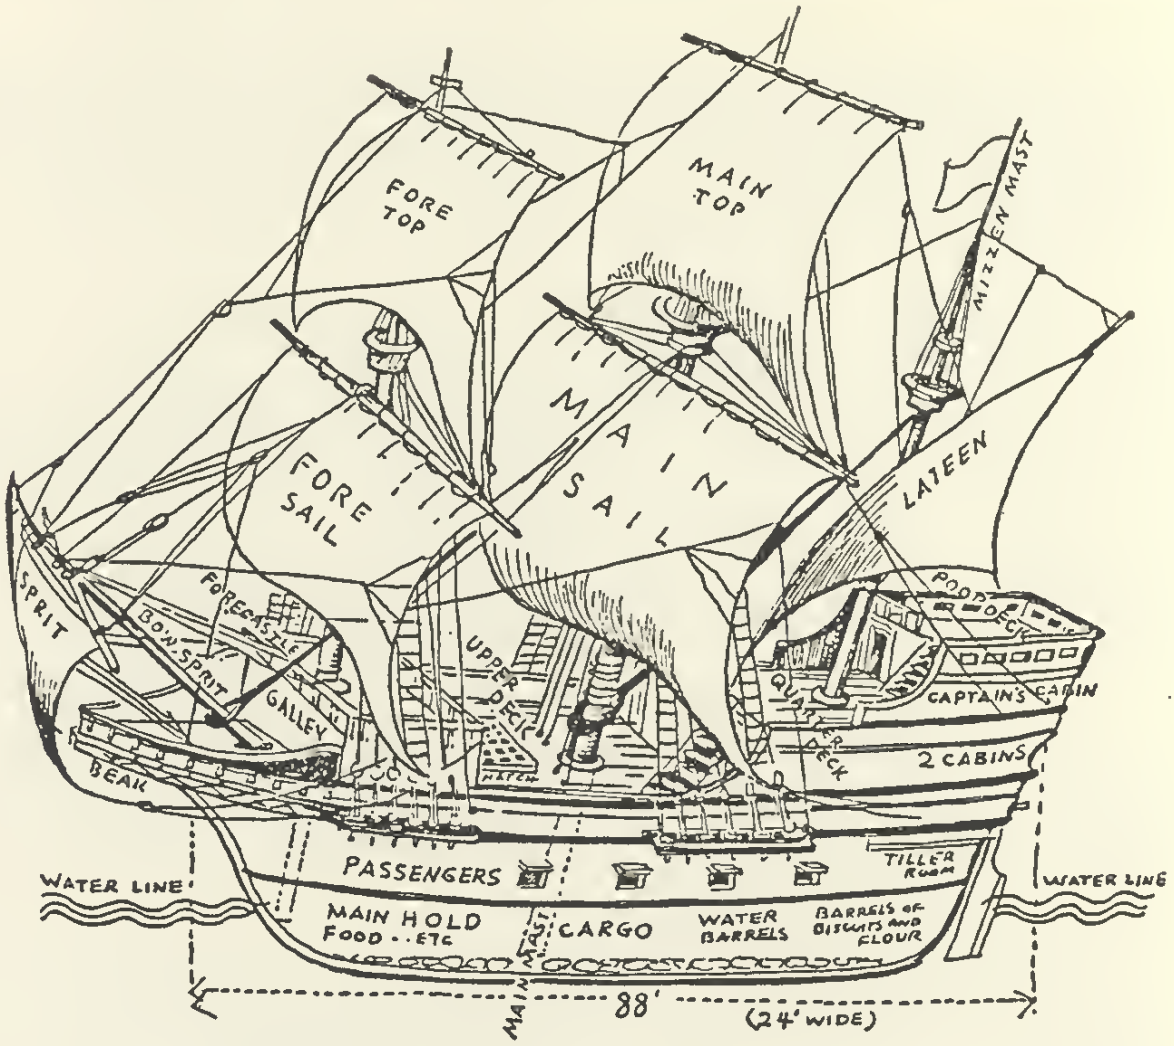
The ship first reached the Isle of Wight where provisions were obtained for the crossing. A terrible storm was encountered the second day from shore. For twelve weeks the party was subjected to the misery of storms, disease, water full of worms, poor food, and the cruelty of Captain William Wilson who had no compassion for the suffering of his passengers. The party reached Philadelphia on May 29, 1735. As for the Rev. Goetschy, he died as a result of the journey almost immediately upon being taken ashore.



The long journey from Rotterdam to Philadelphia was made in a ship similar to this.

Hans Martin and his wife, Freny, did not remain with the Goshenhoppen group. They became members of the First Reformed Church in Lancaster, which built a fine structure in 1753 that was taken down in 1852. In this church their daughters Veronica, Ursula, Magdalena, and Regina were married. Martin and Freny made their first known home was in Manheim Township, Lancaster County, where they applied for a warrant, #579, on April 22, 1749, for one hundred acres titled, Schallenbergh. The property was surveyed on April 19, 1750, and contained ninety-two acres as recorded in Survey Book A37, page 195. Martin Shalebarger's name appeared on a 1751 tax list in Manheim Township, Lancaster County, where he was a miller. Martin died intestate, and Freny was named administrator of his estate on March 27, 1760. After the death of Hans Martin a patent was given to his son, Martin Shalliberger, on August 25, 1784.

Chapter VIII

THE BEAR FAMILY

Like the Schellenberg family the Bär family was from Canton Zürich in Switzerland. The earliest known Bär, Hans, was a resident of Albis in the parish of Hausen. Albis included three farms or Hofs, known collectively as Bruder Albis and individually as: Unter Albis, Mittel Albis, and Ober Albis, each having a group of farmhouses. They were situated on a road going from Hausen to the top of Ratlisberg Mountain and located about nine miles southwest of Zürich and five miles from Lake Zug. The parish records of the church at Hausen which began in 1577 have provided the records of the births, deaths, and marriages of five generations of the Bär family. Another source of information concerning the children and grandchildren of Hans Bär was the will of his youngest son, Hans Jakob Bär, who died in 1668, childless. The Bär genealogy was researched by H. Schulthess, translated by Noah G. Good, and carefully recorded and documented in a series of articles written by Jane Evans Best. The Lancaster Mennonite Historical Society published these in the Pennsylvania Mennonite Heritage. Mrs. Best has cautioned of the possibility of errors in this genealogy. Based on the will of Isaac Bär, a change was made in generations one and two.

Many, but not all, of the Bär family were Anabaptist including our first known Bär ancestor, Hans Bär. This sect, also known as Christian Brethren, represented the left wing of the reformation. They were believers in adult baptism and were therefore baptized twice, an illegal practice in the early days of the movement. Most Anabaptists were also pacificists and refused to swear oaths. The movement had its beginnings in the canton of Zürich in 1525 under Conrad Grebel, an associate of Zwingli who was the first Swiss Protestant. Both traditional Roman Catholics and Protestants found these groups to be beligerent, and as a result members were often imprisoned, tortured, and until 1614 could be put to death for their beliefs. Anabaptists and Mennonites were denied citizenship in Switzerland until 1874.

In 1635 Heinrich Frick, standard bearer for the Swiss army, joined the Anabaptist movement and became a pacifist. Just two years earlier a Swedish army under General Horn had entered Swiss territory at Stein am Rhein and Swiss officials feared that other members of the army might follow the example of Officer Frick. This became the cause of renewed Anabaptist persecution. A granddaughter of our first known Bär ancestor, Hans Bär, was Anna Bär, daughter of Osli Bär. Anna was the second wife of Martin Meyli whom she converted to her Anabaptist faith. In 1638 Anna Bär Meyli was imprisoned in Zürich in the convent prison of Othernbach. At the time she was nursing an infant daughter, Verena. A quote from the Marytrs Mirror of the Defenseless Christians, by Theileman J. Van Braght was as follows:

> (She was) for a long time on bread and water, and very severely treated, in order to cause her to apostatize; but she continued steadfast in all her temptations, and was ultimately, through the grace of God, wonderfully delivered from bonds. Subsequently, being enceinte, she was again apprehended, and taken to the council house at Zürich, thence to Othenbach, and finally into the hospital, and there made fast to a chain, until the pains of travail came upon her, when she was loosed from her bonds, and seeing an opportunity for deliverance, once more escaped the persecutors' hands.

When the Bär family came to Pennsylvania, the name was anglicized and the umlaut was dropped. As spelling was not standardized in the day, the name was spelled in thirty-eight official ways, many times within the same document. Some of the more commonly seen were: Bear, Bair, Baer, Bare, Bär, Behr, Barr, Bere, Pear, and Pare. In German B and P are similar in pronunciation and thus were often interchanged when recorded by English speaking persons.

The Huber family became linked to the Bär family when Elsbeth Bär married Jacob Huber. The Huber family can be traced back one more generation to his father, Jacob Huber, and from there to a possible grandfather, Conrad Huber. This family was living in Schweikhof, Hausen Parish, as early as 1535.

We will now continue with the ancestry of Isaac Bär, father of Anna Bear who married Martin H. Shellabarger, of Manheim Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Anna's paternity was determined from her father's estate settlement. Her ancestry will be traced to Hans Bär, born circa 1545 in Hausen Parish, Canton Zürich.

First Generation

1. Isaac[1] Bär (Hans Jacob[2], Hans[3], Hans[4], Lorenz/Lenz[5], Hans[6])[1]. Born, circa 1720, in Conestogo Tract, Chester Co., PA. Died, 1774, in Manheim Twp., Lancaster Co., PA[2]. Occupation: miller.

Isaac married Barbara (Snyder)[1]. Born, 1718. Died, circa 1796. Buried, near the Shellabarger Mill, Canodoguinett Creek, Cumberland Co., PA.

Isaac Bear was born about 1720, probably on the Conestogo Tract in Pennsylvania where his father was a miller on Cocalico Creek. He was named for his grandfather, Isaac Fredericks. His parents, Hans Jacob Bear and Anna Barbara Frederick, had emigrated from Switzerland in 1719 with eight children, arriving in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on August 29, 1720. Isaac was their ninth child. Isaac and George Gayer became property owners in the area paying one hundred pounds for three acres on Cocalico Creek in Warwick Township which, judging from the price, must have included a mill or other valuable buildings. Isaac still owned one hundred acres in Warwick Township at the time of his death.

Isaac was married about 1739 to Barbara whose surname may have been Snyder. Isaac was known as the Wild Bear according to a genealogical journal written in 1877 by his great-great grandson, Albert Barnes Bea, 1843-1921.

On January 4, 1750, the three youngest children of Hans Jacob Bear, Isaac and Barbara Bare, Abraham and Frena Bare, and Michael and Madeline Sharer, sold a tract with an oyl mill, saw mill, and grist mill in Manheim Township of Lancaster County to Michael Myer for 1400 pounds. Isaac retained a seven acre portion of this tract, which had been conveyed to him by Jacob Bare, his elder brother. The sale also included another one hundred and thirty-seven acre tract, that of Isaac's brother, Jacob, surveyed May 28, 1743. Isaac and his brother, Samuel, were still residents and taxpapers of Oregon in Manheim Township in the years 1751 and 1756. A deed made on May 12, 1768, by Margaret and Samuel Bare, gunsmith, of Manheim Township, to Daniel Wister and Samuel Miles, gave a land description mentioning the lands of Isaac Bare near Myers Mill. Isaac's will dated January 24, 1774, left two hundred and nine acres including buildings and a mill in Manheim Township to his sons, Jacob and Isaac, jointly.

On June 11, 1759, Isaac was witness to a deed of Peter Wolf of Hanover, Lancaster County, to Jacob Meily of Bethel in Lancaster County. The land was located in Hanover Township and included a sawmill.

Isaac's will was proved April 12th of that year. Below is a transcription, of the will found in Miscellaneous Book, Lancaster County, 1782-1784, on page 141. The will can also be found in Book 1, page 64, Lancaster County. The original spelling and capitalization have been preserved:

Hans Jacob Bär was a servant on the Bocken Estate on Lake Zürich in 1709. He was an adherent to the Mennonite faith, an offshoot of the Anabaptists. In 1719 Hans Jacob Bär sold haus und hof in Dühren, Switzerland, and emigrated on the ship, Laurel, arriving in Philadelphia on August 29, 1720. He brought with him his wife and eight children. Their ninth and tenth children were born in Pennsylvania. In 1721 Hans Jacob appeared on a tax list in Conestogo, Chester County, and on May 21, 1726, he signed a road petition in Chester County. The road was laid out on August 23-26 with Jacob Bear serving as a supervisor from Peque. In 1729 this area of Chester County became part of the newly formed Lancaster County.

Six hundred acres were surveyed in Leacock Township on June 20, 1721, for Jacob Bear. On June 11, 1740, Jacob and his wife, Barbara, granted two hundred two acres in Leacock Township to John Leonberger, probable husband of their daugher, Barbara.

On April 7, 1735, Hans Jacob received a three hundred acre warrant, #46, recorded in Patent Book AA1, page 45, on a branch of Cocalico Creek in Cocalico Township, Lancaster County, where he built a mill. The land was surveyed on May 20, 1756, the acreage return being one hundred ninety-two acres and one hundred fifty perches, as recorded in Survey Book 88, page 117. The land description began at a marked white oak with a neighbor, Henry Carpenter. On December 9, 1752, a one hundred sixty-nine acre tract was sold to George Blazer Rener for twenty-nine pounds, eighteen shillings.

Hans Jacob died intestate before July 3, 1759, on which date his wife and Abraham Bare, were named estate administrators.

The children of Hans Jacob and Anna Barbara Frederick Bär were:

i. Anna[1] Bär[6]. Born, circa 1703, in Switzerland. Died, circa 1730, in Lancaster Co., PA. Immigration: 29 Aug 1720, at Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA[18]. Ana married Hans Groff.

ii. Samuel Bär[19]. Born, circa 1705, in Hausen Parish, Canton Zürich, Switzerland. Died, after the Revolution, in Manheim Twp., Lancaster Co., PA[20]. Immigration: 29 Aug 1720, at Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA[18]. Occupation: miller

Samuel was known as the Black Bear. He owned property in Manheim Township adjacent his brother, Isaac, and Myers Mill Dam. After his father's death he assumed ownership of the mill which he sold to Martin Myers in 1767.

iii. Veronica Bär[1]. Born, circa 1707, in Switzerland. Immigration: 29 Aug 1720, at Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA[18]. Veronica married Andrew Kauffman.

iv. Margaretha Bär[1]. Born, circa 1709, in Switzerland. Immigration: 29 Aug 1720, at Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA[18].

v. Barbara Bär[21]. Born, circa 1711, in Switzerland. Immigration: 29 Aug 1720, at Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA[18]. Barbara may have married John Leonberger, son of Hans and Elizabeth Lyonberger.

vi. Jacob Bär[4]. Born, circa 1713, in Switzerland. Immigration: 29 Aug 1720, at Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA[18]. Occupation: miller. Jacob married Barbara Schelman/Schuman[6].

Jacob Bare, Jr., known as the Shagged Bear, received warrant #271 on May 28, 1743, applying for 400 acres in Manheim Township. On January 12, 1748, he received a return of 213 acres recorded in Survey Book A84, page 131 and in Patent Book A14, page 145. This property was mortgaged by Jacob Bare and his wife, Barbara, on January 25, 1748, to Sebastian Graffe for eighty pounds and declared satisfied in January, 1750.

Jacob Bare received a second patent from John Penn, Thomas Penn, and Richard Penn on January 13, 1745/6, recorded in Patent Book A12, page 289. A survey was made on May 28, 1743, for Jacob Bare of a one hundred thirty-seven acre tract in Manheim Township, Lancaster County, and recorded in Book A84, page 150. On February 4, 1745/6, Jacob mortgaged this property containing a grist, oyl and saw mill to Sebastian Graffe for two hundred fifty pounds. Sebastian Graffe acknowledged the satisfaction of the mortgage to have been made by Isaac Bare on January 8, 1758. On April 23, 1748, Jacob and Barbara Bear of Manheim Township for one hundred fifty pounds gave Sebastian Graffe a mortgage on a gryst mill, oyl mill, saw mill, and one hundred thirty-seven acres. This mortgage was satisfied on January 8, 1750. The property was again mortgaged to Peter Forney for one hundred seventy-five pounds on February 8, 1745, by Jacob Bear, the younger, and satisfied on January 10, 1750. A very confusing group of transactions!

vii. Elisabeth Bär[1]. Born, circa 1715, in Switzerland. Immigration: 29 Aug 1720, at Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA[18]. Elizabeth married John Bender. Lizabeth Bender was named in the will of her brother, Isaac.

viii. Magdalena Bär[6]. Born, circa 1717, in Switzerland. Immigration: 29 Aug 1720, at Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA. She married, Michael Sharrer[6]. This family lived in Earl Twp., Lancaster Co., PA, where Michael's will was proved on April 17, 1787.

1 ix. Isaac Bär.

x. Abraham Bär. Born, circa 1720. Will proved: 10 Apr 1783, Manchester Twp., York Co., PA. Abraham married Fronica Good, daughter of Hans Good. Abraham was an administrator of his father's estate.

Third Generation

4. Hans[3] Bär (Hans[4], Lorenz/Lenz[5], Hans[6])[17]. Christened, 23 Jan 1647/8, in Hausen Parish, Canton Zürich, Switzerland. Died, 1 Jul 1715, in London Co. Tract, Chester Co., PA. Census: 1708, in Hausen Parish, Canton Zürich, Switzerland. Occupation: wagonmaker. Hans married first, Verenli Huber (5), 27 Aug 1673, in Hausen Parish, Canton Zürich, Switzerland[22].

5. Verenli[3] Huber (Jacob[4], Jacob[5], Conrad[6])[22]. Christened, 2 Jun 1644, in Schweickhof, Hausen Parish, Canton Zürich, Switzerland[26]. Buried, 20 Oct 1679, in Hausen Parish, Canton Zürich, Switzerland. Census: 1649, in Hausen Parish, Canton Zürich, Switzerland.

This is believed to be the Hans Pare who emigrated to Pennsylvania. He had a warrant, permission to survey, for four hundred acres in the London Company Tract in Chester County where he died on July 1, 1715. Subsequently his land was deeded to Hance Groff in 1718 and in 1722 transferred to Martin Bear. Hans Bär was an Anabaptist. He was the earliest known ancestor of Anna Bear, wife of Martin H. Shellabarger. Hans lived at Albis in the Hausen Parish as did two other Bär families. The second family was that of Heinrich Bär who had three children baptized in Hausen Parish: Oswald on July 19, 1578, Mary on February 10, 1581, and Frantz, February 14, 1582. The third Bär family was that of Felix who had a daughter, Anna, baptized June 26, 1582, a son, Jacob, baptized November 15, 1587, and a daughter, Elsbeth, baptized July 27, 1589. Oswald was a strong supporter of the Anabaptist sect, having kept the children of Hans Meyli, brother of Martin Meyli, and Barbara Bär Meyli when their parents were imprisoned in Zürich between May 3, 1639, and Good Friday, 1641. Oswald left the region of Hausen living in the Pfalz. In 1661 Oswald attended a meeting of Anabaptists at Steinsfurt with his wife, Elisabeth Lamprect. He was the father of the Anna Bär who in 1635 married Martin Meyli, an Anabaptist historian who wrote parts of the Martyrs' Mirror in 1658. The story of the Meyli's imprisonment can be found at the beginning of this chapter.

Chapter IX

THE WINGET FAMIILY

Warning! The portion of this chapter which connects the Winget and Goble families has been based upon some documentation and much circumstantial evidence. Therefore, the genealogical lines may be incorrect. I hesitantly include this data as a foundation for continued research in Pennsylvania and New Jersey which may provide more proof or entirely disprove these tentative conclusions.

Although indebted to the extensive work of Esther Mae Winget Warner, I must respectfully disagree with her conclusions about the father of Caleb Winget who died in 1817 in Washington County, Pennsylvania. The will of Obadiah Hedden would lead us to the conclusion that Reuben Winget who died in 1755 in Morris County, New Jersey, was Caleb's father.

This chapter deserves reading for its historical content touching upon the Revolution and early days of the settlers of New England. The stories contained herein make fascinating reading. Particularly to be recommended are the following: (2) Caleb Winget, (13) Daniel Goble, I, (15) Hatevil Nutter. (17) Joseph Hull and his daughter, Elizabeth Hull Heard, and (27) Comfort Starr.

Information about the family of Reuben Winget, father of Rebecca Winget Shellabarger, follows, tracing nine generations of her ancestry, including maternal lines, to the earliest decades of our country's settlement. A few families have been traced to their origins in England.

The ahnentafel chart on the following page will guide you through the nine generations of Rebecca Winget's ancestry.

First Generation

1. Reuben[1] Winget (Caleb[2], Reuben[3], Caleb[4], John[5])[1]. Born, 1765, in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ. Died, 1845, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH. Buried: 1845, in Clark Co., OH, near Enon, John Beard Farm. Census: 1790, in Menallen Twp., Fayette Co., PA; p. 109. Census: 1820, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 13. Census: 1830, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 82[2]. Occupation: farmer.

Reuben married[3] first, Mary[4].

He married[3] second Elizabeth "Betsy". Born, 1770[4]. Died, 1824, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[4].

Reuben married third, Mary, widow of Barnett Rynearson[3], 5 May 1825, in Ohio[3]. Born, circa 1774, in Pennsylvania[31]. Died, 15 Jan 1851, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[8]. Buried: Jan 1851, in Shellabarger Cemetery, Clark Co., OH[8]. Census: 1850, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 81.

Reuben Winget was the son of Caleb Winget. He was born in the vicinity of Morristown, Morris County, New Jersey, in 1765. In 1776 his father purchased a tract of land on Ten Mile Creek in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. In 1787 while a resident of Fayette County, formed in 1783 from Westmoreland County, Reuben was one of the eighty-three members of Dunlap's Creek Presbyterian Church.

Reuben served in the Revolutionary War with his father, Caleb. The records of service may be found in the Pennsylvania Archives, Series 3, Volume 23, pages 162 and 321, and in Series 5, Volume 4, pages 461 and 496. Reuben was a rifleman in the Washington County, Pennsylvania Militia, 5th Battalion, Company 3. From 1778 to 1783 he was a Ranger of the Frontier under Captain John Dean in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania.

Reuben's first tract of land in Fayette County, Pennsylvania, was 96 3/4 acres in Menallen Township, surveyed June 2, 1786. Reuben also owned an adjoining tract containing 274½ acres. The warrant to survey the latter was issued February 12, 1790, and the survey made June 24, 1790. These tracts, containing a total of 371¼ acres called Blacksmith, were patented December 17, 1790. They were sold in three parcels, recorded August 26, 1793.

Reuben and his brothers, Ziba, Stephen, and Daniel, left for Ohio soon after the sale of their Pennsylvania property in 1793, traveling by horseback on the Kentucky side of the Ohio River. They crossed the Ohio River at Marietta, their horses swimming due to high water. There they stayed for a time before proceeding on to Germantown, southeast of Dayton, where they lived in blockhouses. By 1797 they were residents of Cincinnati, Hamilton County, Ohio, where they appeared on a 1798 tax list. Reuben's daughter, Rebecca, was born near Cincinnati.

Reuben and his second wife, Elizabeth, arrived in Greene County, Ohio, by 1805 and settled on S6, T3, R8. In April of 1807 Reuben, Zibbee, and Samuel Winget were enumerated with other free white males in Bath Township, Greene County. Reuben appeared on the 1810 tax list in the same location and was on the tax list again in 1818 when Clark County was formed from Greene. Recorded on March 23, 1819, were land grants from Reuben Winget to Ephraim Shellabarger, husband of Reuben's daughter, Elizabeth, and to Samuel Shellabarger, Ephraim's brother, each of whom received two hundred fifty acres in S6, T3, R8. Reuben Winget appeared in the census records of Madriver Township, Clark County, Ohio, in 1820, 1830, and 1840.

Below are other deeds in Clark County in which Reuben was the grantor:

Reuben had three wives. His twelve children were by his first two wives, Mary and Elizabeth "Betsy". In assigning the children of Reuben to the correct wife, the records of the Shellabarger Cemetery in Clark County, Ohio, Cemetery Inscriptions, Volume 1, page 142, were helpful. It was there recorded that John Winget, Son/Reuben & Elizabeth Winget, died in 1824, aged thirty-two years. We can therefore assume that all children born after John were also children of Reuben and his second wife, Elizabeth. A four year gap existed between the birth of Reuben's first two children, Elizabeth and Daniel, and his third child, Hugh. It would seem possible that the first two children were those of Reuben and his first wife, Mary. Reuben's daughter, Rebecca, who married Ephraim Shellabarger, was said to have been born near Cincinnati, Ohio, and from her age at death her birth date would be calculated to be August 31, 1797. Rebecca was the child of Reuben's second wife, Elizabeth.

Reuben married his third wife, Mary Rynearson, on May 5, 1825. On June 5, 1838, Reuben was appointed administrator of the estate of his son, Aaron.

Reuben was buried on the John Beard Farm near Enon, in Madriver Township, Clark County, Ohio. A large estate packet, Case A:1113, GS#466666, was found in the Clark County, Ohio, files which included a will, dated February 23, 1845. It had Reuben's signature, appearing very unsteady. The will was presented to the Court of Common Pleas, May 12, 1845, by John Hunt and John R. Miller, and reads as follows:

In the name of God; Amen.

I Reuben Winget of Enon, Clark County, Ohio, being weak in body, but of sound mind and memory do make and publish this my last will and testament in manner and form following (that is to say)

First: I give and bequeath unto my wife, Mary Winget, the house and lots on which I now live together with all the appurtenances thereunto belonging for her use during her natural life. I further give to her whatever of the furniture - beds, bedding & etc, that will be necessary for her use: and I further direct that the balance of my personal property shall be sold and after my funeral expenses and all my just debts are paid the balance shall be paid to her at the rate of thirty dollars yearly untill it is exhausted after which I also further bequeath to her the sum of thirty dollars annually to be paid to her by my three daughters Rebecca Shellabarger, Margaret Black and Jane Pittenger each to bear an equal portion in consideration of the bequests hereinafter made by me to them.

As I gave to each of my sons as they respectively came of age seventy acres of land and made each of them a deed for the same which I now consider to be almost their share of my estate I therefore direct that immediately after the first of April one thousand eight hundred and forty six my farm which has been herein described shall be sold the proceeds of which after paying the necessary expenses, I bequeath as follows, namely, first to my grand daughter Hannah daughter of Sarah Confer (Dec'd) I give and bequeath fifty dollars. Second to each of my three grand children namely Michael Confer, Sarah Confer, and Eliza Jane Confer, children of Elizabeth Confer, Dec'd I give and bequeath fifty dollars - my executor to make some safe investment of the same and as they respectively become of age he shall pay to each his or her legacy together with the profits that may have accrued by the investment. Thirdly. The balance of the proceeds of my farm I give to my three daughters Rebecca Shellabarger, Margaret Black, and Jane Pittenger to be divided equally between them.

I also further direct that after the decease of my wife, the house and lots before named shall be sold and the proceeds of the same shall be disposed of as follows namely one hundred dollars of it shall be paid to my grand daughter Jane Winget and the remainder shall be equally divided between my three daughters Rebecca, Margaret, & Jane I hereby appoint Peter Pittenger to be my executor of this my last will and testament In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this twenty third day of Feb. in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty five.

An inventory and appraisal of all household goods was made on June 2nd by Adam Sheller. Adam Sheller was the father of Elizabeth Sheller Shellabarger, the wife of Reuben Winget's grandson, Martin Shellabarger. An estate sale was conducted June 3, 1845. At this sale Rebecca Shellabarger purchased a molasses pitcher for eleven cents. The personal property of the estate was sold for the sum of $758.92. Peter Pittenger, the estate executor, presented the final settlement papers on April 8, 1848, the total sum being $1946. The executors sold Reuben Shellabarger part of the SE¼ of S6, T4, R8 for $2,052 as recorded in Deed Book W, page 246.

Second Generation

2. Caleb[2] Winget (Reuben[3], Caleb[4], John[5])[32]. Born, circa 1744, in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ[33]. Died, 13 Feb 1817, in Prosperity, Washington Co., PA[34]. Buried: Feb 1817, in Old Prosperity, Cemetery, Washington Co., PA. Census: 1790, in Morris Twp., Washington Co., PA; p. 249. Census: 1800, in Morris Twp., Washington Co., PA; p. 822. Census: 1810, in Morris Twp., Washington Co., PA; p. 98. Occupation: weaver.

Caleb may have had a first marriage, circa 1764, in New Jersey. A possible father of Caleb Winget's first wife was Obadiah Hedden. Included below is what is known of Obadiah Hedden and most particularly information found in his will.

Caleb married second, Sara, after 1765. Born, Jan 1744/5, in New Jersey[35]. Died, 8 Jun 1830, in Prosperity, Washington Co., PA[34]. Burial: Jun 1830, in Old Prosperity, Cemetery.

The parentage of Caleb Winget had been in doubt; proof has been found that his father was Reuben Winget of Morristown, New Jersey. In The Wingate-Winget Families in America, Esther Mae Winget Warner came to a different conclusion. She stated that a family bible was in the possession of a great-grandmother of Ziba Winget. Surely she must have meant, great-granddaughter as Ziba Winget was the second son of Caleb Winget. This record was written near 1817 and stated that Caleb Winget emigrated from England to America with two brothers, and that his father was a Captain Wingate of England who changed his name to Winget. There were elements of truth in this account, but I believe two generations were omitted, Caleb born 1672/3, and Reuben christened, 1718.

The immigrant, Captain John Wingate, a resident of Dover, New Hampshire, was during his lifetime also known as Winget. His son, Caleb Winget, went to Piscataway, Middlesex County, New Jersey, not to Maryland as stated by Mrs. Warner. A quote from The First Settlers of Piscataway and Woodbridge is as follows, Caleb Wingate was without a doubt one of the Wingate family of Dover. Reuben, son of Caleb (b. 1672/3), died in Morristown, New Jersey, in the year 1755, failing to name or enumerate his children in his will. We do know that Reuben's son, Joshua, moved from the area in 1769 at about the same time that Caleb removed to Pennsylvania. The only thing lacking to prove this lineage was a christening record for Caleb Winget. Few birth or christening records were recorded in Morristown, New Jersey, at this period. Caleb was born about 1744 as calculated from his age at death as indicated on his tombstone in the Old Prosperity Cemetery in Washington County, Pennsylvania. As stated in The History of Washington County, Pennsylvania, by Boyd Crumrine, page 844: Caleb Winget was a native of New Jersey, and lived there until he had become a man of family. Some time before 1786 he removed "with his family" to Washington County, Pa... On page 843 of the same volume it was stated that a group of families from Morris County, New Jersey, came to Washington County in 1773 (until 1781 the area was Westmoreland County). This group seems to have included the related families: Axtell, Leonard, Goble, Lindley, Cook, Conger, and Winget.

Caleb's connection to Morristown, Morris County, New Jersey, and proof of his parentage has come from the will of Obadiah Hedden of Morristown, New Jersey, written March 12, 1811, and proved in 1813 in Morristown, New Jersey. Caleb Winget, son of Reuben Winget, was bequeathed the sum of $12.50. That Obadiah was acquainted with Caleb's father, Reuben, is known from Obadiah's 1755 purchase of a basin in the estate sale of Reuben Winget, born 1719. Mrs. Warner stated in her first book that Caleb Winget had a first wife, and if so it would seem possible she was the daughter of Obadiah Hedden. We do not know the date of her death nor the date of Caleb's marriage to his wife, Sara, but we do know that Sara was born in New Jersey, suggesting that Caleb married Sara before removing to Pennsylvania probably in 1773.

At this point some biographical information concerning Obadiah Hedden has been provided. Obadiah was born in Newark, Essex County, New Jersey, the son of Ebenezer Hedden.

When Philip Phillips of Morris County, New Jersey, died intestate on September 21, 1750, the court named Reuben Winget to be his administrator and Obadiah Hedden as his bondsman. An estate inventory was made on November 1, 1750, by Thomas Darling and Gideon Riggs whose sister married John Hedden.

The town records of Newark recorded that Obadiah was named surveyor of highways on March 9, 1762, and overseer of highways on March 8, 1768, March 14, 1769, March 12, 1771, March 10, 1772, March 9, 1773, March 8, 1774, and March 14, 1786.

Obadiah Hedden was named executor of the estate of Ebenezer Hedden, his father, in his will written August 19, 1784, and proved October 17, 1785. This will, naming deceased son, Jedediah, and daughters, Jehanna and Phebe, was recorded in Essex County, Book 27, page 431.

The will of Obadiah Hedden dated March 20, 18ll, was as follows:

> In the name of God Amen I Obadiah Hedden of the town and County of Morris in the state of New Jersey being weak in body but of sound mind and memory and understanding, for which blessing I most devoutly thank my God, do make and publish this my last will and testament, in manner and form following, that is to say, it is my will and I do order that all my Just debts and funeral charges be duly paid - I will to my wife Sarah, all the movables at her disposal, Money due on obligations excepted. And she is to enjoy peaceably the house and all belonging to the house as long as she remains my widow - And she is to have twenty five dollars yearly paid her until it amounts to one hundred and twenty five dollars. And her brother Enoch is to procure hay for her to winter two cows yearly and pastur for the same. I will to Zepheriah Hedden son of Jeddediah Hedden and CALEB WINGET SON OF REUBEN WINGET Each of them the sum of twelve Dollars and fifty cents I will to Obadiah Miller son of Jamiah who married Miller who is living at (Baorntown) the sum of forty dollars to be paid to him when of age. The two last mentioned sums is to be paid by my wife's brother's son Enoch to whom I give my lands too. the lands are bound for it. I will to Enoch Miller, my brother in law Enoch Miller's son Enoch to him and his heirs all and every of my lands and Tenements, whatsoever and wheresoever - to remain under the care of his father, until his son Arrives to the age of twenty one years. Be it remembered that if my wife and the Executors think it best they are hereby impowered to sell the house and lot wherein I now live and buy a house and lott nearder the land that I own in the swamp that I bought of Silas Allen and that to remain in the stead of this house and lot as was mentioned before. Lastly I hereaby apoint my beloved and my trusty friend, Timothy Allen and Ichabod Miller Executors to this my last will and testament In witness where of I hearunto set my hand and seal this twentieth day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and Eleven - in the year 1811.

Obadiah's wife, Sarah Miller, was probably his second wife as the marriage was performed on April 7, 1805, in the First Presbyterian Church of Morristown, New Jersey.

By 1776 Caleb Winget had made his first Pennsylvania land purchase. These two hundred fifty acres on Ten Mile Creek in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, purchased from John Walton, were sold to Joseph Lucky on June 10, 1782. John Goble, probable grandson of Daniel Goble III of Morristown, New Jersey, who died in 1750, sold Caleb four hundred acres, Deerpark, on the South Fork of Ten Mile Creek in Amwell Township, Washington County, Pennsylvania, for two hundred fifty pounds on January 1, 1786. The tract originally had been granted to Benjamin Morgan on October 13, 1784, and was granted to John Goble on February 17, 1785. The deed to Caleb Winget was witnessed by Abraham Shoemaker and Joseph Bennett and recorded in Deed Book 1B, page 396.

On February 20, 1786, Caleb granted his son, Daniel, a tract of two hundred sixty-two acres on Ten Mile Creek in Morris Township known as Winget's Disaster. In 1800 Caleb, weaver, was entered in the tax lists of Washington County in Morris Township.

Caleb's participation in the Revolution was documented in the Pennsylvania Archives, Series 6, Volume II, page 403. He took part in the Sandusky Expedition, his name appearing in a miscellaneous list with the company undesignated. The following is a synopsis of the account of that disastrous venture as related by Dr. Knight in the Pennsylvania Archives cited above:

> In March of 1782, the Wyandot Indians began making raids upon the frontier settlements in Ohio and the counties of Washington and Westmoreland in Pennsylvania. An action against the Indians commanded by Colonel Crawford was planned, the members to meet on the west side of the Ohio River about forty miles below Fort Pitt on May 20th. Each man was to provide himself with a horse, gun, and one month's provisions. The volunteers, four hundred sixty-five in number, were divided into eighteen companies.
> The first major encounter with the enemy was on June 1st with casualties on both sides. Because of the wounded it was decided to retreat. After further Indian gunfire many in the group scattered abandoning the wounded in their panic. A couple of days later the colonel and the doctor were captured by Delaware Indians and taken to their camp. The scalps of Captain Biggs and Lieutenant Ashley and two others were brought into the camp.
>
> On June 10th a total of eleven prisoners escorted by seventeen Indians began the thirty-three mile march to Sandusky. The faces of all the prisoners were painted black. Four of the prisoners were tomahawked and scalped on the journey. Upon their arrival at Sandusky the inhabitants attacked them with sticks or fists, and all but the doctor and the Colonel were then tomahawked. The doctor and colonel were stripped naked and again beaten. The colonel was tied to a stake and shot with powder from his feet to his neck. They then cut off his ears and applied burning hickory poles and coals to his naked body. He was scalped after two hours of this torment.
>
> Dr. Knight was told that he would receive similar treatment at the Shawanese camp forty miles away in two days. He was being escorted by a single Indian when he managed to escape on the morning of the second day. The return journey to Fort McIntosh was made very difficult due to weakness from lack of food and a blow he had received on his jaw from a tomahawk.

A second account was given by John Slover, a guide for the Sandusky Expedition a synopsis of which follows:

> On Tuesday, June 4th, the expedition fought the enemy. The following day Col. Crawford ordered a retreat following which the Indians began firing causing the troops to scatter and abandon the wounded. Mr. Glover and six companions, two of whom were wounded, traveled on toward Detroit trying the while to evade detection by Indians. On the third day of difficult travel and after several near discoveries, the group encountered a party of Indians about twelve miles from Tuscarawas. One of their number escaped and two were killed, but GIover and two companions were captured and taken to a village of the Mingos and Shawanese. The inhabitants beat them with clubs and tomahawks. One of the captives was painted black, a signal he was to be burned. They were then marched to a second and larger town and there made to run a gauntlet of inhabitants armed with guns, clubs and tomahawks. The man painted black was especially badly abused and on arrival was chopped to pieces. Three other earlier arrivals were killed earlier in the day, and their carcasses were fed to the dogs.

John Glover had previously been an Indian captive and knew the language of the Miami, Shawanese and Delaware tribes. Upon capture he was admitted to the assemblies in the council house and questioned about the American-British conflict. He was invited to a nightly war dance and witnessed the Indians' decision to no longer take prisoners whether man, woman, or child, but to put all to death. The Indians also made plans for attacks upon settlements in Kentucky, the Falls, and toward Wheeling in his presence.

Three men brought in from Kentucky were burnt. One morning Glover was bound, blackened, and led to a town five miles distant. There he was beaten with tomahawks and clubs and taken to still another village two miles distant. On arrival he was tied to a stake, and wood was kindled around him. Suddenly a hurricane and wind storm arose extinguishing the fire. The savages, being amazed, freed him but danced around him, beating him the while, meaning to complete their cruel task the following day. That night he was tied in a blockhouse, but when his guards fell asleep he managed to free himself and escaped to Wheeling.

Caleb and his wife, Sara, were buried side by side in the Old Prosperity Cemetery. Caleb's tombstone reads:

Daniel had a grandson, Ira, who settled in Wright County, Minnesota, after the Civil War.

Third Generation

3. Reuben[3] Winget (Caleb[4], John[5])[43]. Born, 1719, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ. Died, 1755, in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ[44]. Christened, 8 Mar 1718/9, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ. Occupation: merchant. Reuben may have married a daughter of Abigail and Daniel Goble II, circa 1738, in New Jersey[45].

4 Miss[3] (Goble) (Daniel[4], Daniel[5], Thomas[6]).

Reuben Winget was the son of Caleb and Hope Hull Winget. Piscataway, New Jersey, Vital Records, Part 2, page 242, recorded the christening records of Reuben and his brothers, John and Benjamin, and his sisters, in Piscataway, Middlesex County, New Jersey. Reuben was a resident of Hanover Township formed in 1720 from Hunterdon County. In 1739 Morris County was taken from Hunterdon County, and on March 25, 1740, Morris Township was formed.

According to the First Settlers of Piscataway and Woodbridge, New Jersey, Volume XXX, page 874, by Monnette, the wife of Reuben Winget was a daughter of Daniel Goble for whose estate Reuben was executor. The source of this information is unknown. Surely the will of Daniel Goble III, who died in 1750, would seem to negate the possibility that Daniel was the father of Reuben's wife. In his will Daniel Goble III named two married daughters, Sary Leonard and Hanah Axtel, and four unmarried daughters. Reuben Winget, my well beloved neighbor, was named executor but received no bequest. When Reuben died five years later, his wife was still living. Even if Reuben had had a previous marriage, surely Daniel Goble would have left a legacy to the children of a deceased daughter.

There remains a more probable possibility that Daniel Goble II, who died before 1733 in Morristown, and his second wife, Abigail, were the parents of Reuben Winget's wife. It is known that Jemima, daughter of Daniel Goble II, married Thomas Wiggins. A witness to the will of Reuben Winget was Stephen Wiggins. One of Reuben's estate executors was Robert Goble, another son of Daniel Goble II. The undeniable connection to the Goble family continued even in Pennsylvania where John Goble was a neighbor of the Wingets and sold property to Caleb Winget, son of Reuben. Another member of the Goble family living in Washington County, Pennsylvania, was Daniel Goble IV and his sons: Ebenezer, Caleb, Daniel V, and the above mentioned John. The Leonard and Axtell families, whose sons had married daughters of Daniel III, were also early residents of Washington County, Pennsylvania. Other families who came from Morris County, New Jersey, to Pennsylvania and were related to the Gobles and Wingets were the Wiggins, Hedden, Corey, Cook, Dod, Riggs, and Lindleys.

Based on a great deal of circumstantial evidence I am accepting the statement in the First Settlers of Piscataway and Woodbridge, New Jersey as at least partially correct and will include in this chapter some genealogy of the Goble family assigning Daniel Goble II as the father of Reuben's wife. The mother of Reuben Winget's wife would then be Abigail, the second wife of Daniel Goble II. The children of Sarah Houghton Winget have been identified. No death date for Sarah or marriage record for Abigail has been located.

The New Jersey Term Minutes of July 13, 1750, stated: Reuben Winget bondsman for Gilbert Hedden to secure (14s) appeared at next court to answer charge of passing counterfeit money. The identity of Gilbert Hedden and his relationship to Obadiah Hedden is unknown; however, Gilbert was a landowner in Morris County, New Jersey, having purchased eighty acres for one hundred pounds from David Berman on January 4, 1753. He sold the same on October 25, 1778, to John Cobb. At that time Gilbert Hedden was a resident of Surry County, North Carolina.

On September 21, 1750, Reuben was named administrator of the will of Phillip Phillips. Obadiah Hedden was bondsman of this estate. On March 9, 1751, Reuben also served as executor of the will of Daniel Goble III at Morristown, New Jersey.

Reubin and Joseph Wingit appeared on an August 31, 1752, list of freeholders in Morris Town, together with Gilbort Headey, and Robart, Simeon and Jonas Gobel.

Reuben wrote his will, transcribed below, on May 13, 1755, probably aged thirty-seven, failing to name his wife or children.

> In the Name of God Amen, This Thirteenth Day of May Anna Domini. 1755. I Reuben Wingett of Morristown in the County of Morris and Province of New Jersey, Merchant, being Weak of Body but of Sound Mind and Memory, blessed be God, do make, ordain, and publish this my last Will and Testament in Manner and form following
> Item I Will and Order that all my Estate Real, Personal and Mixt be sold by my Exs., or to much, and such Parts thereof as they Shall think Necessary for that purpose
> Item I Will and Order that the Surplussage or Remainder of all my Estate, after my Debts are first paid out of the same (if any there shall be) be disposed of, and distributed to my Wife and children in Such manner and form, by my Executors, as they in their Prudence shall think Most proper.
> Item Allso I Will and Order that all my Children, or such of them as my Exs. Shall think most proper be placed forth Apprentices by my Exs. according to their judgment and discretion after my Decease and in all to act jointly & Severally
> Item I Constitute make and ordain my Trusty friends Robert Goble Esq, Gideon Riggs, and Ezekial Cheever, the sole Executors of this my last Will and Testament, Ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last Will and Testament. In Witness whereof I, Reuben Winget have Set here unto my Hand and Seal the Day and Year above written.
>
> Signed Sealed Published, Pronounced and Declared by the Sd. Reuben Winget as his last Will and Testament in the Presence of us the Subscribers
> Samuel Olliver

Stephen Wiggins
Stephen Munson

By way of understanding the relationship of the parties named in the will to Reuben Winget, Jemima Goble, daughter of Daniel Goble II, married Thomas Wiggins. Samuel Olliver was an early resident of Westmoreland County (Washington County), Pennsylvania. The executor, Gideon Riggs, died in 1793 in Morris County, New Jersey. In 1723 his sister, Hannah Riggs, had married John Hedden in Essex County, New Jersey. Joseph Riggs was in Washington County, Pennsylvania, by 1803. The other executor, Robert Goble, was the son of Robert Goble II and therefore probable half-brother of Reuben's wife.

The will was presented to the court on October 2, 1755. An inventory of the estate was given to the court on September 13, 1755, by Benjamin Conger and Jonathan Stiles, Jr. Reuben's real estate included the homestead, valued at one hundred seventy-five pounds, and a meadow lot containing twenty-one and a half acres, valued at fifty pounds. The value of his personal property was estimated to be two hundred sixty-five pounds and included books and pamphlets. Cash and book debts owed to Reuben were another one hundred sixty-eight pounds. The total amount of debts to the estate was four hundred ninety pounds. Cash belonging to the estate and debts likely to be paid amounted to 503.15.11. The homestead was sold for one hundred thirty-six pounds to John Gano who served as minister of the Baptist Church in Morristown from May 1754 until September 25, 1757.

On the fifteenth of March, 1756, an auction of Reuben's personal property was held. Joseph and Sarah, siblings of Reuben, were the only Wingets who purchased property. Of the Goble family, Simeon, John, Gershom, and Robert made purchases. The auction raised the sum of three hundred forty-four pounds. One of the most interesting items in the sale was the purchase of a basin by Obadiah Headen. On March 12, 1811, Obadiah Hedden wrote a will in Morristown, Morris County, New Jersey. In this will he left $12.50 to "Caleb Winget, son of Reuben Winget". At that time Caleb Winget was a resident of Prosperity, Morris County, Pennsylvania. This not only indicated that Caleb was the son of Reuben, but also raised the possibility that the surname of Caleb's first wife was Hedden. Obadiah left the same sum to Zepheriah Hedden, son of his brother, Jeddidiah Hedden, again strengthening the possibility of a blood relationship between the Wingets and Heddens.

The known children of Reuben and possibly an unknown (Goble) Winget were:

2 i. Caleb[2] Winget.

ii. Joshua Winget[46]. Born, circa 1748, in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ. Baptism: 4 Jan 1765, in First Presbyterian Church, Morristown, NJ[47]. Residence: 1793, in Rockaway, Morris Co., NJ. He married Kezia Hall, 14 Sep 1768, in First Presbyterian Church, Morristown, NJ[45].

According to Monette's The First Settlers of Piscataway and Woodbridge, page 875, Joshua was a son of Reuben. He was named for his great-uncle, Joshua, born in 1680. Joshua was found in the Morristown Presbyterian Church records in 1765, 1769, and 1771. In Some Early Records of Morris County, New Jersey by Harriet Stryker Rodda we find various references to Joshua. In 1768 the Morris Township Tax List named him as the proprietor of twenty acres. In 1771 the ear mark registered to Silas Howel and recorded to Joseph Stiles was transferred to Joshua. In 1774 Joshua bought the Guinea Forge, located a mile below White Meadow, as well as the right to process a deed of twenty-six hundred acres from Colonel John Munson. He sold the same to Samuel Crane. In May of 1776 Joshua voted in an election for delegates to New Jersey's first Constitutional Convention. He later served in the Revolutionary War. In 1779 Joshua applied for a Morris County tavern license.

iii. Benjamin Winget. Resided, 1793, in Morris Co., NJ.

The First Settlers of Piscataway and Woodbridge, page 875, stated that Benjamin was a son of Reuben. Benjamin served in the Revolution.

Fourth Generation

5. Caleb[4] Winget (John[5])[48]. Born, circa 1673, in Dover, Stafford Co., NH. Resided, 1706, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ. Caleb married Hope Hull (6).

6. Hope[4] Hull (Reuben[5], Joseph[6], Thomas[7])[53].

Caleb Winget was the son of Captain John and Mary Nutter Winget of Dover, New Hampshire. This fact was established by the will of John Wingatem (Winget, Windiet, Wingate) who died December 9, 1687, in which Caleb was bequeathed twenty acres of land. Caleb left the Dover area and settled in the Piscataway purchase of Middlesex County, New Jersey. The name Piscataway was taken from the Piscataqua River which divided New Hampshire and Maine. Many of the settlers in the Piscataway and Woodbridge areas were from Dover. The First Settlers of Piscataway and Woodbridge, page 874, stated: Caleb Wingate of Piscataway - First Settler of PISC. Came with the other Piscataqua people from Dover, N. H. Captain John Wingate, (1625-1687), was the Pater Familias.

Caleb's wife, Hope, was the daughter of Captain Reuben Hull for whom the Wingets named their third son. The christening records of seven of their children were recorded in the records of Piscataway, New Jersey. The names Caleb and Reuben were continued on through the succeeding generations. Captain Reuben Hull was also a resident of the Piscataway region.

In the November 1710 term of the Middlesex New Jersey Court, we find that Caleb Winget was indicted by the grand jury for abusing Constable Nicholas Munday who was attempting to serve him a writ. He pled guilty, was fined twenty shillings, and released on promise of good behavior.

In the year 1713, Caleb signed a petition of complaint to the New Jersey House of Representatives about a fraudulent election held in Middlesex County. In the years 1714 and 1718 Caleb was involved in two legal actions.

Caleb Winget was a member of the Piscataway Militia Regiment under the command of Colonel Thomas Ffarmar in the year 1715, as is known from the 1896 report of the state historian for New York, published in the Colonial Series, Volume I. Benjamin Hull appeared in this same regimental list. Benjamin's brother, Hopewell Hull, was one of the regimental sergeants. Benjamin and Hopewell were uncles of Caleb's wife, Hope. Caleb and Hope named their first son for Caleb's father, John, and their second child for Captain Benjamin Hull.

The children of Caleb and Hope Hull Winget were:

i. John[3] Winget. Born, 1706, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ.
ii. Benjamin Winget. Born, 1708, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ.
iii. Sarah Winget. Born, 1710, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ.
iv. Elizabeth Winget. Born, 1712, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ.
v. Mary Winget. Born, 1714, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ.
vi. Henry Winget[49]. Born, circa 1715[50].in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., N.J. Henry was a runaway servant in 1738.
vii. Ann Winget. Born, 1716, in Piscataway, Middlesex Co., NJ.
3 viii. Reuben Winget.
ix. Joseph Winget. Born, circa 1721[51]. Died, 7 Mar 1804, in Morris Co., NJ[52]. He married first, Desire Cramer, 6 Feb 1744/5, in First Presbyterian Church, Morristown, NJ[45]. Joseph married second, Deborah.

Joseph was given the name of his grandfather, the Reverend Joseph Hull, and his uncle, Joseph Winget. In October of 1768 he was the owner of eighty-eight acres in Morris Township, Morris County, New Jersey. Joseph was a delegate to New Jersey's first Constitutional Convention in May, 1776. In 1793 his name appeared on a list of freeholders of Morris County. Joseph and Desire had a son, Joseph Jr., who married a widow, Sarah Freeman, a son, Benjamin who married Phebe Holloway, and a daughter, Hanna.

7. Daniel[4] Goble (Daniel[5], Thomas[6])[54]. Born, 21 May 1669, in Concord, Middlesex Co., MA[55]. Died, before 1733, in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ. Daniel married[56] first, Sarah Houghton[57], daughter of John and Beatrix, Houghton, 23 Jun 1689, in Lancaster, Worcester Co., MA. Born, 30 Jul 1672, in Lancaster, Worcester Co., MA. Died in Hanover, NJ. Daniel married[67] second, Abigail (8) in New Jersey.

8. Abigail.[4] Born, circa 1680[70]. Buried, Oct 1742, in First Presbyterian Churchyard, Morristown, Morris County, NJ[71].

Daniel Goble/Gobel II was born on May 25, 1669, in Concord, Massachusetts. He was the elder son of Daniel Goble and Hanna Brewer. At the age of seven his father was hanged for killing Indians. A little over a year later his mother remarried Ephraim Roper at which time Daniel, his mother, new stepfather, brother, John, and sisters, Hannah and Alice, moved to Lancaster, Massachusetts. On June 23, 1689, Daniel married Sarah Houghton in Lancaster. Sarah was the daughter of John and Beatrix Joselyn Houghton of Lancaster and only sixteen at the time of her marriage, her birthdate being July 30, 1672.

Daniel inherited and sold a tract of land in Voluntown, Rhode Island, which his deceased father was awarded posthumously for his service in King Philip's War. On September 11, 1697, Daniel's mother and stepfather were both killed by Indians. It is not surprising therefore that Daniel and Sarah left Massachusetts about 1699 after the birth in Concord on July 19, 1698, of their son who was also named Daniel The Gobles joined the Orangeburg Colony in Berkeley County, South Carolina. Daniel was given a warrant for three hundred acres in that location on December 23, 1699, and for five hundred acres on March 20, 1700. His uncle, John Goble, purchased five hundred acres on Dodmellow Island on March 9, 1705, and a tract on MacMillan Island in Colleton County, South Carolina, in 1707.

By the year 1715 Daniel had left South Carolina relocating in Hanover, Hunterdon County, New Jersey, which in 1739 became Morristown, Morris County, New Jersey. The family settled near Sand Spring Road and Blackwell Avenue. The Axtell family, which married into the Goble family, also had South Carolina connections. The Gobles were staunch Baptists and due to the lack of a church nearby, held services in their home. At times they worshipped in Piscataway where a Baptist Church had been organized in 1689, but to do so necessitated a journey of fifty miles through wilderness.

In the year 1725 Daniel was appointed an overseer of highways. He was one of the first office holders of the new settlement according to A History of Morris County, New Jersey.

Daniel and his first wife, Sarah Houghton, reared a family of six children: Daniel, Robert, Jonas, Ephraim, Jemima, and Alice. In September, 1734, these children executed a deed to lands in Lancaster, Massachusetts, inherited from their mother, Sarah Houghton. This deed was recorded in Worcester District Deeds, page 259. Sarah Houghton Goble died before her husband, and Daniel remarried Abigail who was born about 1680. Daniel and Abigail may have had a daughter who became the wife of Reuben Winget. Daniel died before 1733, but Abigail lived until 1742.

The children of Sarah Houghton and Daniel Goble II were:

i. Daniel[3] Goble[58]. Born, 19 Jul 1698, in Concord, Middlesex Co., MA[59]. Died, 1750, in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ[60]. Daniel's wife is unknown.

Daniel Goble III was born on the 19th of July in 1698 in Concord, Massachusetts. When Daniel was an infant, Daniel's parents moved to Berkeley County, South Carolina. At about seventeen years of age the family resettled in Hunterdon County, New Jersey.

Daniel's will was written on March 9, 1750. Although only fifty-two years of age, the will stated that he was very weak in body indicating his having had a serious illness or accident. A transcription of the will follows:

In the Name of God - Amen The ninth Day of march in the year of our Lord 1750. This will was proved on April 5, 1750. Simeon Goble, eldest son of brother, Robert, and witness to the will, made a purchase at the estate sale of Reuben Winget as did Robert, John, and Gershom Goble, the latter being another son of Robert Goble.

ii. Robert Goble[61]. Born, 12 Jul 1700, in Berkeley Co., SC[62]. Died, 29 Mar 1783, in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ[63]. Occupation: judge; farmer. Robert married Mary, 26 Dec 1724, in Hunterdon Co., NJ.

As early as December 1734, Robert Goble's name appeared on a Morris County, New Jersey, list of bonds or mortgages held by James Alexander and recorded in Volume 10, page 74. In 1741 Robard Gobel registered an earmark in Morris County. Robert Goble from South Carolina was #8 on a jury panel in the case of Cooper versus Moss in Morristown according to a letter of John Budd dated March 1, 1742. He was thrice Justice of the Peace and judge for Morris County: March 28, 1749, December 21, 1756, and again on April 30, 1768.

History of the Baptists in New Jersey by Morgan Edwards stated that on July 11, 1752, Robert and his brother, Jonas, were original members of the newly formed Baptist Church in Morristown. Previous church attendance had been in Piscataway, New Jersey. When subscriptions for a new church were taken on February 15, 1769, Robert gave two pounds, five shillings and became the first clerk of the Baptist Meeting House. Robert Gobel's name appeared on a list of freeholders in Morris County, New Jersey, on August 31, 1752.

In October of 1768 Robert paid a tax of twelve pounds, ten shillings on a forty-seven acre tract in Morris Township. This was the portion of the farm owned by Robert and his brother, Jonas, which was used by George Washington as a winter camp during the Revolution. In 1775 the governor of New Jersey appointed Robert to register friendly Indians.

iii. Jonas Goble[64]. Born, 27 Mar 1707, in Berkeley Co., SC[65]. Died, 26 Jun 1791, in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ[65]. Jonas married[66] Malatiah Town[61].

Jonas Goble's name appeared on a list of freeholders in Morris County, New Jersey, on August 31, 1752. Jonas was a deacon in the First Baptist Church in Morristown which he helped to organize and probably built in 1752. According to Historic Morristown, New Jersey by Andrew Sherman, the church was erected on the land of Daniel Goble III who died in 1750.

In 1753 Jonas registered an earmark. He was a taxpayer in Morris Township in October, 1768, being the owner of one hundred thirty-five acres valued at seventeen pounds, ten shillings. In May of 1776 he was on the poll list to vote for delegates from Morris County to the New Jersey Constitutional Convention. The farm of Jonas and his brother, Robert, was occupied by George Washington and used as a winter camp during the Revolution. Jonas was a waggoner during the Revolution.

iv. Ephraim Goble[61]. Born, 7 Mar 1709/0, in Berkeley Co., SC[67]. Died in Morristown, Morris Co., NJ.

In 1741 Ephraim Gobel registered an earmark in Morris County, New Jersey.

v. Jemima Goble[68]. Born, Jun 1712, in Berkeley Co., SC[67]. Jemima married Thomas Wiggins[69].

Jemima Wiggins was dismissed from the Piscataway Baptist Church and transferred to the newly formed church at Morristown on August 11, 1752. Sarah Wiggins was also a church member. Stephen Wiggins witnessed the will of Reuben Winget in 1755.

vi. Alice Goble[61]. Born, 25 Dec 1715, in Morristown, Hunterdon Co., NJ[67].

A possible child of Daniel Goble II and his second wife, Abigail, was:

4 vii. Miss Goble. She may have married[67] Reuben Winget(7).

Fifth Generation

9. John[5] Winget/Wingate[72]. Born, circa 1625, in England. Died, 9 Dec 1687, in Dover, Stafford Co., NH[73]. Occupation: planter; lumberman. John married, first, Mary Nutter (10). He married, second, Sarah Taylor Canney[79], daughter of Anthony Taylor, before May, 1677. She was the widow of Thomas Canney, Jr.

10. Mary[5] Nutter (Hatevil[6]). Born, circa 1633. Died, before May, 1677.

In the early records of New Hampshire, John Winget's name was spelled Winget, Wyndiett, and Windiet(t). It wasn't until a grandson entered Harvard that it became Wingate. John was born in England on or before 1636. His ancestry in England has not been traced. John came to America at an early age and was apprenticed to Thomas Leighton. At the end of the apprenticeship he was given a twenty acre lot at Hilton's Point, now Dover, which Mr. Leighton had received from the town in 1642. On November 11, 1658, the town gave John twenty acres adjoining this lot. Elder Hatevil Nutter owned the land south of John. About 1666 John married Hatevil's daughter, Mary. John married his second wife, Sarah Taylor, the widow of Thomas Canney, Jr., and daughter of Anthony Taylor, about 1676.

Over the years John obtained other land grants and became one of the principal land holders of Dover. His homestead was built on nearly one hundred acres, and the property remained in the family for over two hundred twenty-five years with many antiques among its appurtenances. The present house was built in 1803, sixteen rods in front of the original.

John was a planter but also had a lumber business and was engaged in a shipping business. He was active in public life. On April 18, 1660, he was made an official inhabitant of Dover. John served as juryman, was selectman in 1674 and 1686, and in 1687 was chairman of Dover. On September 23, 1686, it was reported that John Winget, laid out the high wayes as the path goes to be fouer Rod wide from Oyster River to Lamper River Falls. For many years he was captain of a militia company which took part in King Philip's War.

In the late winter of 1683/4 John was very ill and on March 12th wrote his will which was transcribed in History of the Winget Family by Charles E. L. Wingate, pages 30 to 32, as follows:

John died on December 9, 1687. His will was proved on March 23, 1687/8.

The children believed to be those of John and Mary Nutter Winget were:

i. Anne[4] Winget. Born, 18 Feb 1667/8, in Dover, Stafford Co., NH[74]. Anne married Israel Hodgdon[75], before 1697[74].

Anne Winget was the elder daughter of John and Mary Nutter. Her son, Shadrach, was born in 1709 and was known as Deacon Shadrach. Shadrach married Mary Ham who as a child went through the harrowing experience of having her father killed by Indians while getting in hay. Two sisters, Tamsen and Ann were captured by the Indians, and she, herself, narrowly escaped being captured. Shadrach and Mary had eight children.

ii. John Winget. Born, 13 Jul 1670[74]. Died, 1715, in Dover, Stafford Co., NH[76]. John married Ann Hodgdon, circa 1690.

John Winget was the eldest son of John and Mary Nutter Winget. From his father he inherited the family homestead where he lived all his life. From his Grandfather Nutter he inherited an additional one hundred acres. He and his wife, Ann, had five sons: John, Moses, Samuel, Edmond and Simon. Their daughters were: Mary, Ann, Sarah, Abigail, Elizabeth, Mehitable, and Joanna. John Winget was a commander of a company in a naval expedition against Port Royal, the capital of the French settlements in the French and Indian Wars.

5 iii. Caleb Winget.

iv. Moses Winget[74]. Born, circa 1675. Died, 1705, in London, London County, England[77]. Occupation: sailor.

The children of John and Sarah Taylor Canney Winget were:

v. Mary Winget[78]. Born, circa 1677.

vi. Joshua Winget[80]. Born, 2 Feb 1679/0, in Hampton, Rockingham Co., NH. Died, 29 Jan 1769, in Hampton, Rockingham Co., NH. Joshua married Mary Lunt[81], daughter of Henry Lunt, 9 Nov 1702, in Newbury, Merrimack Co., NH[81]. She died, 27 May 1772, aged 90.

Joshua made his residence in Hampton, New Hampshire. The French and Indian Wars were in progress at this time causing this to be a very dangerous area. In the winter of 1720 Joshua's wife, who was expecting the birth of a child, found it necessary to flee from home and hide in a haystack. Joshua, who had been appointed to be captain of a foot company of Hampton Militia on June 3, 1717, sent his wife under the guard of a detachment of troops to Newburyport for safety. Joshua took part in the conquest of Cape Breton in 1745 and afterwards was promoted to colonel. The children of Joshua and Mary were: Paine, Sarah, Mary, Josua, Jane, Abigail, Anna, Martha, Love, Elizabeth, and John.

vii. Abigail Winget. Born, circa 1685, in Hampton, Rockingham Co., NH[82]. Abigail married Samuel Henny, 16 Nov 1704.

11. Reuben[5] Hull (Joseph[6], Thomas[7])[83]. Born, circa 1649, in York Village, ME[84]. Died, 1693, in Portsmouth, Rockingham Co., NH[85]. Occupation: merchant; mariner. Reuben married[86] Hannah Ferniside (12) in Boston, Suffolk Co., MA[87].

12. Hannah[5] Ferniside (John[6])[91]. Born, 8 May 1650, in Boston, Suffolk Co., MA. Christened, 12 May 1650, in First Church, Boston, Suffolk Co., MA. According to the History of Durham, New Hampshire by Stackpole and Meserve, page 225, Hannah was the daughter of John Alcock of York, Maine. All other sources say she was the daughter of John Ferniside. Hannah married[92], second, George Snell[92].

After his marriage to Hannah Ferniside about 1672, Captain Reuben Hull became a resident of Portsmouth, New Hampshire. On December 24, 1674, Reuben's brother-in-law, John Cutt, conveyed to Reuben and his wife Hannah for love and affection a lot, a wharf, and privilege on the river in Portsmouth. On March 1, 1679/80, Reuben voted in an election to choose an assembly for the new government of which John Cutt was president. Reuben also served as a juryman on March 16, 1679/80. When President Cutt died on March 27, 1681, Reuben was an executor of his will and became guardian of his son, John Cutt, Jr. Reuben was an unsuccessful candidate for a vacancy on the city council in 1681. In other court records Reuben was found as a witness in a treason case in 1683 and having power of attorney for Richard Hyat of Barbados to sell his property. In that document Reuben was referred to as a merchant. He also witnessed the will of John Beckford, Sr., of Oyster River in 1685. In January of 1685 Reuben Hull's name appeared on a list of members of the Portsmouth Troop of Horse .

Reuben dictated his will but was too weak to sign it before his death. Hope Hull was not mentioned in the will. Three slaves were mentioned in his inventory as well as a dwelling house, brew house, garden, warehouses, wharf, a Ketch, and silver.

The children of Reuben and Hannah Ferniside Hull were:

13. Daniel[5] Goble (Thomas[6])[93]. Born, 1641, in Charlestown, Middlesex Co., MA. Executed, 26 Sep 1676, in Charlestown, Middlesex Co., MA. Baptism: 18 Jul 1641, in Church of God, (First Church), Charlestown, MA. Daniel married Hannah Brewer (14), 25 Feb 1663/4, in Sudbury, Middlesex Co., MA[94].

14. Hannah[5] Brewer (John[6]). Born, 18 Jan 1644/5, in Cambridge, Middlesex Co., MA[95]. Died, 11 Sep 1697, in Lancaster, Worcester Co., MA[95]. Hannah married first, Daniel Goble (13). She married[61] second, Ephraim Roper[61], son of John and Alice Roper.

Daniel Goble I was the son of Thomas Goble and Alice Mousall, immigrants to Sudbury, Massachusetts Bay Colony. On February 15, 1664, Daniel married Hannah Brewer, daughter of John and Anne Brewer. Her father had emigrated from England about 1640. An older brother, John, was born in 1642; Hannah was born three years later on January 18, 1645. Her mother died when she was an infant, and she was reared by her father's second wife, Mary Whitmore, whom John Brewer married when Hannah was two years old. Hannah had a half brother and two half sisters as a result of this marriage. The Gobles had two daughters and two sons born between 1666 and 1673, including Daniel II. The family made its home in Concord, Massachusetts.

In the year 1676 Daniel served in King Philip's Indian War. Philip was the son of Massasoit. He had been educated by the English but turned against them and attempted to drive them from the seacoast. On June 24, 1675, Philip made a surprise attack on the town of Swansea, burning houses, stealing cattle, and killing eight settlers. Daniel Goble's brother, Thomas, a member of the Middlesex Troop of Horse, was among those called to attack Philip at his home base in Rhode Island. Philip managed to escape by sea. Further skirmishes with the Indians occurred at Wickaboog Pond and at Brookfield where a partially fortified tavern existed. This battle came to be known as the Battle of Bloody Brook. Other battles occurred at Deerfield, Springfield, Hadley, and at Lancaster. Again the settlers decided to attack the Rhode Island headquarters of King Philip and did so on December 29th, but unfortunately Philip and his braves had gone to Albany, New Amsterdam, to buy ammunition from the Dutch, and only old men, women, and children were killed when the fort was burned. Again Thomas Goble took part in this expedition as well as his brother, Daniel. Daniel as a foot soldier had to march home from Rhode Island through heavy snow without food or fuel. The colonists called this their hungry march.

More Indian attacks ensued including ones on Framingham and Lancaster. Twenty-four people were captured at Lancaster and twelve were killed. One captive escaped to give the alarm to Concord. Concord raised fifteen soldiers including Daniel and his cousin, Stephen Goble. They buried their dead at Lancaster and returned to Concord. Those who had survived capture at Lancaster were ransomed. Some prisoners, however, had been starved by the Indian women, and others were mangled and slain by Indians who had supposedly been converted to Christianity. Following this incident there were new attacks at Groton and again at Marlborough. The guilty Indians could not be found so orders were issued that any Indian not in company with the English and found more than a mile from a village could be shot or arrested. On April 20, 1676, Sudbury was again attacked. The house of Hannah's father, John Brewer, was burned. John may have died in this attack.

Daniel and his cousin, Stephen, were in active service during this period of time. On August 7, 1776, they were scouting in the woods near Concord. They spotted a group of Indian women on Hurtleberry Hill. They suspected these women were there to lure them into an ambush as had happened to their friends just three and a half months prior to this time near the same location. As stated above, regulations allowed soldiers to either shoot or take the women prisoner. They elected the former option as a group of Indian women had escaped jail in Concord two months earlier. In view of their past experiences, the fear in their hearts, and an understandable desire for revenge, it is possible to comprehend this decision.

Further attacks continued at Hatfield, and Falmouth, but on August 12, 1676, Philip was killed in Rhode Island. The attitude in Boston then shifted, and because one of the murdered squaws had been the wife of Andrew Pittimee, a loyal guide of Major Savage, it was decided that those who took part in the attack must be punished. Stephen and Daniel Goble and two others were arrested, tried, and sentenced to be hung. The Gobles both wrote their wills. Stephen was executed in Boston on September 21, 1676, along with three Indians. Daniel was executed in Concord on September 26, 1676, with five Indians. He was too ill to walk and had to be drawn in a cart to the place of execution. The other two guilty parties, having powerful friends, were pardoned.

Some years later all soldiers who took part in the Narragansett Campaign were awarded shares of land in that township from land wrested from the Indians. Daniel and Hannah's son, Daniel, inherited and sold his father's rights. Hannah did not receive a share because on November 20, 1677, she had remarried Ephraim Roper.

The background of Hannah's second husband, Ephraim Roper, is also of interest. His grandfather, John Roper, was born in New Buckingham, Norfolkshire, England, in 1588. John emigrated with his son, John Jr. and his wife, Alice, and two grandchildren in 1637, settling in Dedham, Massachusetts. Ephraim was born in Dedham in 1644. During King Philip's War Ephraim Roper served as a soldier. Ephraim Roper was at that time married to Priscilla and had a three year old daughter, also Priscilla. Both wife and daughter were killed by Indians in the Rowlandson garrison house on February 10, 1676. The final irony in the story was that both Hannah and her second husband, Ephraim, were themselves killed by Indians on September 11, 1697, at Lancaster, in a new Indian war. The above is a summary of an account found in The Genealogy of the Hand Family and Related Families by Dorothy Hand Dymond. If you would like a more detailed account, do read this book.

The following is a copy of the indictment against Daniel Goble found in the records of the Massachusetts Bay Colony:

Sixth Generation

15. Hatevil[6] Nutter[96]. Born, circa 1603, in Harlington, Bedfordshire, England[97]. Died, 1675, in Dover, Stafford Co., NH[98]. Immigration: 1633, at Dover Neck, Stafford Co., NH[99]. Occupation: planter; miller. Hatevil married Anne (16).

16. Anne, wife, Hatevil[6] Nutter[100]. Born, circa 1610, Somersetshire, England. Died, after 1674. Passenger List: 20 Mar 1634/5, from Yarmouth, England[109]. Immigration: 6 May 1635, at Boston, Suffolk Co., MA.

It is believed that Hatevil was born in 1603 in Harlington, Bedfordshire, England. Hatevil Nutter came to the shores of New England in the fall of 1633 with a company led by Captain Thomas Wiggins to establish a town at Dover Neck. He received several large grants of land in Dover Neck, present Stafford County, New Hampshire. On this land he operated saw mills and also had a shipyard on the Fore River. His ships sailed all along the Atlantic Coast and especially to the West Indies. His future son-in-law, John Winget, was also engaged in the lumber and shipping business.

Hatevil was a Puritan and very active in church affairs as a ruling elder in the First Church and as an occasional preacher. He was particularly opposed to the Quaker missionary movement in Dover and in 1662 helped to drive the vagabond Quaker women from the town. They had created much disturbance and had refused to leave. After the Quakers' first visit to Dover, they went to Maine but soon returned to Dover. Upon their return it was ordered that they be tied to a cart and whipped in eleven towns through which they would pass. They were whipped in Dover and in Salisbury and were then released. These women apparently enjoyed their role as martyrs for they again returned to Dover where the town constables dragged them out of doors and into the snow, taking them to the home of Thomas Canny, described in Quaker records as a very wicked man. The following day they were again dragged through the snow and down a steep hill to the harbor, but a storm arose and they were taken back to the house. At midnight they were turned out in the snow. A quote from this account is as follows: Hatevil Nutter, a ruling Elder, was present, stirring up the Constables to do this thing for which no warrant had they as ever could be known or did appear; for, procuring none, they turned them out at Midnight.

Leaving Dover the women went to Oyster River to stir up the Church of England, congregation of Priest Hull. (Priest Hull was, The Reverend Joseph Hull, (17) in this genealogy) They entered his church and interrupted his service. He was greatly angered and thrust her (Mary Tomkins) down from the place where she stood, with his own hands and the Priest pinched her arms whereupon they were had out of the place of worship. After this they held a Quaker meeting and the account claims that as a result of their preaching, the Priest was thus forced to go to the Isle of Shoals. (In fact he did have difficulties with his congregation and did go to the Isle of Shoals.) A more complete account of this affair can be found in Historical Memoranda Concerning Persons and Places in Old Dover, New Hampshire by John Scales. The original account quoted in this source was written by the Quakers in 1661 and not by an objective historian. It was, therefore, very sympathetic to these women.

Hatevil Nutter wrote his will on December 28, 1674. He was seventy-one at that time. Among the beneficiaries of his will were his present wife, Annie, and his daughter, Mary Winget, wife of John Winget. The will was proved on June 29, 1675. John and Mary Winget were the recipients of land on Dover Neck granted by Hatevil on February 13, 1670.

Children of Hatevil Nutter were:

i. Anthony Nutter. Born, 1630. Died, 19 Feb 1686, Bloody Point (Newington), NH. He married Sarah Langstaff, daughter of Henry Langstaff.

Anthony inherited his father's mill grant at Lamprey River, fifty acres in Cocheco Woods, and all the property willed to his wife, Anne, after her death.

10 ii. Mary[5] Nutter.

iii Elizabeth Nutter. Died, 1674. She married Thomas Layton, Jr.

iv Abigail Nutter. She married John Roberts, son of Governor Thomas Roberts.

17. Joseph[6] Hull (Thomas[7])[101]. Born, circa 1594, in Crewkerne, Somersetshire, England. Died, 19 Nov 1665, in Isles of Shoals, NH. Burial: Nov 1665, in Colonial Cem., York Village, ME. Passenger List: 6 May 1635, from Weymouth, England[102]. Graduation: 14 Nov 1614, from St. Mary's Hall, Oxford University.[103]. Occupation: clergyman. Joseph married[104] second, Agnes.(18).

18. Agnes, wife, Joseph[6] Hull[88]. Born, circa 1610, in England. Died, after 1665[131]. Passenger List: 20 Mar 1634/5, from Weymouth, England[132]. Immigration: 6 May 1635, at Boston, Suffolk Co., MA.

Joseph Hull, son of Thomas Hull and Joanna Peson, was born about 1594. At the time of his emigration from England in 1635 he was forty years of age. On May 22, 1612, Joseph matriculated into St. Mary's Hall, Oxford University and graduated on November 14, 1614. There he studied theology becoming rector in the parish of Colton in Devonshire under his brother, William Hull, parish curate. Joseph remained there until his ordination on April 14, 1621, at which time he became rector of Northleigh in the Diocese of Exeter.

Eleven years later Joseph resigned this post and returned with his family to Crewkerne, Somersetshire, his ancestral home. There he gathered a group of one hundred six followers from the towns of Broadway and Batcomb in Somersetshire and with them emigrated from Weymouth on March 20, 1635. At about this time Joseph's first wife must have died. His second wife, Agnes, was aged twenty-five at the time of their emigration. Joseph already had seven children ranging in age from fifteen to three. Three servants accompanied the family to America. The entire company arrived at the port of Boston on May 6, 1635. The colonists took up residence at Wessagusset, present day Weymouth, Massachusetts Bay Colony, on the plantation of Captain Robert Gorges. The Puritan establishment was not pleased with the coming of a Church of England pastor and sought to turn his parishioners against him. In the fall of 1635 Joseph was forced to leave Weymouth.

In 1636 or 1637 the Reverend Hull went to Hingham, serving as deputy to the General Court in September, 1638, and again the following March. His son, Benjamin, was born March 24, 1639, at Hingham. In May of 1639 he preached a farewell sermon at Weymouth and in June founded the town of Barnstable in the Plymouth Colony. A Thanksgiving service was held in his home in 1639. In December he was elected again deputy to the General Court. In 1641 he returned to Weymouth and was excommunicated by the Barnstable Church on May 1st. He was called by Governor Winthrop an excommunicated person and very contentious. He preached to the congregation in York, Maine, that year and also for a congregation on Hog Island in the Isles of Shoals. In 1642 a warrant for Joseph Hull was issued by the General Court at Weymouth to be activated if he should in the future exercise his ministry there.

Being unable to function at Weymouth or Barnstable, Joseph moved to the Isles of Shoals where he assumed a vacant pastorate. In 1643 the Reverend Joseph Hull and Sister Hull acknowledged their sin and evil with sorrow and were again admitted to communion at Weymouth; however, before the end of that year the couple had moved to York, Maine. From that location Joseph served in the Naragansett War and was rewarded in 1645 for his service with a lot. He was involved in a law suit in regard to this lot with Godfrey in July of 1646, and lost his case.

In 1647 Joseph and Agnes returned to England and served the parishes of Launceston and St. Buryan in Cornwall for the next twelve years. The Hulls left all but their youngest children in America. Their daughter, Naomi, aged seven, remained with a neighbor, William Williams, who was fined for having sheltered her. The Reverend Hull was ejected from England at the time of the Restoration in 1661, and in 1662 settled at Oyster River, present Durham, New Hampshire, where he was opposed by Quakers who disturbed his services. Joseph was also active at the Isles of Shoals. On November 19, 1665, he died at that location, but was buried in the Colonial Cemetery, York Village, Maine. His estate was valued at fifty-two pounds, five shillings, and five pence. His wife, Agnes, was living at the time of his death.

The children of Joseph and his first wife were probably:

i. Joane[5] Hull[105]. Born, circa 1620, in Crewkerne, Somersetshire, England. Died, after 1683, in Massachusetts. Passenger List: 20 Mar 1634/5, from Weymouth, England[106]. Immigration: 6 May 1635, at Boston, Suffolk Co., MA. She married[107], first, John Bursley[107], 28 Nov 1639, in Sandwich, Barnstable Co., MA[108]. Joane married[107], second, Dolor Davis[107].

ii. Joseph Hull[107]. Born, circa 1622, in Crewkerne, iii. Tristram Hull[107]. Born, circa 1622, in Crewkerne, Somersetshire, England. Died, 22 Feb 1666/7, in Yarmouth, Barnstable Co., MA. Passenger List: 20 Mar 1634/5, from Yarmouth, England[110]. Immigration: 6 May 1635, at Boston, Suffolk Co., MA. Tristram married[107] Blanche., circa 1643.

The famous Puritan minister, Rev. Cotton Mather (1663-1728), related the following event in the life of Elizabeth Hull who at the time was the widow of John Heard:

Mrs Elizabeth Heard, a Widow of good Estate, a Mother of many Children, and a Daughter of Mr. Hull, a Reverend Minister formerly Living at Piscataqua, now lived at Quechecho; happening to be at Portsmouth on the day before Quechecho was cut off, she returned thither in the Night with one Daughter and Three Sons, all Masters of Families. When they came near Quechecho they were astonished with a Prodigious Noise of Indians, Howling, Shooting, Shouting and Roaring, according to their manners in making an Assault. Their Distress for their Families carried them still further up the River till they secretly and silently passed by some Numbers of the Raging Savages. They landed about an Hundred Rods from Major Waldern's Garrison; and running up the Hill they saw many Lights in the Windows of the Garrison which they concluded the English within had set up for the Direction of those who might seek a Refuge there. Coming to the Gate they desired Entrance which not being readily granted, they called earnestly, and bounced and knocked and cried out of their unkindness within, that they would not open to them in this Extremity. No answer being yet made, they began to doubt whether all was well: and one of the young Men then climbing up the Wall, saw a horrible Tawny in the Entry, with a Gun in his hand. A grevious Consternation seiz'd now upon them: and Mrs. Heard, sitting down without the Gate through Despair and Faintness, unable to stir any further, charged her Children to shift for themselves, for she must unavoidably there end her days. They finding it impossible to carry her with them, with heavy Hearts forsook her, but then coming better to herself she fled and hid among the Barberry Bushes in the Garden: And then hastening from thence because the Daylight advanced, she sheltered herself (though seen by Two of the Indians) in a Thicket of other bushes, about Thirty Rods from the House. Here she had not been long before an Indian came towards her, with a Pistol in his Hand. The Indian came up to her, and stared her in the Face, but said nothing to her, nor she to him. He went a little way back, and came again, and stared upon her as before, but said nothing; whereupon she asked, what he would have. He still said nothing, but went away to the House Co-hooping, and returned to her no more. Being thus unaccountably preserved, she made several Essays to pass the River, but found herself unable to do it; and finding all Places on that side the River fill'd with Blood, and Fire, and Hideous Outcries, thereupon she returned to her old Bush and there poured out her ardent Prayers to God for help in this Distress. She continued in the Bush until the Garrison was Burnt, and the Enemy was gone; and then stole a long by the River side, until she came to a Boom, where she passed over. Many sad Effects of Cruelty she saw left by the Indians in her way; until arriving at Captain Gerrish's Garrison, she there found a Refuge from the Storm; and here she soon had the Satisfaction to understand, that her own Garrison, though one of the first that was assaulted, had been bravely Defended and Maintained against the Adversary. This gentle woman's Garrison was the most extream Frontier of the Province, and more Obnoxious than any other, and more uncapable of Relief; nevertheless by her Presence and Cerage it held out all the War, ever for Ten Years together; and the Persons in it have enjoyed very Eminent Preservations. The garrison had been deserted, she had accepted Offers that were made her by her Friend of Living in more safety at Portsmouth; which would have been a Damage to the Town and Land; But by her Encouragement this Post was thus kept; and she is yet Living (1698) in much Esteem among her Neighbors.

Mrs. Heard believed that in 1676 when four hundred Indians were captured at Cochecho that an Indian who had escaped and taken refuge with her must have been the same Indian who spared her life.

John Ferniside was born about 1611 in England. Based on the birth of his first child he was married about 1641 to Elizabeth Starr, daughter of Comfort Starr. They resided in Duxbury, Massachusetts Bay Colony. John was an accountant in Boston and a member of the First Church in Duxbury. His home was located near the present corner of Hanover and Salem Streets. The Fernisides had eight known children, some registered in Boston town records, and some at the First Church at Duxbury. The birth of their daughter, Hannah, who became the wife of Reuben Hull, was registered in Boston town records on the eighth day of the third month of 1649/50.

In the year 1645 John Ferniside was plaintiff in a suit versus Bonney in the Plymouth Court. In 1667 he deposed to the will of John Paybody. On June 13, 1688, at Boston, John wrote his own will.

On November 13, 1693, John was drowned in the millpond, and his will was proved the following February 24th. His daughter, Elizabeth, was named in this will. The original will is now missing from Suffolk County archives. An inventory was made of his estate on the 7th day of the 10th month of 1693. It included a house and land valued at one hundred pounds, shop goods, the usual household furnishings and items of clothing, and a parcel of books. The total value of the estate was 233 pounds.

His wife, Elizabeth, executrix of John's estate, died on June 4, 1704, aged eighty-three. Her will, written February 8th of that year, named her son, Jacob, and daughters, Elizabeth, Hannah, and Sarah, as well as granddaughters, Lydia Callendar and Elizabeth Payne.

Thomas Goble/Gobel was born in England, probably in Sussexshire. He married Alice Mousall in England and in 1634 they immigrated to America with their son, John. They took up residence in Charlestown located on a peninsula between the estuaries of the Maystic and Charles Rivers. Charlestown covered present day Cambridge and Boston as well as other Massachusetts towns. It was the second town established in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

The Gobles were Puritans. On August 30, 1634, they were admitted as members of the Church of God. On the third of September Thomas signed an oath of allegiance and became a freeman. A freeman had the privilege of participating in town meetings to conduct the affairs of the town. Thomas Gobel's signature was found on an order creating a board of selectmen on February 10, 1634/35. On December 1, 1640, Thomas Goble acted as a member of a jury of the Quarter Court in Boston which found Hugh Buets guilty of heresy. Hugh was banished from the jurisdiction upon pain of death and not to return upon pain of being hanged. The highest office which Thomas Goble held in Charlestown was as surveyor.

Thomas Goble was a small land holder in Charlestown holding only sixty-nine acres in 1638. The family removed to Concord, and there acquired a farm still known as Goble's Farm as late as 1904. The farm was located at the edge of Walden Woods on the road leading west from Lincoln Village near Concord.

Thomas Goble wrote his will on September 30, 1657. It was probated on December 29, 1657. An inventory was taken on December 12 by Robert Mirriam and George Wheeler. Thomas left a widow and six children, two of whom remained in England.

In the year 1640 John Brewer, a young man of twenty, came to Cambridge, Massachusetts, from England where he was a carpenter. During King Philip's War he went to Brookfield to build houses for the garrison which had been stationed there. John became a resident of Sudbury in 1647. Comfort Starr, son of Thomas and Susanna Starr, was baptized in St. Dunstan's Church, Cranbrook, County Kent, England, on July 6, 1589. That he was the son of Thomas is known from the will of his brother, Jehosaphat Starr, of Ashford, dated February 2, 1659. For twenty years Comfort practiced medicine in Cranbrook. From 1631 to 1632 he was warden of St. Mary's Church in Ashford. In 1635. Thomas, his sons, Thomas and Comfort, his daughter, Mary, and two male servants and a female servant (sister?), named Truth-Shall-Prevail Starre, embarked from Sandwich in the ship, Hercules. During the summer they arrived at Boston. His wife and other children, Elizabeth, John, Hannah, and Lydia, were not named on this list. They probably came to America at a later time. Only one child, Ruth, was born in America.

After arriving in New England Dr. Starr practiced medicine at New Towne, present Cambridge. On June 19, 1638, he purchased eighty acres of land, five acres of meadow, and a mansion house and other buildings from John Brewster of the Plymouth Colony, located at South Duxbury. Comfort was to be allowed to cut hay on the land of Miles Standish and William Alden. When Harvard College was established in September of 1638, instruction was held in the house of Dr. Starr. On August 7, 1638, Dr. Starr was granted one hundred and twenty acres between the North and South Rivers by the Massachusetts Bay Colony. He was made a freeman on June 4, 1639. In 1643 he was included in a list of males to bear arms together with his two sons-in-law, John Maynard and John Ferniside, and son, John Starr.

Dr. Starr moved to the north end of Boston and made his residence on fifty acres on the highway between the wharf and what is now North Market Street and Faneuli Hall Square to Charlestown Ferry. On December 10, 1654, he and Dr. John Clark performed the first autopsy in America. At the time of his death Dr. Starr had a practice of two hundred and seventy-five patients.

Comfort Starr made his will on April 22, 1659. His death occurred on January 2, 1659/60, in Boston, and the will was proved, February 3rd. Bequests were made to: Samuel Starr; five children of his daughter, Maynard; to the child of his deceased son, Thomas Starr, and to Thomas' widow living in England; to his grandson, Simon Eire; to his son, John Starr; to his daughter, Elizabeth Ferniside; and to two brothers-in-law, John Morley and Faithful Rouse.

An inventory of his estate was made on February 3, 1659/60. Dr. Starr's estate included cash, clothing, furniture, plate, arms, medicines and medical instruments, animals, two houses, and debts due to the estate. He and his wife, Elizabeth, were buried in King's Chapel Burying Grounds, Boston. The original stone disappeared, but in 1904 a new marker was erected. Another marker was placed in St. Mary's Church in Cranbrook, England.

Eighth Generation

29. Thomas[8] Starr (Thomas[9])[162]. Born, 1565, in New Romney, County Kent, England[163]. Died, 1641, in Dorchester, Suffolk Co., MA[164]. Passenger List: 9 Jun 1637, in ship, Hercules, of Sandwich. Occupation: mercer. Thomas married[165] Susanna.(30), before 1589, in England.

30. Susanna, wife, Thomas[8] Starr[165]. Born, 1567. Died, after 1641[179].

On December 2, 1597, Thomas Starr of Cranbrook, England, gave a deposition in which he said he was born about 1565 in New Romney. He stated that he had lived between 1587 and 1597 in Cranbrook. Eleven days later Thomas of Cranbrook, County Kent, mercer (a dealer in costly fabrics), was surety on a guardian's bond of a London woolen draper, William Daniels, for one hundred and sixty pounds sterling.

Standwell Starr was born at Cranbrook on April 13, 1600. Some time between the birth of Standwell and the baptism of Judith Starr which was registered at Ashford on October 17, 1602, Thomas and Susanna relocated in Ashford. Their last child, Beloved, was baptized at Ashford in March of 1616.

It would appear that after the emigration of Thomas' son, Comfort, Thomas and Susanna decided to join Comfort in America. On June 6, 1637, the passenger list of the ship, Hercules, of Sandwich, John Witherly, Master, recorded Thomas Starr, of Canterbury, yeoman, his wife, Susan, and child, Constant, as sailing for the American Plantations. Thomas and Susan became members of the Dorchester Church on November 9, 1639.

ALLIED MATERNAL FAMILIES

Chapter X

DESCENDANTS OF PETER BILLOW

The roots of the Billow family were in Germany but have not been located. The ancestry of Anna May Billow, who considered herself to be Pennsylvania Dutch, has been traced to a Peter Billow born in 1785 in Pennsylvania. Peter was a resident of Cumberland County, and later of Perry County formed from Cumberland in 1819. The family of an earlier Peter Billow, 1758-1819, resided in York County, south of Cumberland County, before 1783. He later removed to Rye Township in Cumberland County, present day Perry County. These two Billow families were often neighbors. Some information about the family of Peter Billow, 1758-1819, has been included because of confusion of the two lines by some researchers, and also because of the inevitable conclusion that these lines were related. A number of unconfirmed family traditions have grown up around these two Billow lines which will be discussed in more detail.

Perry County is a gently rolling farm land. On the east it is bordered by the Susquehanna River. On the south are the Kittatinny or Blue Mountains which divide Perry from its parent county, Cumberland. In the north of Perry County is the Juniata River which flows south-eastward, bisecting the county, and joining the Susquehanna above Duncannon. It was in the southern part of the county in Rye Township in the Fishing Creek Valley that the early Billows and Kahneys made their homes.

In the earliest days residents of Rye Township attended church in Carlisle, Cumberland County, necessitating a journey of ten to fifteen miles on narrow paths in five gaps over North Mountain. The three most likely used by our ancestors were: Sterrett's Gap, on the Old Allegheny Path, elevation 925 feet, Myers' Gap south of Greer's Point, and Lamb's Gap opposite Hartman's Mill in Rye Township, elevation 1,018 feet. Some early Billow marriages and christenings were registered in Carlisle at the Lutheran Church. Early services in Rye Township, Perry County, were held in homes, barns, and even in the woods. These services were conducted by the ministers of the Loysville congregation who preached in Sherman's Valley, on Fishing Creek in Rye Township, and in Pisgah Valley. The Fishing Creek congregation was probably organized in 1811, and the first Lutheran edifice, Mount Zion Church in Fishing Creek Valley, Rye Township, was consecrated on August 14, 1816. The structure was of logs, about thirty-five feet by forty feet. Records by the Reverend Benjamin Keller of baptisms, confirmations, and lists of communicants were begun in 1816.

In 1830 the Mount Pisgah Evangelical Lutheran congregation was organized about five miles to the west with services conducted in English. The church edifice was erected in 1842 and is now located in Carroll Township on the southeast bank of Sherman's Creek on the site of Sutch's Schoolhouse erected between 1775 and 1780. Billow's Mill was nearby. In November of 1845 St. David's Church was erected, also known as Billow's church, about four or five miles north of Mount Zion Church in Wheatfield Township. The members of these two new congregations were taken from Mount Zion Church whose members continued to desire services in German but were unable to obtain a German speaking pastor after 1849.

Early services in Rye Township were conducted in German and records provided German names and spellings. It would seem the community was German speaking for a great number of years. When a biography of Mark D. Billow was written about 1911 and published in History of Carroll County, Missouri, his grandfather, Martin Billow, was said to be a German who came to America many years ago and settled in Pennsylvania, where he spent the remainder of his life. This information was quite inaccurate as Martin Billow, son of Peter born 1785, was born in Perry County, Pennsylvania, and probably died in Missouri. It seems likely that Martin grew up speaking German and when speaking English did so with a German accent, thus giving rise to the belief. Similar information was found on the death certificate of Martin's son, Charles Henry Billow. The informant, Charles' wife, stated that Martin and Elizabeth Kahney Billow were both born in Germany. Again the conclusion would be that Martin and his wife either spoke German and/or English with an accent.

The first school in Rye Township was built on forty perches of land belonging to Jacob Sidle. On February 2, 1819, Jacob sold the tract to himself and fifteen other residents of the area including Peter Billow. Each purchaser was to pay $1.00 to Jacob Sidle and an equal portion for building the school and keeping it in good repair.

When Martin Billow left Perry County in the 1850s, he took his family east to Illinois. Here the beautiful prairie farms were larger and more level. Martin and his sons migrated after the Civil War to Carroll County, Missouri. By the latter decades of the century the youngest three of Martin's sons had removed to Idaho.

We will now trace the descendants of Peter Billow, b. 1785, forefather of Anna May "Babe" Billow Shellabarger and her sister, Elizabeth Jane "Lizzie" Billow Shellabarger. Information about Peter Billow, 1758-1819, is provided as well as descendant charts for both Peter Billows.

Descendants of Peter Billow (b. 1785)

First Generation

1. Peter[1] Billow. Born, circa 1785, in Pennsylvania[1]. Died, before 1860[2]. Census: 1820, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 334. Census: 1830, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 29. Census: 1840, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 305. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 606. Occupation: farmer; miller; distiller.

Peter married Margaret (Swartz)[3], believed to be a daughter of Martin and Maria Charlotta Swartz. Born, circa 1788, in Pennsylvania[4]. Died, after 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 606. Census: 24 Jul 1860, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 853. Census: 30 Jul 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 4.

The 1850 census listed two Peter Billows in Rye Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania: Peter aged sixty-five with wife, Margaret, and Peter aged sixty with no wife. Both were born in Pennsylvania. Peter, aged sixty, was the son of Peter, Sr., 1758-1819. He was christened in 1790 and named in the will of his father. Peter aged sixty-five with wife, Margaret, was the father of Martin Billow as determined from Martin's baptismal record.

It is certain that Peter was closely associated with the children of Peter, 1758-1819. An unsubstantiated story is that Peter born about 1785 was the son of a German Hessian soldier by the name of Nicholas Von Bulow who married a Cherokee Indian princess. This is a very romantic tale; however, such an individual did not appear in the Cumberland or Perry County tax records, census records, land records, or probate records, nor were there christening records for children of Nicholas. It has been said that Von Bulow assisted in building the barracks at Carlisle after his capture, but records of prisoners included no such name.

The will of Peter's son, Jacob, stated that Jacob was born near Sulphur Springs in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, in 1811. Sulphur Springs was located in present day Wheatfield Township, Perry County, near Duncannon. This established an early residence, but by 1816 Peter had removed to Rye Township.

In the 1823-25 tax lists of Rye Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania, Peter Billow, farmer, owned fifty acres and one cow. In 1826-28 tax lists we find he was charged an occupation tax as a distiller. Peter appeared again in 1835-37 with tracts of forty-seven acres and two hundred three acres, a saw mill, one cow, and two horses. In 1838-40 he had tracts of fifty acres and forty acres, one horse, and two cows.

Peter was married to Margaretta. Circumstantial evidence leads to the probability that her father was Martin Swartz, Sr. Some additional information about Martin Swartz, Sr., may be found in Chapter XVI. Peter and Margaretta appeared in the records of the Mt. Zion Lutheran parish in West Fishing Creek Valley, Rye Township where three of their children were christened: Susanna, born August 21, 1817, and christened on January 3, 1818, Martin, born September 14, 1820, and christened November 5, 1821, and Peter, born May 1, 1823, and christened on June 15 of that year. Margaretta (Swartz) Billo/Bilo/Billow was a communicant on November 10, 1816, October 12, 1817, May 20, 1820, and on April 29, 1821. On the following dates she appeared as a communicant with her husband, Peter: October 12, 1822, October 29, 1826, August 30, 1829, September 12, 1830, and June 10, 1832. Obviously Peter did not die in 1828 or 1829 as some researchers have stated. It was Peter, 1758-1819, whose probate was closed in 1829 in Perry County.

On February 1, 1830, Peter purchased two hundred twenty-eight acres in Rye Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania, from Elizabeth Logue. On November 25, 1835, Peter and his wife, Margaret, sold the same acreage to George Belshower of Cumberland County for $330. It is also known that on April 17, 1817, Jacob and Elizabeth Sidle sold Peter Billow a tract of fourteen acres and another of sixteen acres in Rye Townhip, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. On December 6, 1844, Peter and Margaret sold David Coble of East Pennsboro Township in Cumberland County fourteen acres for $119.40. On the same date the Billows sold sixteen acres to John Snavely of East Pennsboro, Cumberland County, for $128.85.

In February of 1829, Peter "Billo" witnessed the will of John "William" Henry Messinger. The Messinger family resided in Silver Spring Township, Cumberland County from 1804 until about 1814 when they removed to Rye Township. Peter's son, Martin, was a resident of that township before removing to Rye township. John William Henry Messinger and his wife, Catharine Gosswiller, had five sons: Henry, John, Jacob, William, and Daniel as well as five daughters. A Messinger connection to the Kahney family, into which three of Peter Billow's children married, seems to have existed. Peter's son, Jacob, and David Messinger made an inventory of the estate of Serapin Kahney in 1852. William Messinger, Jr., father of David Messinger, was administrator of the Kahney estate.

By the July 24, 1860 census Peter's widow, Margaret, was a resident of Troy Grove, La Salle County, Illinois, living with her daughter, Susanna, then aged forty-four. It is probable that Peter and Margaret had accompanied their son, Martin, to Illinois, and that Peter had died before the 1860 census; therefore, in 1860 Margaret had a household separate from her son. By the time of the census taken on July 30, 1870, Margaret, then aged eighty-two, had come to live with her son, Martin, in La Salle County, Illinois. Margaret's daughter, Susan, unmarried and aged fifty-two, was in Martin's household as well.

The children of Peter and Margaretta (Swartz) Billow were:

2 i. Jacob[2] Billow.
3 ii. George Billow.
iii. Susanna Billow. Born, 28 Aug 1817, in Carlisle Twp., Cumberland Co., PA[5]. Died, after 1870, in Illinois, or Missouri. Christened, 3 Jan 1818, in Mt. Zion Lutheran Church, Rye Twp., Cumberland Co., PA[6]. Census: 24 Jul 1860, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 853. Census: 30 Jul 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 4. Susanna Billow was unmarried.
4 iv. Martin Billow.
5 v. Peter Billow.
6 vi. Margaret Billow.

Second Generation

2. Jacob[2] Billow (Peter[1]). Born, 8 Dec 1811, in Sulphur Springs, Wheatfield Twp., Cumberland, PA[7]. Died, 24 Jun 1854, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA[8]. Confirmation: 3 Aug 1829, in Mt. Zion Lutheran Church, Fishing Creek Valley, Rye Twp., Cumberland Co., PA. Burial: Jun 1854, in Bethel Church Burial Ground, Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 604. Occupation: farmer.

Jacob probably married Mary Theresa (Kahney), daughter of Serapin "Serephy" and Mary Ursula "Moriah" Kahney. Born, circa 1810, in Pennsylvania, or Baden[9]. Died, after 1870, in Illinois, or Missouri. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 604.

When Serapin "Serephy" Kahney and his wife died in 1852, Jacob Billow made an inventory of the estate. Jacob and Mary Theresa Billow named their second son, John Serephy. It seems likely that he was named for Serephy Kahney, and that Mary Theresa was named for her mother, Mary Ursula Kahney. After Jacob Billow, died in 1854, Mary went to Cumberland County. Their minor children were placed in various homes and locations throughout the county.

The children of Jacob and Mary Theresa (Kahney) Billow were:

i. Mary Elizabeth[3] Billow. Born, circa 1834, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA[10]. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 604. Census: 1860, in Hampden Twp., Cumberland Co., PA; p. 149[11].

Census: 30 Jul 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 4. Occupation: farmer; cooper.

Martin married[33] Elizabeth Mary Kahney[34], daughter of Serapin "Serephy" and Mary Ursula "Moriah" Kahney, circa 1842 in Pennsylvania. Born, circa 1820, in Pennsylvania. Died, after 1881, in Missouri, or Idaho. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 606. Census: 24 Jul 1860, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 855. Census: 30 Jul 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 4.

Martin Billow was born September 14, 1820, in Rye Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania. He was the son of Peter and Margaret (Swartz) Billow. About 1842 Martin married Mary Elizabeth Kahney, the daughter of Serapin and Mary Ursula Kahney who are further discussed in Chapter XVIII.

On May 12, 1843, Martin Billow purchased thirty acres in Rye Township, Perry County, from John and Sarah Myers for $333.78. The following year the property was mortgaged to Myers with payment due by April 5, 1849, in the amount of $383. The mortgage was paid in full on February 28, 1848, brother-in-law, John Kahney, being witness to the release of the lien. In the year 1849 Martin was a resident of Hamden, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. On April 2nd of that year he purchased forty-six acres in Rye Township, Perry County, from Levi Capp for $525. The census taken on September 10, 1850, listed Martin as a resident of Rye Township, with real estate valued at $600. His occupation was given as a cooper. On April 1, 1851, Martin sold Levi Capp the same forty-six acres, evidently in preparation for a move to Troy Grove, La Salle County, Illinois. At the latter location on July 24, 1860, Martin gave his occupation as a farmer to the census taker and had real estate valued at $800 and personal property of $300. Deed Book 123 in La Salle County was destroyed in a fire. It contained a grantee deed to Martin. In Deed Book 53, page 288, was recorded a deed by which on March 30, 1855, Daniel and Sarah B. King granted Martin lot 12, block 72 in La Salle. Deed Book 137, page 377, recorded a mortgage deed on February 13, 1872, granted to Martin Billow by Joseph Gephard. In Deed Book 153, page 316, a trust deed was recorded to Mark W. Reed of Mendota on February 13, 1872, for $1,000 from Martin and Elizabeth. The property was described as the N 1/2 of the SW 1/4 of S10, T35, R1E. The latter two deeds dealt with the same property located between the towns of Troy Grove and Mendota both in Troy Grove Township.

On July 30, 1870, the census taker recorded the value of Martin's real property at $5000 and his personal property at $1500. Living with his family were Martin's sister, Susan, his mother, Margaret, and his sister-in-law, Maria Kahney, aged sixty, born in Baden. Martin's son, Isaac, daughter-in-law, Alice, and grandchild, Martha, were also with the family.

During the Civil War Martin's sons, Frederick Augustus and Isaac S., served from the state of Illinois. His fourth son, Francis Patrick, born September 18, 1847, was too young for service as was his youngest son, Charles Henry. Son, William, died some time before the 1870 census and was buried in the Troy Grove Cemetery.

In 1872, two property sales were made in preparation for removal to Carroll County, Missouri, where Martin's sons had previously located. On February 17, 1873, Martin and Elizabeth sold Daniel Singleton eighty acres in Carroll County, Missouri, located in the W 1/2 of the NW 1/4 of S16, T55, R22, for $760. Martin's residence was stated as Livingston County, Missouri, on the deed.

Martin was not located in the 1880 census; however, the records from Livingston County are in large part unreadable. We do know that on October 17, 1881, he and Elizabeth sold Amos Kruser and Martin's son, Henry Billow, several tracts in Grand River Township for $2,000:

ACRES	DESCRIPTION
80	N½ of NE¼
40	SE¼ of NE¼
40	SW¼ of the NE¼ excepted 13 acres on the west side of a branch running across said 40 acre tract leaving 27 acres excepted also a piece of land 30 feet square near the center of the SW¼ of the NE¼ reserved for a family burial ground. This burial ground is now known as the Singleton Cemetery. All these tracts were located in the NE¼ of S18, T56, R22W. The cemetery may be found by driving east from highway 65 on Route H to the first gravel road on the left, east of Avalon, north one mile, east one mile. Park east of the bridge and walk south through the pasture, up the hill to 50x50 foot cemetery with tall timber all around it.

On February 14, 1887, Martin and Elizabeth sold five acres in the SW¼ of S13, T56, R23, Livingston County, to Sarah P. Keru for $700. The Billow's address at that time was in Carroll County. This was the same year in which Martin's son, Francis Patrick, moved to Idaho. This sale may have been made in preparation for relocation, and Martin and Elizabeth may have died somewhere in Idaho. No death or burial records have been found for them as yet in either Missouri or Idaho.

The children of Martin and Elizabeth Mary Kahney Billow were:

13 i. Frederick Augustus "Gus"[3] Billow.

On September 20, 1847, Peter and Susan Billow sold a tract of land containing twenty acres, one hundred and twenty-four perches to John Welty for $350. This land had been purchased on April 10, 1846, from Jacob and Catherine Hartman. The tract was located on the public highway in Rye Township, Perry County, Pennsylvania, with neighbors, Jacob Hartman and Nancy Provard. This sale was recorded in Perry County Deed Book M, pages 20-21.

Wesley Billow settled on a small farm in Hunter's Valley, Perry County. Three months of the year he served as a teacher at $75 a year. He supplemented his needs by helping neighbors on their farms and working on township roads to pay his taxes.

After his retirement the following delightful piece of poetic prose appeared in a local paper in praise of William Wesley Billow:

W. W. BILLOW
(MT. JOY)

Than Henry Ford's few brighter minds are shining for the press. He says each workman needs three trades, that none should lag with less. And Roosevelt's famed arithmetic, now Mussolini's pet, which freights it on the conscience and the talents to beget, implies that one will need the trades, with hands alert and skilled to keep the ends in hats and shoes and all the middles filled.

Mt. Joy presents a citizen who fits with both their schools. He's able with the plasterer's or carpentering tools, can weave a rug as tight and snug as Kurds' by allah made, when Garfield was the President, pursued the teacher's trade; he tilled a merry little farm where everything was right, and in a local Sunday School a leader and a light.

And did he, being thus concerned, forget or lose from view the task which no device of Ford or Edison can do? Two daughters and six sober sons he raised around his ranch, in right reproof of citizens whose tree neglects to branch, for there is immortality no skeptic can decry, a pleasing picture for the world's or Brother Billow's eye.

Two obituaries appeared for Wesley Billow:

Frederick Billow first appeared in the 1850 Census of Troy Grove, Illinois, aged seven. Later records recorded his name as Augustus F. Billow, and he was known as Gus. On December 1, 1861, he enlisted for service in the Civil War at Ottawa, Illinois, as a private in George W. Reid's Company D of the 64th Regiment of Illinois Volunteers. He was discharged from service at Pulaski, Tennessee, on December 31, 1863, and re-enlisted in the Veteran Corp. His discharge papers dated January 9, 1864, stated that he was six feet tall, of fair complexion, and had black hair, and hazel eyes. His birthplace was given as Perry County, Pennsylvania, and age to be twenty-one, indicating a birth date of 1842. His final discharge from the Veteran Corp was on July 11, 1865.

By the years 1867-68, F. A. Billow was a resident of Hurricane Township, Carroll County, Missouri, holding the southeast quarter of S12, T55N, R22W. There he was a prominent citizen and instrumental in organizing the first school district in Hurricane Township. Augustus returned to Troy Grove to marry Susan Henrietta Webster on January 19, 1871. Gus died of cancer of the bone from a bullet wound in the knee contracted during his Civil War service.

The children of Frederick Augustus and Susan Henrietta Webster Billow were:

He married Sylvia "Alice" McDonald[34], daughter of William D. McDonald and Margaret Wor, 20 Feb 1867, in Dixon, Lee Co., IL. Marriage(2): 20 Feb 1868, in Dixon, Lee Co., IL[84]. Born, 28 Jan 1847, in La Salle Co., IL[33]. Died, 26 Jun 1917, in Nezperce, Lewis Co., ID[83]. Census: 30 Jul 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle co., IL. Census: 1900, in Nezperce, Nez Perce Co., ID; ED84 SH12. Census: 1910, in Nezperce, Nez Perce Co., ID; p. 191. Alice was a member of the Christian Church.

The Civil War pension records of Isaac S. Billow described him as being five feet, eight inches in height, weight of one hundred fifty-five pounds, with gray eyes, and light hair and complexion.

Isaac Billow enlisted in the Civil War at Mendota, Illinois, on May 5, 1864. He served in Company A, 132nd Regiment, of the Illinois infantry. He spent most of his service time in Kentucky and on the Mississippi River, participating in several skirmishes. Isaac was discharged from service on October 17, 1864, at Chicago. After his service he suffered from chronic diarrhea and piles.

On February 20, 1867 or 1868, Isaac married Sylvia "Alice" McDonald in Dixon, Lee County, Illinois. Sylvia Alice McDonald's grandfather was Dr. Malcolm McDonald, a surgeon in the War of 1812. Alice, Frederick and their daughter, Martha, were living with Martin Billow in Troy Grove, Illinois, on July 30, 1870, when the census was taken. The newly married couple moved to Carroll County, Missouri, soon after to occupy the property purchased by Isaac on April 5, 1869. This tract was located in the SE¼ of S8, R55, T22, Carroll County, Missouri, and purchased from Edward Prince.

By 1890 the family had settled in Palouse, Washington. In 1893 they went to Moscow, Latah County, Idaho, and in 1896 again removed to Nez Perce County having at the time only two cows, four horses, and a wagon. From this meager beginning Isaac developed a prosperous, fully-fenced farm, with a seven room house, barns, and outbuildings. He was involved in ranching and stockraising. The 1910 census listed him as a resident of Nez Perce County, but by the time of the 1920 census Isaac, then a widower, had retired and had residence in Coeur d'Alene at 1014 Lakeside Street.

At the age of fifty-one Isaac applied for a pension for his Civil War service claiming to have had attacks of rheumatism in the previous four years. On March 29, 1927, Doctor E. Taylor testified that Isaac, aged eighty-two, was totally helpless and had been so since December 15, 1926, being unable to dress himself or move about and in need of constant care.

Francis appeared in the 1860 census with his parents in Troy Grove. Francis was too young to serve in the Civil War. After the war he and his brother, Frederick, went to Hurricane Township, Carroll County, Missouri, T55N, R22W. There they began farming in this fertile, rolling, prairie country. The Farrs made their home in Wood Township of Carroll County. Five daughters were born to them: Etta, Lizzie, Anna May, Frances, and Erma. Cornelia Farr's ancestry is discussed in more detail in Chapter XII.

The Peter Billow Family (1758-1819)

1. Peter[1] Billow. Born, 1758. Died, 1819, in Rye Twp., Cumberland Co., PA[1]. Census: 1790, in York Twp., York Co., PA[2]. Census: 1800, in Hellam Twp., York Co., PA; p. 1317. Census: 1810, in Hellam Twp., York Co., PA; p. 157. Occupation: carpenter; farmer.

Peter married Margaretta, b.1756, circa 1780. Died, circa 1828. Census: 1820, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA[3].

In 1783 Peter Bilo appeared on the tax list of York Town, York County, Pennsylvania. He was then a carpenter and had living with him two servants and one Negro. His property valuation was forty pounds. Peter's name was spelled variously in land, tax, military, and census records as Bilo, Billo, Bielow, Billow, and Pillow. Peter was unable to write. He appeared at this location in 1790 listed as Peter Pillow.

From 1786 to 1788 Peter Billow was a private on the muster roll of Captain Peter Schwartz, commander of the lst Company of the lst Battalion of the York Militia, commanded by Colonel Henry Miller.

Peter and his wife, Margaretta, were members of Christ Lutheran Church in York. It was there their daughter, Elizabeth, born January 18, 1783, was christened on March 9, 1783. Her baptismal sponsors were Ludwig Scheib and his wife. Their daughters, Margaret and Mary, were born about this time as well, although no christening records have been located. Their eldest son, John Peter, was born February 28, 1790, and christened at York on March 4, 1790. His baptismal sponsor was John Deittrich. The Billows' second son was John George, born June 5, 1792, and christened September 30, 1792. His sponsors were George and Magdalina Dietz. John George's mother was given as Catharine, although it is certain that he was Peter's son, as George was administrator of Peter's will. The will named the other children all of whom had a mother, Margaret, if found in christening records. Daughter, Catharine, "Caty", was born about 1790 but no christening records were found.

In the land records of York County were recorded the following transactions involving Peter Billow:

DATE	DESCRIPTION
April 12, l785	Peter Bielow, carpenter, purchased a lot in York Town on the east side of Beaver Street and north side of Queen Street, lot 225, from Eve Margaret and Michael Ebert paying a total of 160 pounds and assuming a mortgage for the remainder of 80 pounds in gold or silver by April 12, 1789. The deed was recorded in York Deed Book G, pp. 536-7.
April 1, 1793	Peter Billow, carpenter, and wife, Margaret, to Jacob Shultz of Borough of York, Lot # 235
Feb. 19, 1793	Martin Rapp sold Peter Billow a tract in Hellam Twp.; 15 acres, 73 poles; recorded in Deed Book G, p. 536
Aug. ll, 1794	Peter Billow, Hellam Twp., carpenter, to Henry Dietz a mortgage deed which was satisfied Sept. 13, 1800; 35L, 8S, 6P; recorded in Deed Book l, p. 200

By 1800 Peter and his wife, Margaretta were living in Hellam Township, York County. They had two sons under age ten, two daughters in the same age group, and one from 10-16 years of age. The tax records of Hellam Township, listed Peter Bilo/Billow in the years 1800 and 1801, 1804 and 1805, and 1807 to 1810. He was charged a license fee as a carpenter, had fifteen acres, one or two cows, and a horse. He appeared in the 1810 census again with one male, 0-10, three males, 16-26, two females, 0-10, and two females, 10-16. In the decade from 1800 to 1810 daughter, Margaretta, married Martin Schwartz, November 3, 1801, at Christ Lutheran Church, Elizabeth, married Henry Neukommer on June 2, 1805, at Christ Lutheran Church, and Catharine married Jacob Liebhard, December 21, 1807, at First Trinity Reformed Lutheran Church, York. Daughters, Lydia and Leina, were born during this decade. After 1810 Jacob and Sally were born.

On April 22, 1812, Peter Billow assumed land between Pine Hill and Sherman's Creek, on the north side of the Blue Mountains. The original tract had been patented in 1805 to Samuel Funk. Funk sold one hundred six acres to John Minnich who in turn sold it on July 5, 1809, to Adam Fultz. Before 1820 a tavern and distillery were erected on the site. The land was inherited by George Billow in accordance with the will of Peter Billow. George took possession on January 31, 1829, at the close of the probate of his father's estate. Until the installation of a bridge in 1836, a crossing place known as Billow's Fording existed at Sherman's Creek.

On April 16, 1817, Peter Billo wrote his will quoted below with the original capitalization and spelling preserved:

> In the Name of God Amen I Peter Billo Sr of Rye township County of Cumberland and state of Penn being this Day weak in body but of Sound mind memory and understanding (Blessed be god for the same) Considering the uncertainty of this transitory life do make and publish this my last will and testament in manner and following to wit First it is my will and I do order that all my just Debts and Funeral Expences be Duly paid as soon as conveniently can be after my Deceas

Alexr Rodgers Peter Billo X his mark Seal

The will was proved March 10, 1819. Cumberland County gave up Rye Township in 1820 when Perry County was established; therefore, the probate of this will was found in Perry.

An inventory of Peter's goods and chattels was filed on March 26, 1819, in Cumberland County. It included household goods, tools, a rifle, two red cows, one red heifer, five sheep, and a sorrel horse. The total value was $313.

In Perry County was found a continuation of this probate. Notes in the estate papers referred to George Meise, executor of (?), by assignee of Ludwick Cornman. Balance of Bond due April 1, 1822, in the amount of $100 plus interest of $12.10. At the Orphan's Court in Bloomfield in January of 1829, Conrad Eckert was presented to the court saying a sheriff's sale had been held with proceeds of eight hundred dollars, insufficient to pay all the debts against the estate. Auditors were appointed to marshal the money among the creditors. Their report was made on April 6, 1829. The amount of the estate was $835. In 1833 George Billow, executor, distributed $813.92 .

At the time of the 1820 census, the widow, Margaretta, made her home with her son, George. Five of her children besides George were home with her. She did not appear with George in the 1830 census so probably died about 1828 before the estate distribution was made. It seemed very strange that the eldest son, John Peter, was not named executor, nor did he inherit the family farm.

Chapter XI

DESCENDANTS OF ALEXANDER DRUMMOND

The earliest records of the ancestors of Emily Drummond, wife of George Ephraim Shellabarger, have been found in the town of Old Meldrum which is located in the district of Garioch, Aberdeenshire, seventeen and three-quarters miles north-northwest of Aberdeen. Old Meldrum was chartered in 1672 by Charles II, and anciently known as Bethelnie. Bethelnie is today a separate village north of Old Meldrum. The Meldrum church was erected in 1684 and still stands together with its burying ground. Remains of a Roman camp and a more ancient chapel called Chapel House with its burying ground are located on a nearby farm. Old Meldrum Church records of baptisms and deaths began in the year 1713. The earliest Drummond in these records was John Drummond whose son, Patrick, was christened on April 29, 1715. During the eighteenth century members of the Drummond family were merchants in the town. Old Meldrum still conducts a weekly market and is today a center for cotton manufacture, stocking knitting, a brewery, a distillery and several handicraft trades as well as agricultural pursuits.

The name Drummond can be found in Scottish records from 1067 when Maurice, an Hungarian ship captain who had been of service to Queen Margaret, wife of Malcolm III, and of her father, was rewarded with a coat of arms and given the surname, Drummond. Previous to this time period surnames were not in use. The territorial name of Drymen or Drummond is from Stirlingshire. Malcolm de Dromman was a chamberlain to, and witness of, charters by Maldouen, Earl of Levenax, 1225-1270. He married the earl's daughter, Ava. In 1296 Gilbert de Dromund, Count of Dunbrettan, swore fealty to Edward I, 1239-1307, an English ruler in control of Scotland. After the death of Edward I, Robert the Bruce, gained control of the English strongholds in Scotland, a struggle which culminated in the Battle of Bannockburn. He was supported in this battle by Sir Malcolm de Drymen, and thus the armorial bearings of the Drummonds contain caltrops which were used in that battle to defeat the English cavalry. Malcolm took the motto, Gang warily. In 1369 Margaret Drummond married King David II. Annabella Drummond married King Robert III, becoming mother of James I. Sir John Drummond was made Lord Drummond in 1488, and King James VI bestowed the Earldom of Perth on the 4th Baron Drummond in 1605. This title was elevated to a dukedom by James VII. Extracts from the Council Register of the Burgh of Aberdeen, 1625-1642 refer to Lord Drummond on May 27, 1639, who with other nobility requested payment for an expedition against the Laird of Banff. No link has been found to titled Drummonds.

Witnesses to the christenings of the children of Alexander Drummond in Old Meldrum included town merchants, William Martin, William and John Simpson, Jr. and Sr., John Thomson, and Michael Likly, son of the minister of Meldrum. The Reverend Henry Likly, his son, John, and grandson, James, all served as ministers of Old Meldrum between 1706 and 1817. Another baptismal sponsor in 1735 and 1739 was James Murdock, a schoolmaster at Sibly who died aged seventy-three on April 26, 1783.

A christening record was not found for Christian Mackie. Three persons by the name of William Mackie appeared as parents in Old Meldrum christening records. William Mackie of Pilgavenie in Bourtie had a son, William, christened, October 21, 1719. A sponsor at this christening was William Simpson, Sr., mentioned above. A weaver, William Mackie, had several children christened between 1716 and 1738. William Simpson was a sponsor at the christening of William Mackie's son, Alexander, in 1722. When William Mackie's son, William, was christened on May 9, 1725, William Simpson, Sr., was again a sponsor. Robert and Thomas Simpson witnessed the christening of William Mackie's daughter, Barbara, in 1736. Finally William Mackie, a smith from Bethelnie, had children christened in 1731, 1733, 1737, and 1739. A Mary Mackie of Old Kirk died of palsy in her eighties on January 14, 1749.

When comparing Scottish birthdates to comparable dates in the United States which did not adjust its calendar until 1751, it must be noted that the Gregorian Calendar was adopted in Scotland as early as 1600 adjusting the New Year to begin on January 1st.

We will now trace some descendants of Alexander Drummond of Old Meldrum, Scotland, earliest known forebearer of Emily Drummond Shellabarger.

1. Alexander[1] Drummond. Died, after 1767 (?) in Old Meldrum, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. Occupation: merchant.

A death record in Old Meldrum Parish indicated that an Alexander Drummond died in 1749. This may have been an Alexander of an earlier generation as a transfer of property was made by a William Drummond, tailor in Musselburgh, presently Edinburgh, to his father, Alexander Drummond, merchant in Old Meldrum, heir general, on September 10, 1767. It is certain that this Alexander had a son, William, christened on November 13, 1737.

Third Generation

3 George[3] Drummond (Alexander[2], Alexander[1])[11]. Christened, 23 Jul 1775, in Old Meldrum, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. Died, 1 Jan 1828, in Enon, Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH. Burial: Jan 1828, in Knob Prairie Cem., Clark Co., OH. Census: 1800, in Derry Twp., Westmoreland Co., PA; p. 1209. Census: 1820, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 11.

George married Rosanah Thompson, circa 1793. Born, 14 Mar 1768, in Ireland[12]. Died, 2 Oct 1851, in Enon, Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[13]. Buried: Oct 1851, in Knob Prairie Cem., Clark Co., OH[13]. Census: 1830, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 80. Census: 30 Jul 1850, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 84[14].

George Drummond emigrated from Aberdeenshire, Scotland, with his parents, Alexander and Christine Mackie Drummond, shortly after the birth of his brother, Christian, on July 7, 1777. Neither emigration nor immigration records have been found, but it is known that the family settled in New Jersey near the Pennsylvania border. In about the year 1793, George married Rosanah Thompson, a native of Ireland. As noted in the chapter introduction a Thomson family was closely connected with the Drummonds in Old Meldrum, Scotland.

At the time of the 1800 census George and his family were living in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. By that time two sons and two daughters had been born. Soon thereafter the family moved to Ohio. George paid tax in Hamilton County, Ohio, in 1804 indicating residency in 1803. Greene County was formed in 1803 from Hamilton and Ross Counties. George was listed in the tax records of Butler County in 1806. Butler County was formed in 1803 from Hamilton County. On August 20, 1806, and again on November 8th, George made land purchases in Hamilton County, Ohio, in sections 10 and 17 of T3, R8. George was listed in Greene County, Ohio, as a free white male over twenty-one when Bath Township was taken from Beaver Creek Township in 1807. On December 11, 1811, George made two purchases of land in Greene County in sections 10 and 17 of T3, R8. Section 10 was sold to Jesse Hunt in 1814. George settled on section 17. That same year his name, together with John and Ephraim Shellabarger, was placed on a list of those who made purchases from the estate auction of Moses Miller.

On May 31, 1816, George purchased the SE¼ of S17, T3, R8 from President James Madison, recorded in Greene County Deed Book 97, page 256. On March 13, 1817, he purchased four tracts from Jesse Hunt as recorded in Deed Book A, page 125 and in Deed Book 5, page 448, for $3,213. This land was to be paid for in installments by February 1, 1821. The tracts were located in: S½ of S18, T3, R8; NE¼ of S17, T3, R8; SE¼ of S17, T3, R8 and the NW¼ of S10, T3, R8. George Drummond appeared in the first tax records of Clark County, formed from Greene in 1818. He then held one hundred fifty-six acres in SE S17, T3, R8 and in 1819 one hundred fifty-six acres in SE S23, T5, R8 and one hundred sixty acres in NE S17, T3, R8. His property was partly in Greene and partly in Clark Counties as they are today.

During the War of 1812 George served in the company of Captain McCullough.

On November 23, 1815, George and a neighbor, Jacob Smith, entered into an agreement to become partners in a milling operation. George was to build a fulling and oil mill on the land he leased, and Jacob was to divert water from Muddy Run to the saw mill, sharing the expense jointly. The mill was put into operation on September 1, 1817. On December 18, 1818, George gave exclusive rights to the mill to Jacob, but he maintained the lease of his land. Jacob paid George only a quarter of the value of the mill and took all the mill profits before his death which occurred in December of 1819. Unfortunately Jacob's administrators, Josiah Smith and James Collier, refused to acknowledge the debt of Jacob Smith nor to make a settlement and honor the agreement. The case went to court. George won this case receiving a settlement of $672, a deed of release of all land on site, and his court costs. This case was recorded in the Greene County Chancery Court Records in Xenia, Ohio, on pages 196-214.

Although George came out well in this case, another problem resulted from this partnership. As stated above, on March 13, 1817, George and Rosanah obtained a mortgage on their land from Jesse Hunt in the amount of $3213.33 A portion of this money probably was used to build the mill. By 1826 George had not repaid the mortgage and was called into the court. On January 1, 1828, before this case was settled, George died. All of his property was lost as a result of this unpaid debt. On October 3, 1928, the sheriff sold his property in S18, T3, R8 to Aaron Miller, recorded in Deed Book E, pages 76 and 106. The widow, Rosanah, was left with nothing but her six adult children. Her son, William, had purchased a portion of his father's land in S17, T3, R8 on November 21, 1927, before his father's death, paying $580. After his father's death William bought another tract at George's estate auction held on January 13, 1829.

Rosanah lived until the age of eighty-three, dying on October 2, 1851. She and George were buried in Knob Prairie Cemetery. Daughters-in-law, Ruth Beeth Drummond and Phoebe Martin Drummond, as well as some grandchildren were also buried in this cemetery.

The children of George and Rosanah Thompson Drummond were:

Samuel married second, Mary Ann Miller, daughter of David Miller and Lydia Dundore, 15 Apr 1853, in Clark Co., OH[54]. Born, 16 Aug 1823, in Franklin Co., PA[55]. Census: 19 Jun 1880, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 137.

Samuel Drummond was the son of two immigrants to America, George Drummond of Scotland and Rosanah Thompson of Ireland. Samuel was born near Cincinnati, Ohio, but his parents removed to Mad River Township in Greene County in 1807. He grew up on his father's farm and attended school in a log schoolhouse. He was married first on February 28, 1833, to Ruth Beeth, her name recorded as Beath. Ruth, daughter of Thomas Beeth, was born in 1814 in Bath Township, Greene Co., Ohio. Ruth was a member of the Christian Church. Ruth's sister, Jane, married Samuel's brother, James. Samuel and Ruth were the parents of nine children, five boys and four girls. Their sons, William and Mark, were Civil War veterans, and their son, Nihell, was killed in the Civil War. Ruth died on the ninth of October in 1852.

According to the History of Greene County by R. S. Dills, Ruth Beeth's father, Thomas, moved in 1814 from a small cabin he had erected on an eighty acre tract near Clifton in Bath Township, Greene County, Ohio. This tract had been rented from a Mr. Wells who in 1814 sold the property to James Johnson. The Beeth family was found in census records in Greene County, Miami Township, in 1820 and in Bath Township in 1830.

After Ruth's death Samuel acted as guardian for their children in the settlement of the estate of Ruth's brother, William, a resident of Henderson County, Kentucky. William Beeth's heirs were two brothers, one of whom was probably John, as well as Ruth, and her sister, Jane. Curiously Henderson County cannot locate a record of this estate settlement although they have an inventory of the store owned by William Beeth and some of his land records. After the death of William, the name of John Beeth occurred in one of the Henderson County deeds.

Samuel was married a second time on April 19, 1853, to Mary Ann Miller Schrock, widow of Francis Schrock and daughter of David and Lydia Dundore Miller. This marriage was blessed with six additional children. Mrs. Schrock had five children from her first marriage.

The old Drummond home, which was built to accommodate Samuel's large family, was still standing in 1993. It had been purchased by a retired army couple who had restored and modernized the home which had been abandoned and vandalized for a number of years. The house was constructed of red brick produced on the grounds. It was a large L-shaped structure with porches on three levels. Legend has it that the house was a hideaway on the underground railway for escaping slaves. Certain rooms on the lowest level could be bricked off to conceal the entryways. Another sign of Samuel's devotion to the northern cause was his naming a son born about 1864, Ulysses G.

Other buildings on the grounds included a barn, butchering house, and smokehouse, as well as orchards. Samuel must have produced much of the food to feed his large family. The farm at the time of his death contained 142.59 acres, 121½ acres located in Clark County in the east half of section 17, Madriver Township, range 8 and the remainder in Greene County in Bath Township, the NE quarter of section 16. The property was valued at $11,407.20 in 1882.

Samuel was a member of the Republican Party. He died on May 4, 1869, and was buried in the Enon Cemetery. According to an account on page 1041 of The History of Clark County, Ohio, published in 1881 by Beers, Samuel Drummond died leaving to his family a pleasant home, and a spotless reputation.

The following is a transcription, with original spelling, of Samuel's will written February 2, 1867:

Chapter XII

THE FARR AND FRENCH FAMILIES

This chapter traces two families, that of Kimball Farr and Alpheus French, Sr., both of which were related by marriage to Ruth Gregory, mother of Ralph Farr and grandmother of Cornelia Jane Farr Shellabarger.

Since the father of Ralph Farr may have been either Alpheus French, Jr., or Kimball Farr, information about both families has been included.

The Farr family almost certainly originated in Chesterton, Cheshire County, New Hampshire, and in earlier generations in Massachusetts and England or Scotland. The French family had roots in New York and Massachusetts. Both families settled in Ohio before 1820 in the counties of Lorain and Wayne respectively. Both families migrated to Porter County, Indiana.

We will now continue with the descendants of Kimball Farr and a few descendants of the Reverend Alpheus French, Sr.

Descendants of Kimball Farr

First Generation

1. Kimball[1] Farr[1]. Born, circa 1799, in New Hampshire[2]. Died, 6 May 1861, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH[3]. Census: 1840, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH; p. 393[4]. Census: 9 Sep 1850, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH; p. 447[5]. Census: 14 Jun 1860, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH; p. 9[6]. Occupation: farm laborer.

Kimball married Ruth Gregory[7], 6 Sep 1826, in Portage Co., OH[8]. Born, circa 1797, in Kentucky[9]. Census: 9 Sep 1850, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH; p. 447. Census: 1 Jun 1860, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH; p. 9.

Kimball Farr left very little paper trail. He apparently was never a property owner. At the time of the 1820 census Kimball was a resident of Talmadge, Portage County, Ohio. He was married in Portage County on September 6, 1826, to Ruth Gregory French, widow of Alpheus French, Jr. In 1830 his family consisted of a wife and son and daughter, both under five, with residence in Boston Township, Portage County, presently Summit County, Ohio. The 1840 census placed the family in Carlisle Township of Lorain County. Still residing at the same location when the 1850 census was taken, Kimball was then aged fifty-one and born in New Hampshire. His wife, Ruth, was fifty-two and born in Kentucky. The Farr family then consisted of a daughter, Percis, aged thirteen, and a son, Kimball, aged eight. Still residents of Carlisle Township in 1860, Kimball was aged sixty-one and Ruth, sixty-three.

A notice of the death of Kimball appeared in the May 15, 1861, edition of the LORAIN COUNTY NEWS, published in Oberlin, Ohio. It stated that Kimball had come to Elyria at the age of sixteen (1815) and had helped clear the ground where the Beebe House, an hotel in Elyria, was erected. He was aged sixty-one at the time of his death.

Although great effort has been made researching Farrs in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Ohio, and Missouri, the parents of Kimball Farr are still unknown. A Leonard Farr, born 1779 in Chesterfield, New Hampshire, had a son named Kimball. Leonard Farr married Percis Snow on February 22, 1799. His son, Kimball, married Sophia Farwell on December 3, 1824, in Acton, New Hampshire and died in 1878 in Groton, Massachussets, thus eliminating Leonard as the father of our Kimball Farr.

Living in Carlisle Township during the same time period as Kimball Farr was Abel F. Farr, born in Chesterfield, New Hampshire, May 6, 1795, and married in 1819 to Betsey Mastic. Abel was the son of Abel Farr, Sr., and Polly Smith who had come to Ohio from Vermont, near Bellows Falls, with two sons. Two married sons of Abel Farr, Sr., remained in Vermont where many New Hampshire Farrs moved after the Revolution. Circumstantial evidence would suggest that Kimball was the son of Abel, Sr., or in some manner related to him.

The parentage of Ruth Gregory is also unknown. Ruth married Kimball Farr in Portage County, Ohio, in 1826. At that time a Brainard M. Gregory was a resident of Mantua Township in Portage County. Alonzo N. Farr, son of Abel F. Farr, was a resident of the same township. The following deeds were recorded in Portage County for Brainard Gregory:

DATE	GRANTOR	GRANTEE	COST	RECORDED
May 12, 1825	John Blair	Brainard Gregory		10:220
May 14, 1825	Benjamin Dresser	Brainard Gregory	$50.	10:223
May 14, 1825	Marlow Hovey	Brainard Gregory		10:221
May 14, 1825	Brainard Gregory	Benjamin Dresser	$50.	10:224
May 14, 1825	Brainard Gregory	Marlow Hovey		10:225
Mar 28, 1833	Brainard Gregory	Horace Hovey		16:474

Other Gregorys in the area in the mid 1850s were Samuel, Eli, and Newton. A Eunice Gregory appeared in 1824 and again in 1845. In 1838 Albinus Gregory married Eliza Harver in Portage County. Ralph Farr named his first son, Albinus, which was also the name of his wife's brother, Albinus Servis.

The only known children of Kimball and Ruth Gregory French Farr were:

2 i. Ralph[2] Farr.

ii. Percis Farr. Born, circa 1837, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH[10]. Census: 9 Sep 1850, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH; p. 447.

Carlisle Township, Lorain County, Ohio, Cemetery Inscriptions indicate that Persis A. Farr was born October 3, 1840, and died November 30, 1926. The birth date was slightly different from the expected birth date from the census records so it may be a different person.

iii. Kimball F. Farr. Born, circa 1842, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH[11]. Census: 9 Sep 1850, in Carlisle Twp., Lorain Co., OH; p. 447. Census: 15 Jun 1860, in York Twp., Fulton Co., OH; p. 292[12].

Ralph Farr was born on April 11, 1826, in Portage County, Ohio. His mother was Ruth Gregory, whose first marriage was to Alpheus French, Jr., son of the Reverend Alpheus French, a Baptist preacher. Ruth and Alpheus were married on August 9, 1815, in Champaign County, Ohio. We can be certain they were still married in 1824 as they appeared on the 1825 tax list in Wayne County, Ohio. No record of the death of Alpheus French, Jr., has been found, but on September 6, 1826, in Portage County, Ohio, Ruth French remarried Kimball Farr who was stated to be Ralph's father in History of Carroll County, Missouri published in 1881. Ralph gave his birth date as April 11, 1826, in his Civil War pension papers, predating his birth to his mother's second marriage. It is unclear, therefore, if Kimball Farr was Ralph's father or his stepfather. Ralph was reared by Kimball Farr in Lorain County, Ohio, but left home at the exceedingly tender age of fourteen when he went to Butler County, Ohio, working there on a farm for ten years. From Butler County he removed to Porter County, Indiana, and married Hannah Jane Servis on January 11, 1850, at Valparaiso, Indiana.

Officiating at the wedding was Brother Alpheus French, Senior. Elder French had settled in Porter County between 1834 and 1835. Elder French was not only the father-in-law of Ralph's mother, if not indeed Ralph's own grandfather, but he was closely associated with the Servis family as well. On December 29, 1843, Alpheus French purchased sixty acres from Aaron Servis, father of Hannah Servis Farr, for $340. Alpheus French bought another eighty acres from Aaron Servis on May 29, 1849. In the 1840 census the neighbor of Aaron Servis was Luther French. Luther French was born in 1819 during the years Ruth Gregory was married to Alpheus, Jr. Luther may have been a son or a grandson of Alpheus French, Sr. Luther French married Mary S. Hatch, the same surname as Polly Hatch who was the second wife of Ralph's father-in-law, Aaron Servis. Luther died in 1885 in Carroll County, Missouri, where Ralph Farr had settled after the Civil War. Additional information about the Reverend Alpheus French, Sr., and his family has been included at the end of this chapter.

Ralph's wife, Hannah Jane Servis, was the daughter of Aaron Servis and Miss Foster, according to her death certificate. History of Carroll County, Missouri stated that Hannah's mother was Mary C. "Surris". No marriage has been located between Aaron and Mary C. Foster. It is known that Aaron's second marriage was to Polly Hatch. Since Polly is a nickname for Mary, it is possible that Polly Hatch was a widow at the time of this marriage, and that her maiden name was Foster. Hannah was born on January 26, 1830, in Richland County, Ohio. Her father had removed to Porter Township, Porter County, Indiana, by 1835. Chapter XIV, Descendants of Heinrich Zerbenas, provides further information about Hannah's ancestry. When the 1850 census was taken on September 17, 1850, Ralph and Hannah Farr were found living in Porter Township with Hannah's brother, Albinus P. Servis, a farmer. Ralph listed no occupation for himself. A close neighbor was Ora B. French, a son of Alpheus French, Sr., aged forty-four.

Scarcely five weeks later Ralph Farr appeared on a census list in Stockton, San Joaquin County, California. That Ralph took part in the Gold Rush was confirmed by History of Carroll County, Missouri previously cited. Ralph must have made a very rapid journey on horseback or was en route to California at census time and was thus enumerated in Indiana as well. For the next two years Ralph sought the family fortune in the gold fields leaving his new bride in Indiana. In California Ralph learned mining technique which he put to good use in his later life in Missouri.

Perhaps Ralph discovered enough gold to purchase the farm in Porter County, Indiana, which he obtained upon his return. According to his biography in History of Carroll County, Missouri, he soon moved his family to Franklin County, Iowa, where he pre-empted a claim to the W½ of NW¼, and the W½ of the SE¼ of S31, T91N, R20W. Ralph and Hannah sold this land to John Driscoll of Lake County, Indiana, on October 22, 1856, for $1500, as well as the SE¼ of the NE¼ of S32, T91 N, R20 W for $700.

Three weeks later in Lake County, Indiana, on November 15, 1856, Ralph purchased the W ½ of SE¼ of S33, T36, R7, and the NW¼ of the SE¼ of S26, T33, R9 from John Driscoll above mentioned, both deeds having been recorded in Deed Book M, page 115. Ralph sold the latter property to Benjamin F. Curtis on April 10, 1857, as recorded in Deed Book 0, page 74. On February 2, 1857, Ralph sold Daniel Cross two tracts in S24, T33, R9, recorded in Deed Book M, page 226.

On June 9, 1860, Ralph and Hannah Farr were living in Cedar Creek Township, Lake County, Indiana. Lake County lies just east of Porter County. Ralph listed his occupation as a trapper. By then the Farrs were parents of two children, Cornelia, aged three, and an unnamed daughter of four months who was eventually named Sarah. Hannah's father, aged seventy-seven, and his third wife, Lydia Gilson, were the Farr's next door neighbors. The Farrs' third child, Eliza L., was born on December 20, 1862. Hannah's father, Aaron Servis, deeded her one-third acre in the SW¼ of the SE¼ of S23, T33, R9 on February 5, 1863.

At the end of that year on December 19th, Ralph enlisted as a private in Company G of the 12th Regiment of the Indiana Cavalry at Crown Point, Indiana, for a three year tour of duty. The regiment was commanded by Captain Foster. His Civil War service and pension records give us some indication of his contribution to the northern cause.

During the period that Ralph was in the army, Hannah had a most difficult time. Her granddaughter, Anna May, could recall her mother, Cornelia Farr Billow, saying how very poor they had been during the war. There were so few clothes that Hannah had to wash clothes after the children were in bed so they could be worn the following day.

In 1867 Hannah and Ralph moved to Hurricane Township, Carroll County, Missouri, where the Farrs spent the remainder of their days. There Ralph operated a coal mine on his farm. Ralph and Hannah were enumerated at that location in the census taken on September 7, 1870. A son, Albinus or Albiasle, called Albie or Alba C., was born in Hurricane Township on October 27, 1867. Luther French and his daughter, Sophia French, wife of Sebastian Dye, had come to Hurricane Township from Porter County, Indiana, and were located there in the 1870 census. Another family moving to Missouri was Hannah's sister, Clarissa A. Roberts. The Farrs' last child, Carl, was born in 1871.

Nearby neighbors of the Farrs in 1870 were two young men, Frederick Billow, aged twenty-four, and his brother, Francis, aged twenty-one. Francis Billow married Cornelia Farr on Valentine's Day in 1875. Hannah and Ralph became first time grandparents the following year on February 29th when Etta Billow was born. Cornelia's sister, Sarah, was married on March 25, 1877, to John C. Baker. On June 18, 1880, the census was again taken and the Farrs were living in Carroll County in the village of Compton. Only three children were still at home: Elzie, Albie, and Carl. The Farrs were members of the Hurricane Baptist Church in Carroll County.

The 1890 census of Carroll County listed Ralph as a Civil War veteran. Our next knowledge of Ralph and Hannah occurred on June 27, 1898, when Ralph made an application for a Civil War pension. These documents required the names and birth dates of the living children; Carl was not listed. The records gave Ralph's physical description, confirmed his marriage, and reviewed his service record and health. Ralph stated that since the war he had suffered from rheumatism of the back and was unable to perform any labor. The pension was granted.

On March 18, 1894, Ralph wrote his will as follows:

> I, Ralph Farr of Carroll County, Mo., being of sound mind do make and publish this my last will and testament as follows:
> (1) I will that my funeral charges, the expenses of administering on my estate, and all my just debts be paid out of my personal estate: and if that be insufficient I expressly apprize my executor after named to sell at public or private sale the whole or such part of my real estate as may be sufficient for that purpose.

(2) I give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Hannah J. Farr, all my real estate situated in Carroll County, Missouri, described as follows towit: The north half of the north east quarter of section twenty (20), township fifty-five (55), range twenty-one (21): also lots ten (10) and eleven (11) in block eleven (11) in the town of Hale: also lots seventeen (17), eighteen (18), and nineteen (19) in the Tittler Addition in said town of Hale, Carroll Co., MO, to hold and enjoy for and during her natural life, and after her death I give and bequeath all of said real estate to my children, Cornelia Billow, Sarah J. Baker, Elzia Middleton and A. C. Farr, to be divided equally between them. The provisions herein made for my said wife are to be in lieu of dower.
(3) I will and bequeath to my said wife all my personal property of whatsoever kind, absolutely.
I appoint Michael Tester of Carroll Co., MO, executor of this my will, revoking my former will by me made, and I authorize my said executor in the settlement of my estate and of my debts due me to compromise such debts; and if he think it advantageous to my estate to accept in satisfaction less that the full amount due.

In witness whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name this 18 March 1894.

Witnesses were N. T. Dixon and A. Mahoney, both of Hale, Missouri.

In June of 1900 the Farrs were still living in Hurricane Township with their daughter, Elzie Middleton. Ralph was retired, aged seventy-four, and Hannah was seventy. Ralph died on July 26, 1902, in Hale. Hannah contested the will which gave her no right to sell the real property in the estate. She also applied for a widow's pension on September 29th, which was granted on December 31st.

An inventory of the personal property was made which included $181.15, cash in bank, $40 in household goods, a cow, valued at $30, a wagon, valued at $13, a set of harness, $2, and a plow, $.50.

On Friday, August 1, 1902, in the HALE HUSTLER, Volume IX, page 4, column 4, the following obituary for Ralph appeared:

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Ralph Farr of Little Compton died Saturday, July 26, at the age of 76 years. Funeral services and a burial at the Hurricane Church Sunday at 1 o'clock conducted by Reverent Webb of Sumner. Being a member of the Masonic order the funeral was under the management of that fraternity. Mr. Farr came to Missouri from Indiana after the close of the Civil War and settled on the farm where he died. For many years he was engaged in coal mining on his own land the proceeds of which made him good money. He was a veteran of the Civil War on the Union side, was a member of the Baptist Church. His health had been failing for some few years and thinking that a trip to the west would be beneficial, he started west last spring but soon found the change was detrimental rather than helpful so he returned home and gradually grew worse until his death. He leaves a wife and four children who have the sympathy of many friends.

In 1910 Hannah was still living with her daughter, Elzie. Hannah died on December 21, 1912, the cause of death being grippe. She was buried in the Hurricane Cemetery.

Descendants of Alpheus French, Sr.

First Generation

1. Alpheus[1] French, Sr. Born, circa 1771, in Massachusetts[1]. Died, 8 Mar 1860, in Centre Twp., Porter Co., IN[2]. Buried: Mar 1860, in Old Cemetery, Centre Twp., Porter Co., IN[3]. Census: 1830, in Plain Twp., Wayne Co., OH; p. 40. Census: 1840, in Porter Twp., Porter Co., IN; p. 498. Census: 15 Aug 1850, in Centre Twp., Porter Co., IN; p. 105. Occupation: Baptist pastor.

Alpheus married Hannah. Born, before 1780[4]. Died, before 1850, in Porter Co., IN[5]. Census: 1840, in Porter Co., IN; p. 256.

Alpheus French was born in 1769 or 1770 in Massachusetts but was an early resident of the state of New York.

On October 3 and October 13, 1815, Alpheus French applied for one hundred sixty acres at the Canton Wooster Land Office as recorded in Tract Book 22 Ranges Volume 1, page 283, and Volume 2, page 116, part of the Ohio River Survey. The property was located in the NE¼ of S35, R15, T21, Mohican Township, Wayne County, present day Ashland County, Ohio.

On February 16, 1820, Alpheus purchased part of the SE¼ of S14, T18, R8 of Wayne County from William and Ruth Rowen for $219 as recorded in Deed Book 2, page 64. In 1830 he purchased a tract in the NW¼ of S15, T21, R36 from Absolom and Mary Rice for $150, recorded in Deed Book 9, page 285. Alpheus and Hannah sold this tract on April 3, 1836, to John Childs for $400 as recorded in Deed Book 16, pages 386-7.

Elder French preached the first sermon in the township at the Barber Settlement, Peace Baptist Church, Huron County, Ohio. Huron County was also the residence of the Aaron Servis family which later was a neighbor of Alpheus French in Porter County, Indiana. Aaron Servis married his second wife, Polly Hatch, in 1822 in Huron County. Aaron Servis' daughter, Hannah Jane, married Ralph Farr. Ralph's mother, Ruth Gregory, married first Alpheus French, Jr., in 1815. The latter was alive in 1825. Ralph Farr was born a few months before his mother's second marriage to Kimball Farr in 1826, and therefore it is possible that Alpheus French, Jr., was the actual parent of Ralph Farr. Ruth French and Silas French were members of the 1st Congregational Church in Wakeman, Huron County. Another Silas French, born 1824, was a resident in 1850 of Centre Township, Porter County, Indiana, where Alpheus was also in residence. Erastus French married Ruth Squire on April 26, 1819, in Huron County. Silas, Sr., and Erastus were possible sons of Alpheus.

In the History of New London, Ohio by Mrs. Helen R. Foskett, pages 14-15, was the following account of the Reverend French when a resident of Huron County:

> "That same winter (1817) the Baptists organized a church, meeting in the schoolhouse with Elder French as the preacher."
> An incident of 1818 was long remembered. Of those having a difficult struggle to get started no one had a more difficult time or endured more labor, more hardships of cold hunger, needs poorly supplied, than Sherman Smith; the only garments the youngest brother, Major, had for years was made of home cured deer skins. When the Smiths had left Springfield the sister, Betsey, had been entrusted to the French family. Sherman was not aware that French knew more about drinking and horse trading than about the Bible and preaching. When Sherman learned his sister's lot was worse than that of a Negro slave he decided to steal her. He made his way to Springfield; he had to wait two or three days before he had a chance to get Betsey; she rode a jaded old horse; Sherman walked behind urging the animal to keep up motion. He was not surprised to find French and others waiting for him when he reached home; it is likely that the Smiths had avoided meeting anyone on their return; besides French could make better time. French demanded the girl or $100.00; Sherman did not have the $100.00 or any intention of letting his sister be taken back; Philo T. Porter was so incensed that he said no one would take the girl except over his dead body. Justice of the Peace, Isaac P. Case, came to Sherman's rescue; knowing a note given by anyone while he is under arrest, could not be collected, Case advised Sherman to give French a note for $100.00; This was done, French left and never was seen or heard from again.

By the time of the 1820 census, Alpheus, Sr., was a resident of Pike Township, Wayne County. His neighbor was Alpheus French, Jr., his wife, Ruth Gregory, and two sons under ten. Alpheus, Sr's., family at that time consisted of a male, 10-16, two males over forty-five, a female under ten, a female, 10-16, a female, 26-45, and a female over forty-five.

The minutes of the Huron Baptist Association indicated that Elder French was present at the Huron Baptist Association as a representative of the Mohican Baptist Association. In 1825 Alpheus French, Jr. and Sr., appeared in the Wayne County, Ohio, tax list. By the 1830 census, Alpheus, 50-60, and his wife, Hannah, 50-60, were located in Plain Township. They had two sons, 10-15, and a daughter, 15-20.

Elder French was the first Baptist minister of Plain Township, Wayne County, Ohio. From 1833 to 1836 he was pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Mohican, Ohio. Alpheus French sold fifty acres to Philip Aylesworth of Otsego County, New York, for $500, date unknown. The 1835 tax list of Mohican Township, requiring residence in 1834, again listed Alpheus French.

Between 1834 and 1835 Elder French was named the first Baptist minister in Fish Lake Township, which became Porter Township, Porter County, Indiana. The First Baptist Church of Valparaiso was organized June 10, 1837. Elder French served five years as its pastor. On June 17, 1838, Elder French was moderator at a meeting in neighboring Lake County held to organize the First Baptist Church. The participants met in a large log schoolhouse not quite completed. The meeting was attended by nine Baptist members from the two states of Massachusetts and New York. The organizers selected Prairie West, Center Prairie, and Cedar Lake Baptist Church which was organized May 19, 1839, as sites for new Sabbath meetings. Elder Alpheus French was one of the ordaining ministers of Norman Warriner, the first pastor at Cedar Lake. Elder French served as an occasional supply minister. On January 17, 1856, the Cedar Lake Church disbanded.

Elder French settled in S1, T37, R7 which is now Lake Eliza. On Monday, December 3, 1838, Alpheus French was a judge in an election held at his house. He was listed in the 1840 census, aged 70-80. Hannah was aged 60-70. Two males, 15-20 and 20-30, were in the household as well as a female, 10-15. Other residents in Porter Township in 1840 were his son-in-law, Edmund Hatch, Luther French, a possible grandson of Alpheus, and Aaron Servis.

On December 19, 1843, Alpheus purchased sixty acres from Aaron Servis for $340. The tract was located in S19, T35, R6. On May 23, 1849, he bought an additional eighty acres from Aaron Servis for $200 in the same location. Witnesses to this transaction were Ora B. French and Albinus Servis, son of Aaron Servis. On August 15, 1850, the census taker listed the value of Alpheus' property at $350. He was then a resident of Centre Township, Porter County, and aged seventy-nine. A daughter, Cilva (Sylvia ?), aged forty-five, was keeping house. She was born in New York as were his other children with the exception of Mary, born about 1810 in Ohio. This helped to establish the date Alpheus moved to Ohio from New York. Two of Alpheus' neighbors were Mary and James White. It would appear from the children in their household that Mary had a previous marriage to a Jackson. One of the Jackson children, Albert, aged eight, was living with his grandfather, Alpheus. The other Jackson children, all girls, were with their mother's new family. Another known family connection was a granddaughter, Mrs. Orson Starr.

Marriages or licenses to marry in Porter County list a number of French names. They were as follows:

DATE	BRIDE AND GROOM
August 25, 1839	Luther French to Mary S. Hatch
July 12, 1842	Jeremiah S. Hatch to Sarah Adams
November 3, 1849	Silas French to Martha Taylor
October 4, 1855	Luther French to Angeline Beedle
October 12, 1859	Sophia French to Sebastian Dye
December 17, 1862	Matilda French to William Shurr (license)
January 31, 1864	Luther French to Mary E. Jones
July 17, 1878	Anna French to William Robinson

No estate papers have been found for Alpheus. He died aged eighty-nine on March 8, 1860. His place of burial was in view of the east side of the carriage road in the Old Cemetery at Valparaiso. A stone could not be located for him in June of 1993.

married Edmund Hatch on March 26, 1820, in Wayne County, Ohio. Alpheus French, Jr., was listed in the 1820 Census of Pike Township, Wayne County, Ohio, and in an 1825 tax list of Wayne County with his father, Alpheus French, Sr.

The estate of James French, file #67, Volume 1: p. 34, was missing from the Portage County files in June of 1993. The inventory for this estate was filed June 1, 1824. Aaron French's estate file, #66, Volume 1: p. 33, contained no further information except a date of April 12, 1824, and that Alexander Turner was administrator of the estate.

Solon French came to Porter County in 1838 and was a farmer at Deep River. Ora B. French, named his second son, Solon. There is no proof Solon was a son of Alpheus. He may have been a grandson or other relationship.

Chapter XIII

THE FAMILY OF SERAPIN KAHNEY

1. Serapin "Serephy"[1] Kahney. Born, 3 Jan 1782, in Baden. Died, 16 Apr 1852, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA[1]. Burial: Apr 1852, in Fishing Creek Rd., Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA. Census: 1840, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 305. Census: Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 607. Occupation: farmer and an unknown trade.

Serapin married Mary Ursula "Moriah". Born, 26 Oct 1781, in Baden. Died, 27 Apr 1852, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA. Burial: Apr 1852, in Fishing Creek Rd., Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA.

Serapin's given name was spelled as: Seraphin, Serephy, Serfey, Serapin, and Surfee; his surname as: Kahney, Kahny, Keenee, Kenee, or Kehney. As Seraphin he appeared in Rye Township tax records of 1835-1837. He was listed as a farmer with one yoke of oxen and was charged an occupation fee of $40. He may have been a stonemason as was his son, Sylvester. Serapin was a resident of Rye Township at the time of the 1840 census, but did not appear again in Rye until listed in the 1849 tax records at which time he held ninety acres valued at $630, one yoke of oxen, and a cow. Again in the 1850 census Serapin was listed in Rye Township with his wife, Moriah. Three of his known children appear to have married into the Peter Billow family: John to Margaret Billow, Mary Theresa to Jacob Billow, and Elizabeth Mary to Martin Billow.

Serapin and his wife died within weeks of each other; he on April 16th, and she on May 14, 1852. They were buried in the Old Dutch Cemetery in the Fishing Creek Valley. An inventory of their estate was made on May 14, 1852, by their son-in-law, Jacob Billow, David Messinger, and Andrew Noss. From this inventory we get a glimpse of the Kahney home furnished with a mantle clock, looking glass, corner cupboard, stove, case of drawers, set of chairs, two additional chairs, wood chest, rocking chair, three beds, another chest, bookcase, table, and the usual linens, dishes, and kitchen utensils. William Messinger was administrator of the estate. The final accounting was made on February 19, 1857, showing costs to the estate of $202.55.

Children believed to be those of Serapin and Mary Ursula Kahney were:

i. Mary Theresa Kahney. Born, circa 1810, in Pennsylvania, or Baden[2]. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 604. 4. She married Jacob Billow, son of Peter Billow and Margaret (Swartz). Chapter X provides additional information about the Billow family.

Jacob and Mary Theresa Billow named one of their sons, John Serephy. It seems likely that John was named for Serephy Kahney, and that Mary Theresa was named for her mother, Mary Ursula Kahney. After Mary's husband, Jacob Billow, died in 1854, Mary went to Cumberland County. Their children were placed in various homes and locations throughout the county. By the year 1870 Mary had removed to Troy Grove, Illinois, to live with her sister, Mary Elizabeth Kahney Billow, and her husband, Martin Billow. Sisters had married brothers. Additional information about the descendants of Mary Theresa and her husband may be found in Chapter X.

Was Mary Theresa the Maria Kaney, aged sixty and born in Baden, who was living with Martin and Elizabeth Kahney Billow in the 1870 census in Troy Grove, La Salle County, Illinois, p. 4?

ii. John Kahney. Born, 4 Aug 1818, in Germany or PA[3]. Died, 25 Sep 1890, in E. Pennsboro Twp, Cumberland Co., PA[4]. Burial: Sep 1890, in Camp Hill Cem., Cumberland Co., PA[4]. Census: 6 Aug 1850, in North Middleton Twp, Cumberland Co., PA; p. 67. Census: 1880, in East Pennsboro Twp, Cumberland Co., PA; Vol29 SH48. Occupation: farmer. He married[5] Margaret Billow, daughter of Peter Billow and Margaret (Swartz), 30 May 1847, in Whitehill, Cumberland Co., PA[6].

John Kahney signed the release of a lien held by John Myers against Martin Billow on February 28, 1848.

iii. Elizabeth Mary Kahney[7]. Born, circa 1820, in Pennsylvania. Died, after 1881, in Missouri, or Idaho. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 606. Census: 24 Jul 1860, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 855. Census: 30 Jul 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 4. She married[8] Martin Billow[9], son of Peter Billow and Margaret (Swartz), circa 1842 in Pennsylvania.

For further information on this family see Chapter X.

iv. Sylvester Kahney. Born, 31 Dec 1825, in Germany. Died, 24 May 1853, in Carroll Twp., Perry Co., PA. Buried: 11 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 295. Burial: May 1853, in Old Dutch Cem., Carroll Twp., Perry Co., PA[10]. Occupation: stonemason. He married Sarah Noss[11], daughter of Louis and Catherine Noss, 20 Jun 1852.

Sylvester and Sarah Noss Kahney had two children: Martha and Levi S. After the death of Sylvester Sarah married Isaiah Gamber.

From christening records it is known that Frederick's wife was Elsje Janson. The first known child of Frederick and Elsje was christened in the Dutch Church of Schenectady in 1775. The remainder of their known children were christened in the Old Caughnawaga Reformed Dutch Church in Fonda which is located east of Schenectady on the Mohawk River in present Montgomery County.

Old Caughnawaga Church - 1772-1899
Fonda, Montgomery County, New York

On February 6, 1773, Frederick's brother, Henry Servis, jobber, purchased one hundred forty-seven acres from Sir William Johnson on the Charlotte River in Tryon County. Henry willed this land to Frederick in his will dated, January 13, 1775. Frederick deeded the land to, Richard Taylor, on April 2, 1783. This deed was recorded in Fonda. Witnesses to this deed were Elizabeth Servos (Frederick's mother ?) and Wm. Schuyler.

Frederick Servis served in Colonel Fredrick Fisher's Regiment of Militia in Tryon County, New York, during the Revolutionary War. He was paid for this service on June 27, 1785. The Daughters of the American Revolution verified his service in August of 1993.

The census records provided us with further information about the residences of Frederick. In 1790 Frederick was living in Mohawk, Montgomery County, New York. Mohawk is located on the Mohawk River west of Fonda in present day Herkimer County. The Servis family then consisted of two males over sixteen, two under sixteen, and three females. At the time of the 1800 census Frederick was living alone with one slave at Watervliet on the Hudson River in Albany County southeast of Schenectady. This would indicate his wife had died between 1790 and 1800. His next door neighbor was Cornelius Servis, aged 26-45, his wife and two daughters under ten years of age. Frederick was located much farther west in Manlius, Onandaga County, near Syracuse, in the 1810 census. Only male members of the family were visible because of a torn page. His household included a male, aged 26-45, and two males under ten years of age.

The children of Frederick and Elsje Janson Servis were:

i. Andreas[6] Servas/Servis[34]. Born, circa 1775. Christened, 1 Feb 1775, in Dutch Reformed, Schenectady, Schenectady Co., NY[35].

Died, 7 Jan 1869, in Cedar Creek Twp., Lake Co., IN. Christened, 29 Jul 1783, in Caughnawaga Reformed Church, Fonda, NY. Burial: Jan 1869, in Lowell Cem., Cedar Creek Twp., Lake Co., IN. Census: 17 Sep 1850, in Porter Twp., Porter Co., IN; p. 132[55]. Census: 9 Jun 1860, in Orchard Grove, Cedar Creek Twp., Lake Co, IN; p 5[56].

The baptismal records of the Caughnawaga Dutch Reformed Church, located at Fonda in present Montgomery County, New York, then a part of Tryon County which is no longer in existence, stated that Aaron was baptized on July 27, 1783, and born two days later on July 29th. Now that would have been a very tricky procedure. Fortunately in his application for bounty land for service in the War of 1812, Aaron stated he was born on July 27, 1783, confirming an error in the church record. His parents were recorded as Fredric Servis and Elsje Janson.

Aaron was first married on August 20, 1807, at the Kingsboro Presbyterian Church in Gloversville, Fulton County, New York, to Lucy Case. On May 7, 1809, Lucy Case Servis transferred her membership to the church in Milton, which was in Ulster County.

On Sept. 14, 1813, Aaron was drafted in the War of 1812 in Onandagna County and served as a private in Captain Miles Allen's Company, 2nd Regiment (Dutton's), the thirteenth brigade, of the New York Detached Militia. He received pay of $8 a month and served actively for fourteen days. On November 15, 1813, he was honorably discharged at headquarters camp near Brownville, Jefferson County, New York.

After completing his military service, Aaron and Samuel Case, whose relationship to Aaron's wife, Lucy Case, is unclear but of the right generation to be her brother, moved to Norwalk Township, Huron County, Ohio, where they were living as neighbors at the time of the 1820 census. Aaron was then the father of two sons under ten, two sons, 10-16, and a daughter, under ten. Another female in the household was aged 18-16. Aaron was aged 26-45. According to History of the Firelands, comprising Huron and Erie Counties, Ohio by W. W. Williams, Aaron Service and Samuel Case were among the first residents of Ripley Township, Huron County, Ohio.

On April 2, 1827, Aaron Service and Samuel Case voted in the first election held in Ripley township, Huron County. Aaron Service was a judge in the election, and Samuel was a clerk. Aaron was elected a trustee. The first orchard in this township was planted by Aaron. Huron County became Richland County in 1830, and there Aaron was enumerated as a resident of Plymouth Township in the census. He now had one son under five, two sons, 5-10, one son, 10-15 , and two sons, 15-20. He also had one daughter under five, one daughter, 10-15, and one daughter, 15-20. Aaron was 40-50 and his wife, 30-40. If Polly Hatch were a widow, it is possible some of these children were hers from a previous marriage. In 1838 Aaron Servis deeded Bartholomew Styert twenty-two acres in the SW¼ of S14, T22, R18 as recorded in Richland County Deed Book 19, page 150.

Between 1834 and 1835 Aaron moved to Fish Lake Township, which became Porter Township in 1837, Porter County, Indiana. Other persons moving to the area from Wayne County, Ohio, were the Rev. Alpheus French, Ora B. French, and Edmund Hatch, husband of Betsy French, daughter of Alpheus. Aaron Servis purchased eighty acres in S20, T37, R5 for $150 from C. Blackley on October 27, 1838, as recorded in Book B, page 432. In these early days of Porter County the Indians were friendly and large herds of deer containing thirty to fifty animals were not uncommon. In 1848 a great wolf hunt took place involving six hundred male inhabitants.

On September 7, 1840, Aaron appeared in the Porter Township census with two males, 10-15, one male, 15-20, and two males, 20-30. In the family were also a female under five, a female 5-10, and a female, 10-15. Aaron was at that time aged 50-60 and his wife, 40-50. His nearest neighbors were Edmund Hatch, aged 40-50, and Luther French, aged 20-30.

On February 19, 1842 Aaron purchased eighty acres from William R. Talcott for $400 in S19, T35, R6W, recorded in Book C, page 10. Witnesses to this deed were Ora B. French and Aaron's son, Albinus Servis. Aaron and Lydia Servis sold the Rev. French sixty acres in Porter County for $360 on December 29, 1843, recorded in Book C, page 550. Witnesses were Ora B. French and Albinus D. Servis.

In August of 1847, according to The History and Biography of Porter and Lake Counties, Indiana by Goodspeed, Orrin Service (Aaron Servis ?) ran for coroner of Lake County on the Liberty Party, an abolitionist party, and received two votes in Centre Township and seven votes in Jackson Township.

Aaron was unable to make his mortgage payments, and on February 24, 1849, Samuel I. Anthony, who was appointed trustee for Aaron on April 21, 1848, auctioned a tract in Porter County of twelve acres, twenty-eight rods in S13, T34, R7 which had earlier been mortgaged and recorded in Mortgage Book A, page 290. The highest bidder was Wilson Malone who paid $100 for the property, as recorded in Book E, page 537. Aaron's property in S19, T34, R6 was auctioned by the trustee on the same date and was sold to E. E. Campbell and C. D. DeWolfe for $80 as recorded in Book E, page 421.

An application for forty acres of bounty land for Aaron's service in the War of 1812 was made on September 2, 1850. On the 18th of the month the census takers again made their rounds and recorded Lydia, aged fifty-eight, and Aaron, aged sixty-six, with three daughters still at home: Clarissa A., aged eighteen, Lydia M., aged sixteen, and Sarah M., aged fourteen. Aaron's property was valued at $300. Aaron's daughter, Hannah Jane, and her new husband, Ralph Farr, were living nearby with Aaron's son, Albinus.

On November 20, 1852, Aaron sold Frederick C. Flint a tract in S12, T33, R8, recorded in Lake County Deed Book K, page 145. Frederick was the brother of Aaron's daughter-in-law, Elizabeth Flint, wife of Orlando V. Servis. On March 23, 1853, Aaron and Lydia sold Aaron's son, Albinus P. Servis, a tract of land in S19, T34, R6 containing forty acres for $50. On April 13, 1855, Aaron purchased a twelve acre tract in S13, T34N, R7 for $50. The grantors were Wilson and Sarah Malone. Eight days later from an Orchard Grove address Aaron again applied for bounty land, receiving one hundred twenty acres on July 15, 1856. Aaron purchased thirty-two acres from Nelson Evans on March 3, 1860, parts of the NE and SW quarters of S18, T33, R8 as recorded in Deed Book X, page 11.

By the June 9, 1860 census Aaron's real estate had more than doubled in value to $650, and he had personal property valued at $366. His near neighbors were his son, Orlando, and his daughter-in-law, Mary, with her second husband, Perry Jones. Mary's first husband, Albinus, apparently died between 1856 and 1857.

Aaron died intestate on January 7, 1869, and was buried in the Lowell Cemetery, located in Cedar Creek Township. The administrator of his estate was Perry Jones who also took the estate inventory. The settlement of the estate named: the widow, Lydia, O. V. Servis, Aaron L. Servis, Jane Farr, Clarissa A. Roberts, and Sarah M. Chronister. At the time of his death Aaron owned part of the NE¼ of S18, T33, R8W containing one acre valued at $350. Sale of the tract was ordered to pay estate debts. On September 26, 1872, Aaron's widow, Lydia, sold to John C. Kenyon 1/3 of the NE¼ of S18, T33, R8 as recorded in Deed Book 24, page 224.

An inventory of Aaron's personal estate was made by Perry Jones and contained fifteen items valued at $32.86. The home contained two beds, a table and chairs, dishes, a stove, clock, safe, scales, and keg. Aaron had three stands of bees.

Aaron Servis married first, Lucy Case, 20 Aug 1807, in Kingsboro Presbyterian Church, Gloversville, Fulton Co., N.Y. Born, before 1794, in New York[57]. Died, before 1822, in Ohio. Census: 1810, in Lima, Ontario Co., NY; p. 177. Census: 1820, in Norwalk, Huron Co., OH; p. 71.

The father of Lucy Case was probably Augustus Case, from New York State. He appeared in the 1830 census in Plain Township, Huron County, Ohio. At this time Augustus was between 70 and 80, an appropriate age to be father of Lucy and Samuel Case.

The children of Aaron and Lucy Case Servis were:

23 i. Orlando V.[7] Servis.
ii. Lovina Servis. Born in New York. Died, after 1869.
24 iii. H. Ozander Servis.
25 iv. Albinus P. Servis.

Aaron Servis married second, Polly Hatch, 21 Nov 1822, in Huron Co., OH[58]. Born, before 1800, in New York[59]. Died, before 1840 in (Indiana). Census: 1830, in Plymouth Twp., Richland Co., OH; p. 73.

Polly Hatch and Julia Ann Hatch apparently had a double wedding performed by Prince Haskell, justice of the peace, in Ripley. Julia married Ira Bevins. Ira Bevins was a resident of Potsdam, New York, at the time the 1830 and 1840 census reports.

Foster may have been the maiden name of the mother of Hannah Jane Servis. Hannah's death certificate stated that her mother was a Miss Foster. The information in this document was provided by a son-in-law and cannot be depended upon as accurate. It is unproved that Polly's maiden name was Foster. In The History of Carroll County, Missouri, page 505, it was stated that Hannah Jane Farr was the daughter of Aaron and Mary Servis.

Attempts to find a previous marriage of Polly Hatch have been fruitless; however, the following is a quote from page 305 of History of the Fireland comprising Huron and Erie Counties, Ohio:

> Great excitement was caused in 1822 by the death in a well of two men named Pace and Hatch. They had dug a well for Henry Barney, and, when all was in readiness to begin work of stoning it up, Hatch descended in a tub, and just as he reached the bottom he was observed to fall and become apparently insensible. Pace immediately descended to rescue his friend, and he, too, fell and expired. It was not until then that the bystanders thought of the "damps", or noxious gases in the well. They knew, beyond possibility of a doubt, that both men were dead. After several hours had passed, their bodies were recovered. Hatch left a wife and several children; Pace was a single man, and had, only a short time before, come into the township from Pennsylvania. This casualty was, we believe, the first that occurred in New Haven. It cast a gloom over the whole community.

The federal 1820 census listed Elemuel Hatch on page 143 as a resident of Plain Township, Wayne County, Ohio, over forty-five years of age. The county record stated his wife to be the same age, but the federal census appeared to give her age as 26-45. The county record indicated there were two females under five in the household. The federal census did not record these children. It seems a portion of the county census was taken from tax records. Elemuel was not found in the 1830 census. Plain Township is just east of Mohican Township where in 1830, Samuel Hatch, his son Isaac Hatch, and Ora B. French were listed as neighbors. Pike Township lay south of Plain Township, and it was there in 1820 that Alpheus French, Jr. and Sr., were residents. Pike has since been absorbed by Clinton Township. Chapter XII provies additional information about the relationship between the Farr, French, and Servis families.

The children of Aaron and Polly (Mary Foster) Hatch Servis were:

v. Hannah Jane Servis[60]. Born, 26 Jan 1830, in Plymouth Twp., Richland Co., OH. Died, 21 Dec 1910, in Tina, Hurricane Twp., Carroll Co., MO. 23. Orlando V.[7] Servis (Aaron[6], Fredrick[5], Frederich Wilhelm[4], Christianus[3], Johann Daniel[2], Heinrich[1]). Born, 5 Oct 1808, in New York. Died, 6 Jun 1885, in Hebron, Porter Co., IN. Buried: Jun 1885, in Southeast Grove Cem., Eagle Creek Twp., Lake Co., IN. Census: 5 Sep 1850, in Eagle Creek Twp., Lake Co., IN; p. 136. Census: 1860, in Eagle Creek Twp., Lake Co., IN; p. 937. Census: 1870, in Eagle Creek Twp., Lake Co., IN; p. 367B.

Orlando married Elizabeth B. Flint, daughter of Edward Flint and Jane Clute, 8 Jan 1835, in Wood Co., Oh. Born, 28 Feb 1815, in Livingston, Columbia Co., NY. Died, 4 May 1891, in Eagle Creek Twp., Lake Co., IN. Burial: May 1891, in Southeast Grove Cem., Eagle Creek Twp., Lake Co., IN.

Orlando Servis was a resident of Lake County, Indiana, in the area where his father, Aaron, settled. In September of 1832, Orlando purchased eighty acres of Congress Lands at the Bucyrus Land Office in Ohio. The tract was located in R17E, T1S, S7 and recorded in Volume 4, page 170 of Eighteen Ranges North and South involved in Lake County:

On December 12, 1883, Orlando testified that his brother, Ozander H. Servis, had never been married. Orlando was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, a Whig, a Republican, and a town trustee.

The graves of Orlando and Elizabeth were marked with a beautiful monument now lying on the ground. The Southeast Grove Cemetery, known locally as the Gypsy Cemetery, can be located by going north on Colorado Avenue for 2 9/10 miles to a dead end. Turn left and go 3/10 mile on East 157th Street. Colorado is the first paved road east of the intersection of Indiana State Highway 2 and 165. The cemetery has been repeatedly vandalized causing most stones, including the marker of Orlando Servis, to be deliberately pulled from their foundations. Unfortunately Lake County authorities seem unable or unwilling to do anything to protect the cemetery.

The children of Orlando and Elizabeth Flint Servis were:

Died, 3 Nov 1914, in Webster City, Hamilton Co., IA[103]. Burial: 6 Nov 1914, in Graceland Cem., Webster City, Hamilton Co., IA. Occupation: housekeeper.

Aaron E. Servis enlisted in the Civil War in Company I, the fifth regiment of the Indiana Volunteer Cavalry at Crown Point, Indiana, on August 15, 1862. About the first of July in 1863, Morgan raided Philo. Aaron was charging down the road after Morgan when his horse fell on him causing an injury to his sides.

In August of 1864 he was captured when in action at Neillsborough, Virginia, and held captive in Andersonville, Georgia, and Florence, South Carolina, from August 6, 1864, until June 1, 1865. Throughout his life he suffered from chronic diarrhea and scurvy brought on by starvation and inhuman treatment at the hands of the rebels. He also had typhoid fever during his imprisonment. At the time of capture he weighed one hundred ninety-four pounds and when released he was reduced to a skeleton, his weight being one hundred fourteen pounds. He also had a rupture in both sides. He never again exceeded a weight of one hundred thirty-eight pounds, and always thereafter was weak and in pain. His mind was affected by this imprisonment. In March of 1865 he was released at Wilmington, North Carolina, and placed in a hospital in Annapolis, Maryland, for about twenty-four days and then furloughed and taken home. He returned to his father's house in Lake County, Indiana, where he spent much of the time in bed until September, 1865. At that time he was able to travel and went to Horton, Bremer County, Iowa, where he found occupation as a wagon maker but was still very sickly and confined to bed or his house three-fourths of the time.

In June of 1867, Aaron moved to Athens, Richardson County, Nebraska, where he worked on a farm and did some light carpentry work until July of 1869, but was again confined to bed or his house fully half of the time. In September of 1869 he returned to Waverly in Bremer County, Iowa, finding occupation in a meat market and as a farm foreman. He was still not fully recovered and in bed or at home one-fourth of the time.

In June of 1871 Aaron moved to Beloit, Mitchell County, Kansas, where he lived on a farm but was still able to do little work. In September of 1872 he removed to Holt County, Nebraska, where he was employed as a foreman in a mill, but again only able to work about three-fourths of the time. In August of 1874 he went to Webster City, Hamilton County, Iowa, where he was able to do a little farm labor and kept a repair shop. This information was found in Aaron's testimony when applying for a pension on April 20, 1880. He was granted a pension of $10 a month.

A child of Aaron E. and Mary Jane Fayland Servis was:

Orlando V. Servis, Jr., enlisted on September 2, 1861, in Company E of the 9th Indiana Regiment. He served as a sergeant until his discharge on September 28, 1865, at Camp Stanley, Texas. On June 16, 1864, while engaged in a skirmish near Pine Mountain in the Battle of Resaca, he was blown against the head log of the works by a piece of artillery and was shot in the left thigh. He also suffered a hip and back injury. Thereafter he suffered from weakness, rheumatism, and disease of the rectum. Orlando weighed over 200 pounds, was 5'11" tall, and had gray eyes. He was practically blind since January of 1922. He was pensioned at $14 a month about 1903. His widow received a pension of $30 a month after his death in 1924.

Buried: May 1830, in Enon Cem., Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[3]. Census: 1830, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 82; Census: 1840, p. 75. Census: 29 Jul 1850, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 84. Census: 6 Jun 1860, in Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH; p. 12. Occupation: farmer.

Adam married Mary Heistand. Born, 15 Nov 1795, in Manheim Twp., Lancaster Co., PA[4]. Died, 26 Oct 1874, in Enon, Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[5]. Burial: Oct 1874, in Enon Cem., Madriver Twp., Clark Co., OH[5].

Unsubstantiated information says that Adam Sheller was the son of Henry Sheller and was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, February 18, 1789. In Robinson's History of Greene County, Ohio we find that Adam Sheller came to Ohio from Frederick County, Maryland, settling first in Fairfield County and removing to Greene County in 1815. In 1820 he was a head of household in Fairfield, Bath Township, Greene County, Ohio. On June 24, 1826, Adam Sheller purchased four hundred fifty acres in S29, T4, R8, Clark County, from John Shellabarger for which he paid $450 as recorded in Volume D, page 113. Adam was listed in the 1830 census in Mad River Township where he remained until his death which occurred on May 21, 1883, at the age of ninety-seven.

Adam Sheller married Mary Heistand, possibly a daughter of a Henry Heistand. Her ancestry has not been successfully traced. Mary was born in Manheim Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, on November 5, 1796. She died on October 26, 1874. Thirteen children are known to have been born to the Shellers, but there is a possibility of an additional older son based on the data in the 1830 census. The children must have been well educated for the day as the two youngest daughters were both teachers.

Adam Sheller engaged in farming in Muddy Run Valley, one of the richest agricultural locations in Ohio. Some of the crops raised on his property were: corn, potatoes, apples, wheat and rye. In the 1860 census had real estate valued at $6,000, a considerable sum at that time. On January 31, 1848, Adam purchased a tract in Enon from John Goodwin, the husband of his daughter, Anna, paying $400. This transaction was recorded in Volume 2, page 40. On October 30, 1852, he sold this property back to John for the same amount as recorded in Volume 29, page 33. On February 1, 1864, Adam purchased a tract located in S34, T4, R8 from George Walburn for the purchase price of $1800. At the time of his estate settlement two parcels of land were sold, both on December 10, 1883.

Adam was one of the appraisers of the estate of Reuben Winget on June 2, 1845. In 1842 Adam Sheller's daughter, Elizabeth, had married Martin Shellabarger, son of Ephraim and Rebecca Winget Shellabarger and the grandson of Reuben Winget.

The will of Adam Sheller was as follows:

The will was filed May 26, 1883, and proved on June 11, 1883. On December 12, 1883, two sales were recorded of Adam's property, both recorded in Volume 28, pages 573-574. The first was made to his granddaughter, Mary E. Lehow, in S30, T4, R8 for $2,040. The second was to Cyrus E. Drake in the E½ of the SW¼ of S29, T4, R8 for $7,179. Each of Adam's children received $1515.16 when the estate was settled for a total of $13,326.92.

Chapter XVI

THE FAMILY OF MARTIN SWARTZ

1. Martin[1] Swartz[1]. Born, 8 Jul 1759[2]. Died, 28 Dec 1824, in Tyrone Twp., Perry Co., PA[3]. Confirmation: 1775, in Christ Lutheran Church, York, York Co., PA[4]. Burial: Dec 1824, at St Peter's Reformed Church, Bridgeport, Spring Twp., Perry Co., PA. Census: 1810, in Greenwood Twp., Pfoutz Valley, Cumberland Co, PA, p48[5]. Census: 1820, in Tyrone Twp., Perry Co., PA. Occupation: grist & saw miller.

Martin married first, Maria Charlotta. Born, circa 1758[6]. Died, Oct 1809, in Greenwood Twp., Pfoutz Valley, Cumberland Co, PA[7]. Burial: 20 Oct 1809, at St. Michael's Church, Greenwood Township, Cumberland Co., PA[7].

Martin Schwartz was confirmed on Whitsunday, 1775, at Christ Lutheran Church, York, York County, Pennsylvania. Other Schwartz confirmees were:

DATE	CONFIRMEE	AGE
Whitsunday, 1771	Georg Schwartz	16, b. circa 1755
Whitsunday, 1773	Anna Margaret Schwartz	15, b. circa 1758
Whitsunday, 1775	Elizabeth Schwartz	15, b. circa 1760
Whitsunday, 1776	Rosina Schwartz	14, b. circa 1762

Martin Swartz first appeared on a 1783 tax list in Dover Town, York County, Pennsylvania, as a bachelor. In 1786 a Martin "Swatts" was on a Farmanagh Twp., Cumberland County tax list with one horse and one cow but no acreage. At the time of the 1790 census Martin Swartz was listed in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania, north of present Perry County, with one son under sixteen. He appeared on a 1796 list of inhabitants of Mahantango Township in Union County which is in present day Snyder County. On May 19, 1796, St. Michael's Lutheran Church was erected in Liverpool, Pfoutz Valley, Greenwood Township, Cumberland County. Martin and his first wife, Maria Charlotta, were members of this church and were communicants on May 3, 1801, December 18, 1803, October 20, 1805, and November 23, 1806. Maria Charlotta was buried in the church cemetery on October 20, 1809.

Martin and Maria Charlotta may have been the parents of Margaret who married Peter Billow and of a son, Martin, Jr., found in Tyrone Township tax records next to his father. Martin, Jr., married Margaret Billow, daughter of Margaretta and Peter Billow, 1756-1819. Martin and Margaret Billow Swartz, Jr., acted as godparents at the christening of Martin Billow on Nov. 5, 1820, the latter being a son of Peter, b. 1785, and Margaret (Swartz) Billow. Martin, Sr., was still a resident of Greenwood Township at the time of the 1810 census. Tax records of Cumberland County indicated that Martin had purchased land and a grist and sawmill in Tyrone Township, Cumberland County, as early as 1811. This portion of Cumberland County became Perry County in 1820. The tax records of these two counties listed Martin Swartz as follows:

DATE	PROPERTY
1811-1813	125 acres, grist and sawmill
1814-1816	100 acres, grist and sawmill; 5 horses and 3 cows
1817-1819	100 acres, grist and sawmill; 4 horses and 3 cows
1820-1822	103 acres, grist and sawmill; 3 horses and 4 cows

Maps of Martin's property in the Land Draft Book of Spring Township, Perry County, indicated that Martin's property was located on Bigger's Run, and that the Great Road to Carlisle ran through it. His neighbors were Abraham Bear and David Beard.

On December 19, 1822, Martin sold a tract of land in Tyrone Township, Perry County, containing five hundred acres located one mile east of Landisburg to the honorable John Junkin for $6,000. Martin had purchased this land the previous September at the sheriff's auction of the property of George Shoop, deceased. At the time of his death Martin still owned a grist mill and sawmill on the Great Road to Carlisle as well as other acreage.

Below is a transcription of Martin's will as found in Perry County Will Book A, page 210:

Martin died on December 28th, and the will was probated on January 20, 1825.

Some children believed to be those of Martin and Maria Charlotta Swartz were:

i. Martin Swartz. Born, before circa 1784, in York, York Co., PA[10]. Census: 1820, Adams Co, PA, p. 521. Census: 1830, in Landisburg, Tyrone Twp., Perry Co., PA., aged 40-50. Census: 1840, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 306. Martin married Margaret Billow, daughter of Peter, 1758-1819, and Margaretta Billow, 3 Nov 1801, in Christ Lutheran Church, York, York Co., PA.

At the time of the 1820 census of Adams County, Pennsylvania, Martin and Margaret Swartz had five sons.

Martin and Margaret Billow Swartz were godparents of Martin Billow, christened November 5, 1820, the son of Peter and Margaret Billow. This points to the possibility that Margaret (Swartz) Billow was the brother of Martin Swartz, Jr.

The Tyrone Township, Cumberland County tax records listed Martin, (Jr.), as well as his father, side by side serving as additional evidence that Martin was the son of Martin Swartz, Sr. Martin (Jr.) was recorded as follows:

DATE	PROPERTY
1811	177 acres
1814	77 acres and 1 cow
1818	77 acres and 1 cow
1820	70 acres and 2 cows

ii. (Margaret Swartz)[8]. Born, circa 1788, in Pennsylvania[9]. Died, after 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL. Census: 10 Sep 1850, in Rye Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 606. Census: 24 Jul 1860, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 853. Census: 30 Jul 1870, in Troy Grove, La Salle Co., IL; p. 4. She married Peter Billow.

Further information about Margaret Swartz and Peter Billow may be found in Chapter X. The Billow Family.

Martin Swartz, Sr., married second, a widow, Mary Baker, after 1810. Born, 24 Feb 1772[11]. Died, 12 Oct 1854, in Tuscarora Twp., Perry Co., PA. Burial: Oct 1854, in Bull's Hill Cem., Tuscarora Twp., Perry Co., PA. Census: 1820, in Tyrone Twp., Perry Co., PA., p. 265. Census: 1830, in Tyrone Twp., Perry Co., PA; p. 273.

It is known that Mary had a previous marriage to a Baker, as Martin Swartz named a stepson, Samuel Baker in his will. Samuel was witness to the will. Samuel was living next to Mary Swartz in Tyrone Township at the time of the 1830 census.

The only known child of Martin and Mary Baker Swartz was:

iii. Johannes Swartz. Born, 19 Sep 1812. Died, 13 Dec 1858, in Tuscarora Twp., Perry Co., PA. Burial: Dec 1858, in Bull's Hill Cem., Tuscarora Twp., Perry Co., PA. He married Catharina Reis, 20 Sep 1832, in Perry Co., PA.
